MEDIATORS WAITING ON CARRANZA

They Will Admit Him to Conference on Certain Conditions.

Must Be Ready to Agree to Armistice With Huerta.

Tug Enters Mazatlan Harbor in Daylight and Captures Schooner.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 1.—After a two hours' conference between the mediators and the American delegates today, the question of admitting the Constitutionalists into the negotiations for the settlement of the Mexican problem was still undecided. It was learned, however, that the desire of the United States to have the Constitutionalists heard before a final agreement is signed here has impressed the three mediators and they are taking a more favorable view of it. After today's conference Justice Lamar dictated the following statement:

"We had a conference this morning in which we continued the discussion of a point on which we had not agreed on Saturday. The mediators are still in discussion; but we found in our talk this morning that we were not at far apart in our construction of certain phases and we are still quite hopeful."

Will Talk Armistice.
The mediators have taken the position that they will admit the Constitutionalists if they are ready to agree to an armistice with Huerta and will give prepared to discuss internal as well as international phases of the situation.

While the last note from Carranza did not make clear his attitude with respect to these points, it was said that the Washington government had obtained some more information about the attitude of the Constitutionalists, which had been laid before the mediators.

The American delegates were disappointed in receiving the Canadian reply to the receipt of a long cipher message from Washington in relation to Constitutionalists' representations.

Will Hold the Answer.
The American delegates were reported to have decided the decision of the mediators on this point before deciding the Washington government's answer to the essentials of the plan outlined.

The Mexican delegates also received a long message today from the government, in which Gen. Huerta was understood to have given his views on the proposed armistice and to have added other suggestions. These may be in the form of counter proposals.

The American delegates had reported to Mexico City the situation brought about by the rejection of the Constitutionalists' phase in the negotiations.

As Viewed at Washington.
Washington, June 1.—How far the Washington government might go in urging that the Constitutionalists be given a part in mediation preliminaries was anticipated here today as the next big move in the Niagara conference. The American delegates were prepared to argue for some form of Constitutional representation, and today they awaited definite instructions from President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

The South American envoys virtually agreed to the plan.

SKULL FRACTURED BY PITCHED BALL.
Rockville, Conn., June 1.—Frank Reuber, 22 years old, died here early today as a result of being struck on the forehead by a pitched ball in a baseball game yesterday. He continued playing after being hit, feeling no serious ill effects until night. Physicians said death was caused by fracture of the skull.

Aeronaut Killed.
Denver, Col., June 1.—The aeronaut who fell 2,000 feet from a balloon and was killed at an amusement park here yesterday was Harry Bunkum and not Harry Corbett as stated in a dispatch Sunday.

SALARIES TOO SMALL

Chief Cause of Many Defalcations in United States in 1913.

Also Due to Failure to Check Up Accounts of Employees.

New York, June 1.—A large surety company of this city, in a report just made public, places $40,000,000 as a conservative estimate of the defalcations throughout the United States in 1913. Thefts of $4,000,000 were publicly reported, while insurance policies paid because of burglaries and other evidence of loss bring the total up to the first figure.

The company seeks to call attention to the widespread nature of the defalcation evil. It says that salaries are unquestionably one of the chief causes. Clerks, managers and assistants who have tried unsuccessfully to support large families on from $75 to $100 per month form a large part of the defaulter. Another important cause of defalcation has been the prevailing business depression. Many victimized employers who, in times of prosperity,

CONTESTANT FOR AMERICA'S CUP DEFENDER

THE YACHT VANITIE, Designed By William Gardner and Owned By A. S. Cochran of Yonkers, N. Y. When This Picture Was Made Last Wednesday, the Vanitie Had Spread Very Few of Her Sails.

CONTEST FOR TWO YACHTS SENATORSHIP TO COMPETE

Senator Cummins of Iowa Is Opposed By Adair Banker.

"Wet" and "Dry" Interests Fight for Control of Legislature.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 1.—State-wide primaries are in progress in Iowa today to select the candidates for the Republican, Democratic, Progressive and Socialist parties for United States senator, members of congress, governor, lieutenant governor and full state and county tickets. Seven nonpartisan candidates for supreme court are also seeking the three positions to be vacant.

Except for the contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, little interest was expected, and it was predicted by party leaders that the vote would be light. Senator Albert B. Cummins has opposition in the person of J. W. Rowley, a Keosauqua editor, John T. Hamilton of Cedar Rapids and V. R. McElmish of Leon are Democratic candidates.

MILITANTS BURN HISTORIC CHURCH
Edifice Erected in 1858 is Destroyed By an Arson Squad.

Henley, Eng., June 1.—An arson squad of militant suffragettes today destroyed the historic parish church of St. Mary's, Wargrave, three miles from here on the Thames. All that remains of the church, which was built in 1538, is a portion of the tower and the scorched walls. Two women strangers were seen in the neighborhood early this morning. Just inside the ruins the firemen found a hammer and a heap of suffrage literature with a placard: "Stop persecuting women."

The only property saved was an ancient register and a few church ornaments. These were rescued by the vicar, the Rev. Basil S. Batty, who rushed through the flames to get them.

The church contained many priceless treasures, including some bells four centuries old, which melted in the flames, and a monument to Thomas Day, author of "Sandford and Merton."

Manston Burned.
Windsor, Eng., June 1.—A fire which the police say was started by suffragettes today destroyed a mansion near here. The house was formerly the residence of the Duchess of Sutherland.

TWO FIREMEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Danville, Ill., June 1.—The Illinois Printing company block was badly damaged in a fire late Sunday. Much state printing, including book work for the Illinois Historical society, was destroyed. The loss was $75,000. Two firemen were seriously injured.

PROSPERITY WOULD COME WITH JUMP

President Says It Depends Upon Belief of the Manufacturers.

Believes Tariff Has Nothing to Do With the Depression.

Less Felt in United States Than in Other Countries.

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson today again expressed his conviction that any present unsatisfactory condition in business was not general, but was less felt in the United States than any other part of the world. Mr. Wilson reiterated his view at the first conference he has had with the Washington correspondents since the Mexican situation became acute. Questions, however, on that subject and on the Niagara mediation conference were barred.

In reply to inquiries concerning the business situation as discussed in his statement last week to representatives of the Illinois Manufacturers' association (Continued on page 5, third column.)

GERMAN AMBASSADOR HONORED WITH DEGREE

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF. Baltimore, June 1.—Count J. H. von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was given the honorary degree of doctor of laws and Henry R. Evans, of the bureau of education, Washington, received the degree of doctor of letters today at the annual commencement of the University of Maryland.

JUNE BUGS.

SHARP POINT OF ANCHOR RIPPED THROUGH THE HULL LIKE GREAT ANCHOR OPENER

NOTED ENGLISH ACTOR WHO PERISHED IN WRECK

LAWRENCE IRVING. One of the best-known passengers on the Empress of Ireland was Lawrence Irving, the son of the late Sir Henry Irving. He is well-known on both sides of the Atlantic, having appeared with distinguished success in many plays, including some in which his father became famous.

COMMANDER OF EMPRESS OF IRELAND

CAPT. KENDALL. Capt. Kendall of the Royal Naval reserve was in command of the Empress of Ireland when she sank off Father Point, Que.

PROBABLY CAUSED THE DISASTER

Anchor Found Jammed in Shattered Plates of the Collier.

May Explain Why Collision Caused Empress to Sink Rapidly.

Preparations Begun for the Inquiry—Identifying the Bodies.

Montreal, June 1.—The sharp point of an anchor projecting from the twisted bow of the Norwegian collier Storstad may explain why that vessel did such terrible execution when she rammed the Empress of Ireland early last Friday morning in the Lower St. Lawrence. An examination of the collier's shattered plates revealed the anchor jammed in a position where it could have ripped through the hull of the Empress like a great anchor opener. The anchor point and portions of the battered steel surrounding it bore stains of blood.

Preparations were begun here today for the inquiry into the disaster, which cost 369 lives. The inquiry will be conducted by a joint commission of Canadian and British shipping experts. The arrangements for the inquiry, which will be held either here or in Quebec are being made by Capt. Lindsay, Dominion wreck commissioner. The British government has appointed George Vaux as its representative. He was already called from England and will reach Montreal June 8 when the inquiry will be commenced. The other members of the commission will be judges of the Canadian admiralty court.

Pilot Nault's Story.
Pilot Nault, who navigated the Storstad up the St. Lawrence from Quebec, said today Captain Andersen told him that Andersen, his first officer and Pilot Le Chance, who brought the Storstad from Father Point to Quebec, were on the bridge at the time of the collision.

On the way up the river, continued Nault, an examination was made to ascertain the extent of the damage done to the Storstad. So far as was possible, the damage was repaired.

SHOOTS MAN AND NOTIFIES POLICE

Jealousy Cause of Murder By Wealthy Cigar Dealer.

Jamestown, N. Y., June 1.—After shooting George Ganev, his hired man, early today, Charles E. Weeks telephoned the sheriff of Warren county, Pa., and quietly awaited the arrival of an officer. Weeks, who is a wealthy cigar dealer here, drove to his farm across the state line shortly after midnight and killed Ganev, whom he found in the house. Jealousy was given as the motive.

Weeks is a member of a prominent Jamestown family. His father was postmaster during Cleveland's first administration and his brother is a former mayor. He has been married several years.

CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY

Dr. Winters and Wife and W. H. Cooper Placed Under Arrest.

Girl at Findlay Believed to Be Missing Catherine Winters.

Newcastle, Ind., June 1.—Dr. W. A. Winters and Mrs. Bird Winters, his wife, and W. H. Cooper, boarder at the Winters home, at the time Catherine Winters, aged 9 years, disappeared March 20, 1913, were rearrested today charged with conspiracy to commit murder and burn the body of Catherine Winters.

Warrants for the arrest were issued on the affidavit of Prosecutor Walter R. Myers and of Robert Abel, a detective, who has been investigating the disappearance of the little girl.

Dr. and Mrs. Winters obtained their release on bonds of $1,000 each. Cooper already was in jail in default of bonds.

Believed to be Winters' Girl.
Findlay, Ohio, June 1.—Probate Judge Dorsey planned today to issue an affidavit charging Mrs. Emma Thrappe with failure to keep her foster-daughter in school, as a legal

HAD DREAMS OF SPENDING LIFE ON FARM

Duluth Victim of Steamship Collision Was Returning to Italy.

Money Had Been Awarded Him in Personal Injury Settlement.

Planned to Buy Little Patch of Land in Native Country.

When the ill-fated ocean liner, Empress of Ireland, with more than 950 of her passengers, sank just before dawn Friday in the St. Lawrence river after having been rammed amidships by the Danish collier Storstad, all plans which Nazzereno Befera, a 20-year-old Italian immigrant boy who was ticketed from Duluth to his home in the old country, had made for spending the rest of his life on a farm in Italy, were swept away. So far as can be learned Befera was among the sleeping passengers who were engulfed in the waters of the St. Lawrence without a chance to make a fight for their lives.

Befera's story may not be as heart-rending as tales which might be written about hundreds of others who perished in the same death trap, but it is of interest locally by reason of the fact that the courts of the country had taken a friendly interest in the welfare

BLOW OPEN SAFE AND ESCAPE WITH $3,000.

Chicago, June 1.—Nine robbers drove in a wagon early today to the plant of the St. Lawrence Ice Cream company and bound and gagged six employees.

They then blew open the safe and escaped with its contents, said to be nearly $3,000.

SAVED EVERYTHING BUT THE COAL CARGO.

Seattle, Wash., June 1.—Brief cable dispatches from St. Michael and Nome indicate that when Vilhjalmur Stefansson's exploring ship Karluk was crushed in the Arctic near Herald island, northwest of Siberia, Jan. 16 last, the men save all their instruments, supplies, dogs and food and left only the crushed hull and its coal cargo when they headed east over the ice to camp on Wrangell island.

HER HUSBAND AND LITTLE SON VICTIMS OF CATASTROPHE

Woman Visiting Brother at Mesaba Loses Two in the Wreck of the Empress of Ireland—On Way to England to Visit Relatives.

At Mesaba, a small town on the range, is a woman, frantic with grief but still hoping that her husband and 4-year-old son have not found their last resting place at the bottom of the St. Lawrence river.

She is Mrs. H. L. Heath of Chicago, and she is visiting with her brother, Thomas Mitchell, a business man of Mesaba. She left Chicago a few days ago, when her husband, H. L. Heath, and their little son, Jack Heath, left the city to go to England. They sailed on the ill-fated Empress of Ireland, and Mrs. Heath had arrived at her brother's and was enjoying the little family reunion when the awful news of the disaster reached Mesaba.

She has been watching the lists but

OHIO COAL STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

Columbus, Ohio, June 1.—Delegates of the local unions of the Ohio United Mine Workers began arriving here today for the convention preceding the joint conference with Ohio operators to be held tomorrow in an attempt to fix a wage scale and end the present strike.

Most delegates came unaccompanied by their locals. It was said at miners' headquarters.

It will not be known until the roll is completed and credentials are presented whether a majority have been left free to arrange the best scale possible with operators, regardless of their former demands for 12 1/2 cents a ton for pick-mined coal and 49 1/2 cents for machine mined coal, payable on the mine basis.

Many miner delegates, who arrived today, expressed a wish to end the present idleness. Strike benefits of $2 were paid two weeks ago, but the treasury of District No. 6, United Mine Workers, comprising Ohio, has been nearly depleted.

Miners have been idle since April 1, but a strike was declared only two weeks ago.

STRUCK OIL AT CALGARY

Duluthians Interested in Recent Discoveries Near Canadian City.

Tell Stories of Fortunes Being Made in Few Days.

That the oil discoveries sixty miles southeast of Calgary are making fortunes over night for the owners of wells, is the news received by Capt. H. D. Clow of the Clow-Nicholson Steamship line, who with his brother, E. C. Clow and his two cousins, F. D. and Thomas Everidge, have exceedingly fine holdings in the oil district. The latter three are now on the ground and are keeping Capt. Clow in close touch with events both by wire and letter.

Dispatches just received by Capt. Clow at his Duluth office read like the gold discoveries in 19 and 1910. The Klondike in Alaska. Fortunes have been made within a few days at Calgary in an hour, and a good many men with but a few dollars invested have jumped into sudden riches through the obtaining of government leases on land. One man, said Capt. Clow, invested $800 and within the hour sold out his holding for $22,000 cash. A newspaper reporter of Calgary and a friend invested $40, paying $5 each for eight leases, and sold a small part of their holdings the next day for several thousand dollars. The Standard Oil company and independent oil companies have been on the ground for a long time and are ready to take up holdings. Oil spouting a great distance from the ground has caused a sensation over the country surrounding Calgary and hundreds of automobiles are bringing crowds to witness the sight. Men are tumbling over each other to get in on the first deals believing that fortunes are to be made easily.

In his telegram E. C. Clow describes the conditions. He says that at a depth of 2,800 feet, he says, and the oil gushed 90 feet into the air. Two hundred and fifty barrels a day are rushing from the first well.

Capt. Clow has received a sample of the oil and says it is the finest quality.

ASK POLICE TO MAKE SEARCH

Many Appeals During Two Days for Lost Persons.

Missing people from many parts of the city were reported to the police yesterday and Saturday evening. Most of these have since been found, according to the reports at headquarters this morning.

Charles Hill, 31 years old, who was arrested last week on a charge of vagrancy and later given eighty-five days on the work farm, escaped from the deputy sheriff, disappeared being seen there Saturday afternoon. He is still at large and a bulletin requesting his apprehension was issued Saturday night by Chief Troyer. Hill is described as being five feet, five inches in height and weighing about 150 pounds.

E. R. Bellis of 116 Minneapolis avenue came to police headquarters Saturday night and reported that his sister, Jennie Bellis, 16 years old, had disappeared. The girl had been working at 517 East West street and her absence had not been noticed until Saturday evening. After searching in Duluth and Superior, the police yesterday found her visiting with friends across the bay.

Yesterday afternoon the 4-year-old daughter of Fred Clements, 915 Lake avenue, disappeared suddenly and the latter appealed to the police in his search. She was found last evening with neighbors who had found the child.

Frank Garrity, 25 years old, has been missing since Friday and yesterday several of his friends appealed to the police in their search. He lives at 1117 Ogden avenue, Superior, and is supposed to have gone to Duluth Friday afternoon to see a pawnbroker. He is a brakeman and was employed on the Soo line.

Relatives of E. Lundstrom, 29 years old, 3810 Halstead street, yesterday afternoon asked for the assistance of the police in their efforts to find him. He disappeared suddenly Friday and has not been seen since. He is described as being five feet, four inches in height, weighing 150 pounds and having a light complexion. A bulletin was issued last evening by Chief Troyer.

Mary Larson, 22 years old, a waitress at the Mendenhall hotel, 219 West Second street, disappeared yesterday afternoon, but was later found by the police with friends. Clarence Christenson, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Christenson, 127 North Sixty-third avenue west, was reported missing yesterday, but was found by relatives later in the day.

If such is found to be the case after an official examination which will be ordered by the district court, the charge of murder against Lawler will, of necessity, be dropped on a theory of law that an insane man is unable to make a plea to the charge preferred against him. In this event, it is expected, that the court will commit him to the state hospital for criminal insane at St. Peter.

If, on the other hand, the finding of the court is that Lawler's mind is not now unbalanced and that he is capable of entering a plea to the murder indictment, he will have the privilege of standing trial on the question of whether or not he was insane at the time the crime was committed. If the jury should find him not guilty on the ground that he was insane at the time he killed his sister-in-law, the result would be the same as it would then devolve upon the court to commit him to the state institution for insane persons with homicidal tendencies.

It is expected that the majority of the contracts now held by the United States Express company will have been assigned to other companies by the end of this month. There are more than one hundred of such contracts and practically all of them will go to

MAY NEVER FACE A JURY

Charles P. Lawler Believed to Be Hopelessly Insane.

Charles P. Lawler, who shot and killed his brother's widow, Mary Lawler, in a room they were occupying at the Astoria hotel on the night of April 10, is believed to be hopelessly insane, and from present indications will never be brought to trial on a charge of murder.

Since the shooting affair in which Lawler attempted self destruction by turning the gun on himself, he has been hovering near the edge of death at St. Mary's hospital. The wound which he inflicted on himself was slight and is not the cause of his condition. He is suffering from a general physical and mental breakdown, due to the excessive use of intoxicants. At the hospital today, it was stated that his physical condition is showing marked signs of improvement and that the chances are good that he may recover. Attending physicians, however, have notified the county attorney's office that the man's mind is unbalanced

HEAVY FINES ARE IMPOSED ON BOATS

Vera Cruz, Mex., June 1.—The Hamburg-American steamer Ypiranga is still at her dock, the collector of customs, Capt. Herman O. Stuckney having refused to accept the bond for the Ypiranga and the Bavaria of the same line which was proffered by Karl Haynes, general agent of the company in Mexico, because it was drawn on Sunday. The bond was executed and Consul Canada's seal affixed, however, and the Ypiranga probably will sail for Havana today.

An examination of the fines levied by Collector Stuckney on the two vessels for landing arms and ammunition at Puerto Mexico, shows that they amount to more than 1,000,000 pesos, covering numerous infractions of the Mexican regulations.

Mess. Boy Released.
Consul Canada is expecting the arrival from the capital of the Filipino mess boy of the battleship Florida, having received a personal message from President Huerta, assuring him that the boy had been released. The Filipino wandered across the line several weeks ago in search of fruit, and flowers for the tables of Rear Admiral Fletcher and Capt. Rush. He was arrested by Mexican pickets, stripped of his clothing and sent to the Santiago prison in Mexico City.

A German rancher named Stahl, who had been marooned sixty-eight miles outside the American lines has arrived here with his wife and two children. Friends of Stahl had applied to the American consul to send a boat down the coast to get him. This the consul refused to do, but wrote to the German consul at Jalapa, who obtained a passport and started Stahl and his family for Vera Cruz by the Mexican railway.

Three Ports Opened.
Durango, Mex., June 1.—Gen. Carranza yesterday issued a notice declaring Tampico, Tuxpan and Matamoros officially opened to the commerce of the world. Yes, in all of us, too!
Don't waste indoors a minute that you could be out-of-doors—if you women and children lack for warm weather wear—able—don't worry—come here—and be tastily outfitted at moderate cost.

The New 'Top-Sleeve' Corset Covers Are Novel and Extremely Pretty

The cut of the set-in sleeves on many of this season's sheer waists makes these dainty top sleeve corset covers especially desirable. The top sleeve is of dainty lace in most cases. We have in mind some which sell at $1.50, others at $1.25.

A New Idea in White Petticoats is a Double Panel Front

They are made of a fine, firm heavy cotton which is firm enough to wear excellently and prevent a narrow skirt of sheer material from pulling. The double panel front is opaque enough to make one petticoat sufficient with even the most transparent dresses. We sell them at $1.25.

Another good style at the same price is a petticoat of white plaid—cut according to natural figure lines. They do not "shadow" the figure.

Those Topless W. B. Corsets

Are Fashionable as Well as Comfortable for Summer Wear

The woman who plays tennis, who rows and who tangoes, and the woman who does housework will alike find these corsets most desirable.
A generous supply of the new models is now ready. Judging from the demand following our announcement of last Thursday, we think it advisable to impress upon you that it will be well to come early.

New D. M. C. From Over the Sea

Last week we opened up a huge packing case of D. M. C. Art Thread shipped direct to the George A. Gray Co., from Mulhouse, Alsace. This is the third import shipment this season, and judging from the eager way these goods are being picked up the present supply will not meet the big demands for summer selling. Get all you want now. Buy enough to finish your work—Art Department, Third Floor.

89,292 Walked on the Rug on the Walk in Six Days

The rug was out in all last week's rain storm. The mud of the street was ground in by thousands of feet. No rug would have such wear in your own homes in twenty years, yet at the end of the sidewalk test we will clean this rug and sell it to the highest bidder. We know that its condition will surprise you.
We conducted a similar test last fall and at that time sold the $54.00 rug after it had been cleaned and placed on exhibition in our show window for $28.00. At the conclusion of the test we will show the rug in our window and sell it to the highest bidder. Sealed bids will be received at the Rug Department, Third Floor. Should two or more bids be identical—the first received will be given the rug.
All who desire these good Anglo-Persian Rugs will see them here in fine assortments. They combine the wear and beauty of the Oriental rugs with most moderate prices.

DULUTHIAN TOOK LEVY'S SAVINGS ON FATAL VOYAGE

Tony Bruno Was Carrying $1,800 in Gold Back to Family.

When Tony Bruno, a passenger ticketed from Duluth on the Empress of Ireland, came to his death by the sinking of the ocean liner in the St. Lawrence river early Friday morning, he had among his belongings $1,800 in gold—the savings of a life time—which he was taking back to his family in the old country.

Bruno has not been reported among the survivors of the ill-fated steamer.

and it is believed that he is one of the 960 wreck victims who went to a watery grave.
When he purchased a ticket from Wesley J. Wilke, the steamship company's representative in Duluth, it was suggested to him that he convert his money into a draft of traveler's check, but Bruno declined the invitation. He said that he thought he could take care of his fortune himself.
Bruno had been in this country for a number of years and had been employed as a miner in one of the range towns. By close living he had managed to accumulate a fortune of $1,800 and his intention was to take the money back to his family in Italy, where he figured to spend the rest of his days in an atmosphere of independence.

SUF-FRAGETTE ALKS FROM THE LECTERN.

London, June 1.—A militant suffragette, evading the watchful of clerics in the St. Paul's cathedral, mounted the lectern of the church and, with a glass of wine in her hand, which became infected while removing the carcass of a dead cat, Charles Hasler of this place, died, blood poisoning resulting. Hasler was a pioneer resident of this station.

The services yesterday and harangued the astonished worshippers on "the wrongs of women" for upward of a minute despite the efforts of ushers to dislodge her. She was finally carried bodily from the cathedral.

Other suffragettes then began praying for "martyred women." They also sang hymns and recited prayers.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEAODY.

Always Retain the Home Ties.

Once it was the young man only who looked longingly upon life and who sped away to fight it far from his own kin and fireside. Within recent years the young woman has taken it into her own head to roam and to carve her way amid strangers. Home, the home town and the home ways, seem inexpressibly stupid and slow to young people who have had a glimpse of something different.

No one blames them, no one would retard them, since it is only natural that the young should seek it, together with new methods and new friends. At the same time they should exercise against severing all connections with the home folk, while parents and relatives should be cautioned not to let their hold upon these adventurous spirits weaken in any way if they can help it. An unusual story in the news, though probably common enough in real life, illustrates the ease with which parents and their grown children become separated and lost to all common ties ago." It is claimed that those who will take part are: William "Happy" Culligan, Charles Ashby, J. A. McLaughlin, Richard Jones, Allan B. Macaulay, Tom Young, John Alvin Johnson, Fred Noreen, Fred Bahr, James L. Hubbard, S. E. Kellor, E. H. Gray, Carl Johnson, Harry Hanson, Erick Johnson, Robert Latture, Lloyd Maybray, F. W. Forbes, Lew Dockstader, Al Field, George Primrose and Booker T. Washington.

The soloists will be Lloyd Maybray, J. A. Johnson, E. H. Gray and Richard Jones; and men, Tom Young, Jack McLaughlin, W. F. Culligan and Charles Ashby; interactor, Richard Jones, and musical director, Charles Ashby.

After the minstrel show there will be a dance for the Samaritans and their friends.

Launch Party.
Misses Amy and Elizabeth Helmer of 1509 East Superior street entertained ten guests at a launch party this afternoon in honor of Miss Hazel Wilson, whose marriage to Emil Kriz of Chicago, will take place Wednesday evening.

The launch party was served up the river where supper was served.

COURTS' RULING PROVES PUZZLING
J. H. Nordby of St. Paul, state inspector of weights and measures, is in the city and will be here for three months to relieve C. A. Montgomery. He will have his headquarters during that time at 1508 East Sixth street.

Mr. Nordby said this morning that considerable confusion has arisen in the department owing to the fact that the law regarding short weights and measures is interpreted differently. Judge Cant recently ruled that those charged with giving short weights or measures must be bound over to the grand jury, thus delaying the prosecutions three months or more in some instances, while in the Twin Cities they are treated in the lower courts and are quickly disposed of.

Because of the difference in interpretation, says Mr. Nordby, the department has been somewhat at a loss to determine how to proceed, but a supreme court ruling will be obtained.

His bonds were fixed at $1,000, which were provided by the county authorities, giving up his star and gun immediately after the affair. He maintains that his shooting of young Torfin was purely accidental, resulting from his use of his revolver as a club.

HERE IS THE SONG.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Am sending words of the song requested by "Y. Y. G." in Wednesday's Herald as nearly as I can remember them, though it has been a great many years since I have seen them. Respectfully,
M. A. YANCEY.
Grand Rapids, Minn., May 30.

We parted by the riverside,
The moon looked down on you and me;
The stars put on their look of pride
While the river murmured to the sea.
The dewdrop kissed the blushing rose
While gentle winds did sigh,
One word broke nature's sweet repose,
That said word was "goodbye."

We parted by the riverside,
A teardrop trembled on your cheek;
In vain to tell my love I tried,
My heart was sad, I could not speak.
I promised that I would be true
So long as I might live,
One parting kiss I gave to you—
"Twas all I had to give."

We parted by the riverside
And I have roamed a distant clime,
My heart has not forgot its pride
For I have loved you all the time,
And I am faithful to you still
While I believe you true,
Afar or near, let come what will
I love you, only you.

Chorus—
Oh tell me that you love me yet
For, oh, the parting gives me pain;
Pray tell me that you'll not forget
For we may never meet again.

"A. W." of Duluth also kindly submitted the words to this song.—The Editor.

CORRECTING A COMMON ERROR.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's melody that is being used with Jonson's "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" is being attributed to the English and I would like to know why. Why should it be called an old English air, when it is in reality one of Mozart's masterpieces? Thanking you for valuable space, sincerely, Duluth, May 31. JUSTICE.

SUGGESTS ANOTHER.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Just noticed in paper dissatisfaction with name for the carnival. How is this "Gitchie Manito" or "Gitchie Manito" being suggested? In Indian words mean "Mighty God" carnival. Yours truly, Duluth, May 31. E. WILLIAMSON.

MAKES NO DIFFERENCE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Would you please inform me through Open Court if a foreigner, not a citizen of the United States, can operate a store without a license?

ERNEST ANDERSON,
West Duluth, May 31.

Certainly. Anything but a liquor store or a cigarette store. Citizenship makes no difference.—The Editor.

COST OF LIVING NOT BEEN REDUCED

Roosevelt Issues Statement Before His Departure for Madrid.

New York, June 1.—Failure of the Wilson administration to handle satisfactorily either the trust or the tariff question, was charged by Col. Roosevelt in a statement he left behind him for publication after his departure for Europe.

"The cost of living has not been reduced. Not the slightest progress has been made in solving the trust question," he said.

And again: "It has been shown that the reduction of the tariff in no shape or way helps toward this solution. The economic conditions are such that business is in jeopardy and that the small business man, the farmer and the industrial worker are all suffering because of these conditions."

Col. Roosevelt said he would put in his hardest work of the campaign in New York state.

"I believe the time has come to clean house in New York," he declared.

He assailed the "Murphy and Barnes machines," but made no reference to the tentative plans of the Progressive leaders for endorsement of the Republican nominee in this state, provided he meets their requirements.

WANTS STATE MANN ACT.

Chairman Teasdale of Vice Commission Favors Such Law.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 1.—A state law similar to the Mann white slave act, to provide against the transportation of women from county to county or city to city will be one of the recommendations of the Wisconsin vice commission, according to Senator Howard Teasdale, chairman.

While the commission has not decided on remedial measures to be recommended to the legislature, Mr. Teasdale says he believes such a law would go a long way toward curtailing commercialized vice and the immorality of the state.

He thinks the Mann act none too strong and says it is inadequate in that it curtails only interstate traffic.

"The greatest amount of traffic is within the state," said Mr. Teasdale, "and to make the national act beneficial there must be state enactments to back it up."

"Under the law a prison sentence and heavy fine accompanies the transportation of women from Milwaukee to Chicago for immoral purposes. But transportation from Milwaukee to Madison, to Fond du Lac or Oshkosh is not punishable. In a city like Milwaukee, undoubtedly much of the immoral traffic is between the city and outlying lake resorts in Waukesha and adjoining counties."

MORE DISTURBANCE IN G. O. P. POLITICS

Peterson, the Eliminated Candidate, Makes Veiled Attack on W. E. Lee, His Successful Opponent, in the Minneapolis Conference; Hammond Supporters Warned Against Over-Confidence; Hard Work By Congressional and Other Candidates.

And, as has been said before, the merry war for the governorship is merely starting. It was getting good and interesting between Governor Eberhart and William E. Lee anyhow, but now James A. Peterson, erstwhile candidate for the job himself, breaks into the limelight with disturbing talk.

Long ago it was predicted in these columns that James would not take kindly to his elimination in the recent conference in Minneapolis at which he, Sam Iverson and Senator Ellwell were shelled, the choice of the convention being Mr. Lee, and that political squalls might be expected at almost any time.

So the excited scene to be about to happen. As a rough-and-ready troublemaker, Jim Peterson has few equals; the palm was awarded him long ago.

It looks as though the new trouble was engineered by the Eberhart forces. According to dispatches received from Minneapolis, where Mr. Peterson lives, Mr. Peterson was asked if he thought it just right that Mr. Lee has failed to state his position in regard to the primary. The questions asked by Prof. F. J. Cason and submitted to Mr. Peterson as those to be answered by Mr. Lee were in the following form:

1. Are you in favor of so amending the primary election law that a convention or conference of the party may be held to eliminate candidates, so that only two can be voted on by the people at the primary election?

2. Do you favor the amendment of the present election law of Minnesota in such a way as to provide for a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary?

Just why Mr. Peterson was asked this, and no explanation is offered. It is all the more puzzling about this questioning of Mr. Peterson because James has failed to get out and support the man who eliminated him, as was expected he would. In fact, Sam Iverson, who was the mark only once, so there does not appear to be a great deal of joy in the breast of those turned out by Mr. Lee.

But at any rate Prof. Cason dug Jim out of wherever he had pitched his tent to ask him these questions, and Mr. Peterson said right out and asked him "then there" questions, and Mr. Peterson said right out that Mr. Lee ought to state his position; and that Governor Eberhart was not afraid to do so. He is quoted as saying:

"I cannot see any reason why Mr. Lee should not make a fair, frank and unequivocal answer to the questions you have shown me, and I certainly believe that Mr. Lee will answer those questions."

Mr. Peterson's answer to the first question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the second question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the third question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the fourth question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the fifth question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the sixth question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the seventh question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the eighth question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the ninth question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the tenth question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

Mr. Peterson's answer to the eleventh question was that he was in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates, but that he was not in favor of a convention or conference of the party to eliminate candidates either before or after the primary.

so that the people may definitely know how he stands.

"I notice that in his St. Cloud speech Mr. Lee has assumed the elimination conference held in Minneapolis enlarged the power of the people. I have assumed the power of the primary election law the greatest step taken by the people of this state to acquire control of their own government, and no man who is a candidate for office in the state of Minnesota can afford to be misinterpreted on this most vital issue before the people. There is nothing that the special interests of this state would more gladly welcome than a return to the old convention system, and I cannot believe that Mr. Lee in any way would substitute a convention in any form for the direct primary. I have assumed, and I take it that most of the people, believe that Mr. Lee is sure that there was no question as to Mr. Lee's stand on this important point.

"I judge from what Mr. Lee said in his St. Cloud speech that he wants a majority nomination. This is impossible under a proper primary election law, and I have no opinion an elimination conference or convention will abide the rights of the people and should not be tolerated. I believe when the state convention has been called to this matter that he will set himself right on this question. I do not wish to be understood as saying anything whatever concerning the elimination conference held in this city on March 19. Mr. Lee became the only candidate against Mr. Eberhart, and in the past, under a proper primary election law, majority nomination is an impossibility. Just as a majority candidate in the state today, Mr. Lee has not had a majority candidate in Minnesota. That thing can only be accomplished when you have only two parties.

"I am very sorry that any question should be raised at this time concerning the permanency of the primary election law, as it is now in Minnesota. I understand that Governor Eberhart has come out squarely in favor of the primary election law as it now stands. A prompt and proper answer to the questions by Mr. Lee will remove this issue from the present fight, and I cannot but believe that this will be done at once."

It is also claimed by the Minneapolis organ of the Eberhart machine that been the hope of Mr. Lee and his backers that James A. Peterson would support Mr. Lee and that Peterson fully intended to do so until it became apparent that the election of William E. Lee meant the doom of the direct primary law."

As a matter of fact, it is claimed, the best that was expected from Peterson was silence; but that was not to be and many believe that this interview is but the forerunner of a more or less active campaign by Mr. Peterson against the Long Prairie man from now on until June 16, the primary day.

George F. Authier, campaign manager for Governor Eberhart, has issued, in his campaign book—and it is also being exploited in one of the machine organs, the Minneapolis Tribune—a list of the appointments made by the governor during his term of office. This is with a view of proving that there is no machine. However, Mr. Authier neglects to include in the list the appointments of boiler inspectors, oil inspectors, etc., etc., which are the boards that are accused of forming the real machine. The omission is more significant than the list itself.

In the meantime, the Democratic governorship campaign goes quietly along—very quietly. Congressman Peterson is attending strictly to his duties in Washington and Dan Lawler is gunshooting. The Democratic nomination is considered mighty slim.

There is no doubt that those who would like to see Dan Lawler the Democratic nominee will be at the caucus and will be there who want to see Congressman Hammond, the Democratic nominee will need to take pattern from the opposition and also be at the polls and vote for Hammond.

Over-confidence has beaten a whole lot of good men. If by any chance Peterson should prove to be the Democratic nominee for governor of Minnesota, Congressman Hammond's friends will be to blame. As the matter stands it is generally conceded that with a full Democratic vote out, it isn't in the cards that Lawler can beat Hammond, but he can beat him if the Democratic majority thinks it not worth while to get out and vote.

That is the sole danger, and that, it is believed, is the very reason that Lawler has remained in the race, and has chosen gunshooting tactics, for he is too shrewd a politician, it is conceded, to believe that he stands a chance otherwise. Supporters of Hammond are admonished to see that the full strength of the party is gotten out on June 16—and that is only fifteen days away, primary election day coming two weeks from tomorrow.

Well, Duluth has seen and heard William E. Lee, although his appearance here was brief and his audience limited. Last Thursday he spoke before about sixty men at a luncheon given at the Commercial club and that night went on to Crookston. W. O. Clure, his manager, remained over to spring a sensational attack on Governor Eberhart, which he was not allowed to give at the luncheon, and which he gave that night in a room at the St. Louis, but to which he was not invited. Clure, in brief, that the governor is brewery-controlled, and that he believes that he stands a chance to win, at least, prove the charge.

Mr. Lee and Mr. Clure both predict victory for safe majority.

In a congressional way in the Eighth district, the work is going actively but silently on. Both Republican candidates—Congressman Miller and Senator Doyle—and their supporters are working hard in a gunshooting sort of way, and both candidates are making many addresses; but the day of the free-ranging style of speech-making seems to have vanished. It's a kid-glove affair now and very genteel.

June 16 passed, Andrew Nelson, who is opposed for the Democratic nomination for congress, will begin his campaign; after which to Mr. Clure, at least, the changes in the political line-up. It is freely predicted that Mr. Nelson will be the successful Republican candidate for nomination a race that will be historical, and with a good chance of winning.

Nothing exciting has happened in the legislative or county campaign, but all candidates are studying in their best holes. It will be a steady grind among them for the next two weeks.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

ONE week from tonight brings to the mat gladiators in the expansive persons of Stanislaus Zyzsko and Jess Reimer Westergaard. At this time we will come forth with the utterance that in our opinion the Pole is the greatest wrestler in the world, for it has become a recognized fact that Gotsch is through with the mat for all time. Our opinion of the outcome of the approaching contest will be given after looking over the condition of the two men.

Upon the showing the two men have made in the two contests they wrestled here, there is not a great deal of difference. The forthcoming contest will be a finish one or the contract of Promoter Lewis will not be binding. Therefore the forthcoming match should result in the determination once for all of the relative abilities of the two giants.

Westergaard will be here early to complete his training, and according to the dispatches from Montreal the huge Pole will also be on the scene to put the finishing touches to his conditioning.

The Drooping Champions.
At this time a year ago the Winona team was going like a house joyously blazing while the record set by an sweet and well groomed outfielder, and Ewaldt, the dexterous and widely roving second base guard, and the departure of Heaver Bell and Receiver Murphy have apparently caused a chasm that the rising young manager, Lefty Davis has been unable to fill.

Bowery Collins is not playing the ball he was pastimating forth at this period a year ago, and the first cord of defense misses the alert Ewaldt, who is, performing in the Western. Bell was the box wonder for Davis and there is no heavier on the roll of the champions who has so far this season shown the ability to take the place of the southpaw.

Another little thing—Winona has so few games on its own grounds that the fans greet the members of the team as strangers each time it appears. This fact is sure to militate against the chances of coping the rag. While it is early in the pristine season, as the staunch defenders of the local team would remind us, it is not too early to cause the followers of the drift of the game to wonder if the veteran Davis can lead his cohorts to another lag.

An Eastern exchange conveys the information that Nicholls trains the Yale crew. Until an affidavit is furnished with this statement the public may be loath to believe it.

The Yale coach denies that he is ill. It is generally believed that the crew is, however.

Willie Ritchie could not speak for an hour after the contest with White. It is believed that the shock of the small receipts caused this condition.

If Quimet had not won in France he would probably have tried another country.

Northwestern has decided to pay its football coach. This is an example of philanthropy in its highest form.

A man who had lived in Superior for forty years died the other day. It is said he met his end without a struggle.

Willie Ritchie declares that he fought like an amateur. The promoters of the Milwaukee bout have substantial reasons for doubting the amateur standing of Willie.

An amateur baseball player was arrested the other day for stealing from the government. He will probably be signed by the Federals—Leavenworth.

Champion Ritchie blames himself for his poor showing against Charley White. Some of the more impartial observers of the battle declare that it was White's fault.

THOMAS IS THE WINNER

Captures the Indianapolis Speedway Event After Breaking All Records.

Race Witnessed By 100,000 People—Victor Will Receive $40,000.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—Here Thomas, driving a French car, won the fourth annual 500-mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway Saturday. All speedway records from 1908 to 1913 were broken. The first American to finish was Barney Oldfield, who crossed the wire in fifth place.

Thomas' time was 6 hours 3 minutes 46 and 99-100 seconds. The winner maintained an average speed of 52.47 miles an hour. The former record of 6 hours 21 minutes and 3-100 seconds was established by Joe Dawson in 1912. The new record established Saturday was due to a large measure to the ideal weather conditions.

Arthur Dury finished second, 7 minutes after the winner. Albert Guyot, teammate of Thomas, was the third driver to be given the checkered flag, and Jules Goux, winner of the 1913 race, finished in fourth place, six minutes ahead of Oldfield.

Six men were injured, none of them seriously, during the contest. Joe Dawson suffered a broken collar bone and minor injuries when his car turned over on the south turn. After trying to dodge the wrecked machine of Ray Gilhooly, Harry James, his mechanic, was hurt, and Gilhooly and Zino Zonal, his mechanic, also suffered minor injuries. Jean Chassagne and Albert Mitchell, handling an English car, limped away from their machine after it rolled over on a turn.

The race was an exciting one from the start, and the rivalry among the foreign teams made one of the most exciting finishes that ever has been witnessed at the Indianapolis course. George Boillot, in a desperate effort to overtake Thomas, pushed his car to such excessive speed that in the 147th lap he was forced out when leading the field because of a broken frame. Dury thrilled the spectators by his sensational effort to catch Thomas in the latter part of the contest, and Goux seemed always to be a contender for first place.

The showing of Bob Burman was a disappointment, as was that of Tetzlaff, Diebrow, Mulford, Cooper and other starters.

It is estimated that 100,000 people saw the contest, and that the American League club paid $18,000, and made some fair scores. Shooting for the season's trophies has begun and competition is keen among the members. Scores made were as follows:

LEAHY'S TWO-BASE CLOUT COPS GAME FOR WHITE SOX

Last Contest Goes to Home Guards By Score of 4 to 3.

Duluth Drops Both Holiday Games By Small Score Margins.

After dropping two Decoration day battles to the Landry railroad gang, Duluth came back yesterday and defeated the ancient rivals from the suburban district by the count of 4 to 3. Richard Leahy was on the mound for the domestics and not only threw a nice ball, but also won the affair by busting a two-base drive in the eighth round that broke the tie and drove over the winning run.

Our former co-worker P. Rhoades was on the firing line for the enemy and as in the former start, Peggy the Pegger was beaten out after it looked as if he had the locals hipped. Little incidents like those do not improve in the least the somewhat touchy temper of Mr. Rhoades, who is gifted with the artistic temperament.

In the home half of this highly exciting round bracket walked and scored on the long single by recent pitcher McGee.

Persch singled in the fifth and counted when the mighty glass tripled in the home half. Collins walked and then ran to second and third and counted when he doubled.

There was nothing doing until the aforementioned eighth round, when Persch doubled and Leahy bunted into the fence and produced the run that tied the game.

Going back to ancient history for a but brief review, it might be stated that in the series between the two teams, Duluth was victorious in the first two games, while the home team won the last two.

The scores are collected below for personal reference:

less the chance they wanted. By winning both games of the Memorial day double-headers, they dislodged the Colonels and took the berth next to Milwaukee.

Their winning streak broken, the Cleveland players suffered enough reverses to lose their place in the first division but the difference between seventh and third places is still so slight in the association, that a game or two may make a big change in positions.

Baltimore in the Federal league showed superiority over the Western invaders in the series which wound up last week. To date, Baltimore has taken a majority of the games from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City, and has a tie with Indianapolis.

Knabe's team is now so far out in front that a bad losing streak seems the only thing that will stop them long enough to let one of the other clubs catch up.

The season is little more than six weeks old, and the playing schedules stretch out over a period of more than four months yet. Thus the fact that the world's championship contenders of last three years in the major leagues and of 1911 and 1913 in the younger have apparently struck their stride and are out in front does not necessarily mean that the "big series" contests this fall again are to be staged at the Polo grounds and at Lake Park.

Looking at the American league situation, if anything is to be kept from Black in 1914, it will apparently be the willingness of his young pitchers. Even the notable scoring powers of the Athletics cannot always overcome such handicaps as that which four youthful twirlers handed their support in the second game against New York Saturday in the absence of a total of fourteen bases on balls. However, Mack has his two veterans, Eddie Hank and Chief Bender again pitching ball of the slant variety. The week proved that the Mackmen will have formidable opposition from the Senators, who shot into the lead before midweek, but fell back slightly in the week's latter half.

As for Detroit, a resumption of its winning streak may be expected as soon as Ty Cobb gets back into the lineup. Cobb's injury came just when the Athletics needed every ounce of their strength to cope with the Mackmen and Senators.

In the National league the New Yorks were decidedly superior in play to all the other clubs, with the possible exception of Cincinnati, and concededly earned their way to the top.

Pittsburg's slumping drop, next to the loss of the Reds and the Giants, was the feature of the week.

SURRENDERS TO SQUARE HIMSELF

Convicted Murderer, Who

Returns.

Chicago, June 1.—Phillip O'Rourke, a convicted murderer working on the "honor farm" at the state penitentiary at Joliet, who ran away May 23, surrendered here yesterday "to square himself with the boys."

On the day of O'Rourke's escape, a stranger tempted him with whisky. When he woke up in Chicago next morning, O'Rourke was remorseful. He knew the guards would be reprimanded and a stricter watch placed over the "honor" men.

For seven days he fought his battle and then telephoned William Walsh, deputy warden at Joliet, to meet him at East Thirty-fifth street and Cottage Grove avenue. O'Rourke was there when the deputy arrived and went back to stay in prison until Sept. 10, 1920.

THE City of Duluth and the State of Minnesota both seek to reduce the number of accidents due to heavy traffic through ordinances and state laws. We would respectfully ask the co-operation of Duluth drivers of all kinds of vehicles in a "safety first" campaign to help make these laws and ordinances more effective.

Section 3 of the Duluth city traffic ordinance reads as follows:

"Every person using any vehicle on any street in the city of Duluth shall, before turning out to pass any other vehicle, and before turning around, and before turning out of the line of traffic for any purpose, look carefully to the rear of the vehicle which said person is using upon the side toward which he contemplates turning, and if he fails so to look and in so turning out causes a collision with any vehicle coming from the rear he shall be deemed guilty of gross negligence."

The failure of drivers and chauffeurs to look back before turning out of their course in obedience to the above is the direct cause of a great majority of the collisions between street cars and other vehicles. IN ALL SUCH CASES THE DRIVER OR CHAUFFEUR IS GUILTY OF GROSS NEGLIGENCE.

Remember that "A Street Car Can't Dodge" to avoid running into anything upon or near the track. Our Duluth street cars weigh twenty-five tons—the rails are very often slippery from a variety of causes in summer as well as from frost in winter—if the motorman cannot stop before reaching an obstruction he cannot turn his car out to avoid it, as could be done with any other vehicle, and a collision is the result. This inability to dodge obstructions puts the motormen at a great disadvantage and at the same time gives the drivers of other vehicles the great advantage of knowing the course the car will take.

In the interests of safeguarding life and property, we would like to call the attention of every driver of a vehicle in Duluth to this ordinance.

NO NEARER SETTLEMENT

Prospects of Ending Colorado Coal Strike Are Still Poor.

Cost of Conflict Estimated at $10,000,000 to $12,000,000.

Denver, Col., June 1.—Definite prospects for a settlement of the strike in the Colorado coal fields where the miners have been out since September 23, 1913, and where 1,717 United States troops are now guarding the mining properties, apparently are no nearer realization, than they were weeks ago, according to statements by both union officials and mine operators. Sixty-six persons are known to have been killed in the numerous battles and disorders, and the known wounded list totals forty-eight. Twenty have been killed prior to April 20, the date of the battle of Ludlow and forty-six were killed during the next ten days when Federal troops stopped the warfare.

Cost Runs Into Millions.

The cost of the eight months industrial conflict is variously estimated at $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. The figures include the sum of $700,000 incurred by the state in maintaining state troops in the field until the arrival of the federal forces. An estimate of $9,925,000 cost to the union and the sweeping statement by the operators that their loss will total "several millions."

The Federal troops now in the coal fields are twelve troops of the eleventh cavalry, six troops of the twelfth cavalry, six troops of the twelfth infantry, and six troops of the twelfth artillery.

Figures compiled by James Dalrymple, state coal mine inspector, show there were 19,159 miners in the coal mines of Colorado, for the first three months of 1913. The total production for the first three months of 1913 was 2,817,615 tons against 3,538,436 tons for the same period of the year ago.

Differ on Figures.

From the same source it is learned there were 12,284 men working in the mines last September when the strike was called, 7,946 in October, the first full month following the strike and 10,146 in March, 1914. Against these figures stand the claims of John R. Lawson, international executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America, that approximately 11,000 men quit work in response to the strike call last September, and that about 8,500 men are still on strike. He attributes the decrease to men leaving back to work, their loss being more than offset by those who have joined the strikers.

The original demands of the United Mine Workers of America may be summarized as follows: of the union. First, recognition of the union. Second, a 10 per cent advance in wages. Third, an eight-hour day. Fourth, pay for narrow and dead work. Fifth, check weighmen. Sixth, the right to trade where desired. Seventh, enforcement of state mining laws and abolishment of the guard system.

"There has been no change in the nature of the demands since the strike was called," said John R. Lawson, union leader. "I do not know of any prospects of a settlement. The miners will never go back to work without recognition of the union, if they follow my advice."

The Operators' Position.

Holding that the chief demands of the United Mine Workers, with the exception of the demands for recognition, are guaranteed by statute, the operators maintain their original position. Refusal to treat with representatives of the United Mine Workers of America or recognize the union. They reiterate a willingness to meet actual employees for the adjustment of grievances.

The present hope of the public, if not of the operators and union leaders, for an adjustment of the controversy, lies in the joint committee selected under a joint resolution at the recent extra session of the state legislature. This committee is empowered to compel testimony to get information from any source and take whatever steps it deems advisable. Its personnel represent three principal political parties and widely varied phases of business life.

CONGRESS LOOKING TO ADJOURNMENT

Expected Senate Will Vote on Tolls Bill This Week.

Washington, June 1.—The long awaited vote on the tolls exemption repeal bill will be taken in the senate before Saturday night, unless all the plans of the leaders fail. Both opponents and those who favor the passage of the measure are agreed that there is no need for prolonging debate beyond the present week, and when the few speeches already announced have been delivered, action will be demanded on the bill, and all the amendments proposed to it.

There is a prospect that the house will finish its trio of anti-trust bills by the end of the week and pave the way for adjournment in July if senate leaders can reach an agreement on the amount of trust legislation they believe the country needs and desires at this time.

The appropriation bills can be passed in the senate and house in quick order, and practically only the trust program stands in the way of adjournment by July 20 as leaders desire. The senate committee in charge has put in week after week on anti-trust bills before it, and is expected to reach a decision on how much legislation it will recommend to the senate by the middle of the week. There is a motion before the committee to report only one bill in the hope that, with its passage adjournment will be taken with the understanding that other trust legislation shall be brought before the senate next winter.

Despite the fact that President Wilson's recent remarks to Ohio and Illinois business men are regarded in some quarters as an announcement that he will not be satisfied with less than all three trust bills to be passed by the house, many senators are said to feel that the passage of a trade commission bill by the senate will prove sufficient.

PERIOD OF INTELLECTUAL VIGOR.

New York Times: Recent medical statistics as to the age when man has the most intellectual vigor give interesting results. It is from 40 to 51 years that the most brilliant things have been accomplished by the majority of human beings.

Chemists and physicians have made brilliant discoveries at 40. Poets have accomplished masterpieces at 44, and novelists two years later. Famous warriors average 47. Musicians are most brilliant at 48, and actors at the same age. Moralists are greatest at 51. Politicians at 53, humorists at 56, thus demonstrating that the last thing one learns is how to amuse one's contemporaries.

THREE HELD FOR BLIND-PIGGING

Two Men and a Woman Caught in Raids By Police.

Two men and a woman were arrested last night and this morning in a raid that was made by the Duluth police on alleged "blind-pigs." The police have been keeping a constant watch on these places, but not until yesterday were they able to gather sufficient evidence which they thought would warrant arrests.

Last evening John Makl, 31 years old, was taken into custody by Patrolman O. Olson. The officer had arrested George Karl on a charge of drunkenness a short time before and upon questioning the latter, was informed that Makl had sold the liquor. Patrolman Olson then went to Makl's home at 603 West First street and placed him under arrest.

Two mornings later, John Benalla, 42 years old, 113 South First avenue east, and Mrs. Anna Sampl, 43 years old, 334 Lake avenue south, were both arrested on a charge of having sold liquor to John Salini.

In police court this morning the trio all pleaded not guilty and their trials were set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Makl was allowed to go on payment of $150 bail, while the bail in the case of the two other prisoners was fixed at $100 each.

REALTY MEN MAKE MERRY AT ANNUAL GATHERING

Duluth Real Estate Exchange Elects Officers Prior to Banquet.

Affair Is Held at Kitchi Gammi—Interesting Talks Given.

More than sixty members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange and their guests made merry last evening at their ninth annual meeting and banquet, held at the Kitchi Gammi club. A get-together spirit was in evidence, and taken as a whole, the function was the most enjoyable in the history of the exchange. True to their promise, the members of the committee that had the arrangements in hand introduced some novel innovations, adding to the program. Towards the end, the efforts of R. B. Knox who made an efficient toastmaster, materially. His interview with the strange "Englishman" and the latter's "daughter" confused the guests.

Mayor W. J. Prince, in the course of an address of welcome to the outside visitors present, said that the real estate exchange is composed of a group of men who are in the habit of doing things. In his opinion the exchange has accomplished much in directing activities along safe lines, and towards promoting industrial and commercial activity.

The mayor pointed out that Duluth has shown greater progress in building development in 1913 than any other city in the country. Taking into account $1,000,000 spent in the Minnesota steel company's model town, the amount of capital expended in building operations here last year, was approximately $5,000,000, as compared with about $2,500,000 in 1912. Last month's record of building permits issued was the best in the history of the city, he said, and the pleasing part he noted about it was that the percentage of work authorized was for the erection of moderate priced homes.

Luther Mendonhall, dean of the realty fraternity, when called upon for a few reminiscences, said that he never believed in looking ahead and not becoming a realist. "There is more in the future for every one of us than in reverting to the past. Men who reach out and grasp their opportunities are the only ones who amount to anything."

Dealers arrested. A touch of spice was added to the program in the person of Thomas W. Wahl by a member of Chief Troyer's staff, who was on hand ready to officiate in case of any unexpected emergency. Mr. Wahl got along all right as long as he confined his remarks to the regulations of Duluth's realty activities. When the latter went off at a tangent to touchiness, however, offering in acreage on the Wisconsin side of the river, he was adjudged to have committed an act of treason and the constable was called in. He was subsequently released on $100 bail, and bonds for his future good behavior.

Louis B. Dalley, assistant manager

N. J. UPHAM,

of the new Equitable building now under erection in New York city gave some interesting statistics relative to that structure now being erected by Gen. T. C. du Pont. With its thirty-six floors, each containing 30,000 square feet of rentable space, he said, the proprietors of the building will have at their disposal 1,200,000 square feet of space for rent. He admitted that renting it will prove a big task at the outset. In view of the present surplus of office space in the skyscraper district, but he thought it would be filled at a time. Mr. Dalley declared that he would carry away with him a favorable impression of Duluth and the industrial and commercial advantages it offers.

C. A. Patterson of Chicago, secretary of the National Building Owners and Managers' association, touched upon the proposed program for the annual convention of that organization to be held in Duluth on July 14 to 17. More than 500 delegates are expected to be on hand from the various sections of the country, and between five and six billions of capital will be represented.

The speaker referred to the remarkable development of the skyscraper since its introduction twenty-seven years ago, and he predicted a still greater advance in the future through the solution of heating and ventilation problems that are now puzzling experts.

Charles P. Craig, who introduced himself by saying he was always handicapped with a dairy cow, and really a real estate dealer, asked the co-operation of members of the real estate exchange in entertaining delegates to the agricultural convention to be held here under the auspices of the Commercial club on June 26 and 27.

Addresses were also delivered by H. C. Fulton, Robert J. Closs of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. The latter touched upon the psychology of successful real estate salesmanship. The annual election of officers held upon the evening of June 2, resulted in the election of N. J. Upham to the presidency, succeeding J. D. Stryker. W. B. Mitchell was elected vice president, and Edward F. Spink and H. J. Mullen, secretary and treasurer, respectively. A. H. Brown, J. E. Cooley and Whitely Wall were elected directors.

evening the other attempted to quiet him down. As a result the pair got into a fight and landed in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct.

In police court this morning they both pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct and they were each fined $5 and costs or five days in the county jail. They paid their fines.

Le Blanc and Ward were arrested by Sergeant Younberg and Patrolman Leung and were held in temporary custody last evening on payment of $15 bail.

THREE MONTHS FOR POOR STABBING JOB

Injury to Self as Well as Enemy Does Not Save Hamalainen.

Although Otto Hamalainen, 24 years old, bungled in his attempt to stab Elmer Aho following a quarrel in their rooming house at 324 South First avenue east, by falling on his knife and severely cutting himself, he will have to spend the next three months in the county jail.

Hamalainen was arraigned in police court this morning before Judge Cutting and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault in the third degree. He was given the straight jail sentence without an alternative of a fine.

According to Aho, the prisoner and he quarreled during the evening and suddenly without any provocation Hamalainen rushed up to him and stabbed him on the shoulder. Hamalainen started to run out of the room, but fell down and cut his leg.

Other roomers who were attracted to the scene, held Hamalainen until the police arrived and both he and Aho were taken to the hospital where their wounds were dressed by Police Surgeon Murphy. Hamalainen then locked up on the assault charge, while Aho was held as the complaining witness.

BATCH OF DAMAGE CLAIMS COMING IN

The city seems due to have another batch of damage claims filed against it through storm losses caused by the overflowing of Mission creek at Fond du Lac, on account of the heavy rain storm last Thursday, May 28.

The first notice was filed with City Clerk Charles S. Palmer this morning by John H. Brigham, who alleges damages of $495. Officials at the city hall state that they have been informed that others will shortly be presented.

A year ago Mission creek overflowed its banks, causing more damage than last week. The damage claims filed at that time aggregated about $7,000. None of them have been settled. The officials feel that some of the property owners have been unreasonable in their demands. The opinion of the city attorney is that if the city is liable at all, it is only in a small degree.

In the last year several plans were made for changing the creek channel to prevent repetition of the same damage. The city made an effort to co-operate with the county, but the two were unable to come to a definite agreement.

Homesteader Loses Mind. Grand Forks, N. D., June 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Clara E. Ferguson, insane because of loneliness while on a homestead in the West, was committed to the state asylum for the insane yesterday. The woman and her husband recently returned from the claim.

LIABILITY LAW TESTED

Supreme Court Hears an Appeal From Hennepin County Decision.

Employee of Minneapolis Traction Company Attacks the Act.

An important decision on the constitutionality of certain phases of the workmen's compensation act is expected within a short time from the Minnesota supreme court. Arguments in a test case appealed from the courts of Hennepin county were heard by the supreme court Monday and it is understood that upon the outcome largely depends the status of the present law.

In view of the fact that since the new employers' liability act went into effect last October more than 1,300 settlements between employers and employees have been made in St. Louis county, the progress of the case in the supreme court will be watched with considerable interest.

Employee Attacks Law.

In the case before the court the attack on the law is being made by the employee and the Minneapolis Street Railway company is defending the statute in court. The case at issue comes from Minneapolis where Ole Mathison, an employee of a contractor doing some paving for the Minneapolis Street Railway company, was hit by a street car and severely injured. Both the street car company and their paving contractors had signed up under the compensation act, and Mathison when he asked for damages was informed that the company would pay him the rate of compensation as provided in the act. Mathison refused to come under the act and sought redress in the lower court, where he lost.

The case yesterday came up on appeal and the act was severely condemned by Durbury, Convent & Pettit, John, Mathison's attorneys. The street car company was represented by Koon, Whalen & Hemstead.

The principal contention is that the street car company was not Mathison's employer and therefore could not pay him under the compensation act. The law was attacked as unconstitutional on this ground and also that in its passage the legislature had usurped governmental powers by delegating to others a line of authority to which they are not entitled. The law, Mathison's attorneys argued, was a piece of fraud, and did not give those compelled to seek its protection the justice they were entitled to.

Answer of Defendants.

In its answer the street car company makes the point that there is no escape from the infliction of the workmen's compensation act and that it has no other authority in the premises than to pay the schedule of damages provided in the act. The company says that Mathison, when he took employment with the contractors knew his liability and what he would receive if injured. All employees, the company says, are amenable to the workmen's compensation act and there is no other relief.

They claim that the employee has the worst of their argument under the act. Under its terms certain classes of employment are excepted from the provisions of the law and this the attorneys for Mathison say is one feature of the unconstitutional claims made. They hold it constitutes class legislation.

Oakland, Cal., June 3.—Six years of persistent letter writing by a Japanese theological student to Miss Alice Lorraine Andrews, former president of the Associated Women Students of the University of California, which drove that young woman to take to escape the Oriental's attentions, resulted yesterday in the arrest of Rev. He was examined as to his sanity, and a pledge was given by himself and his friends that he would leave the country if prosecution by the Federal government were withheld. Miss Andrews fled to Juneau, where she is teaching school. Her flight was due to the fear that the Japanese would resort to violence.

ITALIAN "FOURTH OF JULY" NEXT SUNDAY

Celebration of Statute on First Sunday in June; Sept. 20. Another Italian National Holiday; This is Birthday of King George of England.

Next Sunday will be the Italian "Fourth of July" and will be celebrated by the various Italian societies in proper form.

It will be the sixty-sixth anniversary of the granting of Italy of the national statute, and is known as "Statuto." There is no set date for the celebration but it is held on the first Sunday in June. This is done according to a statement by Attilio Castiglioni, Italian consul here, because most of the battles which Italians have fought for their liberty happened to be on or around the first Sunday in June.

The actual time when the national statute was granted, the Italian people by King Charles Albert was on March 4, 1848.

The Italians have another national holiday. That is on Sept. 20, the celebration of the day that the Italian troops entered Rome and the Eternal City was named as the capital.

In connection with the matter of national holidays, it may be said, in passing, that today is the anniversary of the birth of King George of England. He was born in 1855. The day is not celebrated as a holiday, however, the great holiday among the English and in the colonies being Victoria day, May 24, the anniversary of the birth of the late Queen Victoria, whose memory is still revered among the English more than that of any other sovereign.

INDORSED RINES EARLY: MACHINE DISCIPLINES

Editor Odland of Fergus Falls, Boiler Inspector, Gets Rash and Is Now Repenting; Listens to Master's Voice; Arneson Protests to Railroads; Clure's Open Letter to Governor; Halbert's Opponent Justifies Act.

The warning against rashly putting one's opinion in print is becoming axiomatic. To mix metaphors, it is often the case of "chickens coming home to roost." In a safe bet to say that Editor M. W. Odland of the Fergus Falls Free Press is figuratively kicking himself frequently and violently over an endorsement he printed some time ago of Henry Rines, who is the anti-machine Republican candidate for state auditor. Of course the nub of the story is that the Fergus Falls editor holds a job as boiler inspector under the present administration—which loves not Henry—and since Jacob A. O. Preus has been trotted out as the administration candidate for state auditor, Mr. Odland has been disciplined and is now portentously silent about Mr. Rines. Of course he does not take the trouble to reconcile his positions of then and now for the very good reason that the job is too big; so he simply ignores the "kidding" which the state press is administering to him. He is doing so doggedly ahead, and like the servant of Cervantes' hero, speaks only the thoughts of his master. Editor Odland was very, very rash when he printed that piece in the paper, for he said that he didn't care what faction Henry Rines belonged to—he was for the state.

Henry Rines, the clear-headed editor of the Fergus Falls Free Press and speaker of the Minnesota house of representatives, has filed a protest with the state auditor on the Republican ticket. He was for ten years auditor of Kanabec county and a good man for the place; he has been a member of the house for eleven years and a mighty good man there, and we believe that he would fill the place as well as any man the state has had there. We don't care what faction Henry Rines belongs to—we are for him.

James S. Arneson, candidate for the Republican nomination for state railroad and warehouse commissioner, is out with a protest against the alleged machinations of the Great Northern road and the Northern Pacific, which, he says, he has learned are fighting him and his party. He has written a protest to L. W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, and J. M. Hanson, president of the Northern Pacific, against the alleged sending out of one George McCrea, who, it is said, claims he is secretary of the Railway Employees' association, and his active campaign for Mr. Jacobson. To the press Mr. Arneson has sent a copy of his letter and added:

"Ever since I became a candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner, reports have been reaching me from time to time that I was being actively opposed by the railroad. But I attached no importance to the rumors until last week when I discovered the activity of McCrea. I stand for simple justice to the people and the railroads, as outlined in my statement of principles, and I do not now propose to submit to any organized effort to do me harm. I believe the railroads can afford at this time to interfere in this contest."

Cruel Mr. Clure! Not content with turning loose a badger campaign against the breweries, while in Duluth last week, W. O. Clure, campaign manager of William E. Lee, comes out in an open letter to the governor, asking some questions that are far from comfortable. This open letter Mr. Clure is sending to the governor to answer. He is asking the governor to answer:

"Assuming that you wish to remove any doubt concerning your position and also that you desire to live up to the twenty-four reasons for your re-election set forth by your secretary, Mr. Authier, I take the liberty to re-elect of asking a few questions."

"Because he knows where he stands and has the courage to assert it."

"You claim credit for the temperance and reform legislation passed during your administration. Why did you not do something to save the road house bill that was passed by the house and amended to death in the senate? This law would have prohibited county commissioners from issuing licenses, thereby doing away with one of the worst of saloon evils—the notorious and unregulated road house."

"If you exerted your influence in behalf of any temperance measures, why did you not also urge the passage of a county option law? As a matter of fact, are you for county option, and if re-elected governor will you urge upon the legislature the passage of such a law?"

"When your supporters in the legislature were working desperately to kill the abatement bill, why did you not use your influence with them to have them defeat it? Is your appointment of L. A. Loydard and one of your campaign managers an endorsement of his record of almost invariably voting against every temperance or moral measure, and of his votes against the corrupt practices act, initiative and referendum, and Nolan and Minnette bills?"

"You have stated that you are for woman suffrage. If so, why did you not exert your efforts to have it passed at the last session? You know it required but two votes in the senate to have the woman suffrage amendment passed. The day of the circular letter seems to be over. At least the morning mail piled in a few. Even W. G. Calderwood, prohibition candidate for governor, has come out, and with that characteristic optimism which marks his kind, says right out in a public letter that "I look for the lid to go back on the northwestern part of Minnesota with a vigorous bang."

"That," he adds, "will mean the closing up of more than 200 saloons and will include some of the wettest spots in the entire state."

And—oh, yes—this is what Mr. Calderwood said about the two candidates for the Republican nomination for governor and the kind of a campaign they are putting up:

"The discouraging and disquieting thing in the noisy and dusty and somewhat amply campaign between the two aspirants for the Republican gubernatorial honors is the fact that neither of them ring with sincerity. Eberhart and his cohorts stall around about an insinuation that the primary law is insincere; it is an unstatesmanlike, it is unbusinesslike, no weight with the public, and I now wish to affirm that I am a Progressive, first and last and all the time. I have sworn my allegiance to the party born in 1912 and they realize Hugh Halbert, my opponent on the Progressive ticket, is wrong and a traitor to his cause in requesting and directing the members of the Progressive party to forsake their principles and convictions, and sacrifice the Progressive party on the altar of Lee."

"I am a native of Minnesota, of Swedish descent, while Mr. Lee is of English descent. I am opposed to raising the question of nationality or religion in politics, and it should have sworn my allegiance to the party born in 1912 and they realize Hugh Halbert, my opponent on the Progressive ticket, is wrong and a traitor to his cause in requesting and directing the members of the Progressive party to forsake their principles and convictions, and sacrifice the Progressive party on the altar of Lee."

"In all sincerity I do think the Progressive party should have a real Progressive candidate for governor and that we ought to exercise our own privilege in voting these principles and not to let Lee or anyone else fasten by Mr. Halbert or anyone else the votes of the Progressive party."

submitted; and as a majority of the same was friendly to you, why did you not use your influence with that body to have the amendment submitted? And why is it that you say nothing about it in the present campaign?—or do you intend to stand for all good legislation and disclaim any responsibility for bad legislation or for appropriations? When the chairman of the appropriations committee asked you to help them cut down the items, why did you refuse to do so? You have stated that excessive appropriations are due to the methods employed by the legislature in preparing the appropriation bill. Will you please state why bills placed in the appropriation bills because of these methods? Why didn't you insist upon this before the damage was done, if what you say is true?

"If you please state where you would have cut out another $500,000 from the appropriation bill? From the board of regents, board of control, and some of the other departments? ### WILL CHARGE FOR TRANSPORTING SLAG

Pittsburg, Pa., June 2.—Steel manufacturers were today notified by railroads in the Pittsburgh and Youngstown districts that beginning June 15 a new tariff would be filed with the interstate commerce commission governing the transportation of slag and other waste material from furnaces and mills. While the new rate has not been made public, steel men believe it will be 20 cents for slag and 35 cents for excavating material and other waste. The increase, it is estimated, will add $2,000,000 annually to transportation charges. Heretofore the cost has been nominal, railroads being glad to secure slag for ballasting. This, however, has been growing less each year for a number of years, and the disposal of the vast quantity of slag accumulated every day is becoming a serious problem.

THE OPEN COURT

Members of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 500 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only. All letters must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

EXCESSIVE HEAT MAY BE THE CAUSE.

To the Editor of The Herald: A learned doctor of Duluth and I are in the habit of perusing the editorial page of your paper before we proceed to the rest. My learned friend is ripe in years and against woman's suffrage; I am young, very young (in the sense of the "Blue Bird" at least) and for woman's suffrage (out of reasons to be seen farther below). Yesterday he claimed little of interest was on our favorite page. It is true the poems you bring, dear editor, are mostly imported. Your booster qualities are not extended to the industrial products of the hearts and souls of the Northwest, of which Duluth is the metropolis, or should be at least. A recent publication of a poem "made in Duluth" treating the Titanic disaster (Hecuba to us as we have our own troubles) makes me believe that there is plenty of good will on your part, and as there is a possibility that products of this kind are not as forthcoming as bushels of grain, and partly to please my friend, I am sending you a few poems which I composed when the buds were coming out (a dangerous time), and a Lorcel took her seat on the Duluth hill to watch the boats and seamen, seeking her port, break against the gabby heart heart.

The poems are lyric and are kept in the style of Rabindranath Tagore, the Bengali poet, who got the Nobel prize last year. Don't you think I am entitled to that "noble prize" of Duluth?

I know you were coming. The buds were crying it loud. The buds were twinkling through their twig-fingers like eyes of children playing: "Hide you, I'll catch you."

I know you are here. The smile of the moon is happy, holding you in his white clad arm reached from over the lake. The early Evening, Star peeps into your chamber before the curtains are drawn.

I know you'll stay. The "ill to morrow" of the setting sun was coloring the lake, where you should see it. The murmuring waves have started their love songs at your feet.

What made me so mad? The Northeast wind shouted into your ears something which put a blush on your cheeks.

The moon built a silver bridge from over the lake to your chamber window to lure you away.

The lake laid his high brow in ponderous wrinkles and when dusk came mounted the hill in a gray cloak and embraced you with his vapor.

This is what made me so mad.

Whether I love you I do not know. But the summits of the avenues of my thoughts, mounting the hill of my longing, are crowned with your picture, framed in heavenly ether. And when dazed I turn back to the lake—I must ponder over the blue of your eyes and the unknown depths of your soul.

When I see the imploringly outstretched arm of the loving Plain, kneeling before the haughty Hill, and feel his lake-hidden heart beat in vain at her feet—I must think of my love ever and ever scorning my wooing.

BOMBAY.

Duluth, June 2.

LAKE COUNTY FARM.

To the Editor of The Herald: Will you kindly allow me space for a few words descriptive of Lake county work farm and management. John Elkhardt, the superintendent, ever since the weather has been favorable has been right at the front, and has got in several acres of oats and other crops in fine shape as well as clearing quite a bit of land and improving around the farm buildings. He and his men have cleared quite a bit of stump land with the help of dynamite. They have made fences, dug ditches, cut brush and made other improvements about the place. Mr. Elkhardt and Mrs. Elkhardt are both live wires. They are workers, not dreamers. They don't talk, but do things. After the barn is built, root house and other arrangements perfected, this farm will be in good shape to make some returns to the county in profits, and I believe that under the able management of Mr.

LIFE SAVED BY ARREST

Gust Pannila Prevented From Taking Passage on Empress of Ireland.

Duluth Publishing Company Charged Embezzlement.

Luckily for himself, Gust Pannila was arrested last week at Negaunee, Mich., on a charge of embezzling funds from the Finnish-American Publishing company of this city. To this he owes his life, having purchased passage on the ill-fated steamer Empress of Ireland.

Pannila's name was on the passenger list and when the vessel sank in the St. Lawrence river shortly before dawn last Friday morning, it was reported that he had perished. He was among those drowned. However, the young man was under arrest in Negaunee at the time.

About ten days ago Pannila went to a stenographic office in Negaunee and purchased a ticket to Finland, where he had planned to visit with relatives during the summer. A few minutes later Chief of Police Newcombe arrested Pannila. It was claimed that Pannila had been employed as a collector and that he failed to turn over some of the funds in his possession. Pannila refunded the money and the case against him was dismissed. But the arrest had caused a delay and Pannila found that he would be unable to reach Quebec in time for the sailing of the Empress of Ireland. He consequently changed his plans and decided to obtain other passage.

THAW APPEAL IN SUPREME COURT

Application for Release on Bail Expected to Be Made.

Washington, June 3.—Harry K. Thaw's fight against being returned to prison at Matteawan, reached the supreme court yesterday on an appeal from the decision of Judge Aldrich of the Federal court for New Hampshire against Thaw's extradition on the demand of the New York state officials.

As soon as the case is docketed formally, probably this week, it is believed, an application will be made for Thaw's release on bail while his case is pending before the supreme court. Judge Aldrich refused to allow Thaw's release, although he stated that probably under the rules of the supreme court Thaw was entitled to immediate release, upon the refusal of the court to allow his extradition.

Justice Holmes has been assigned to the case in the New England states and opinion for Thaw's release probably will be made to him, although such application might be made to another member of the court or the entire court. Holmes has authority to grant the release with or without bail, to deny the release, or to refer the application to the entire court.

In the ordinary course, the case would not be considered by the court for nearly two years. It might be advanced on the ground of unusual importance to the state.

WATCHMAN WAS AFTER PROMOTION

Admits He Planted Dynamite and Then "Discovered" It.

Washington, June 3.—Several hundred clerks and officials fled in fright from their offices in the department of agriculture yesterday when Daniel H. Dauch, a watchman, scurried through the corridors shouting that the building was about to be destroyed by dynamite. Led by Dauch, several of the cooler-headed department officials fled to the basement, where they found four sticks of dynamite on which the fuse had been burned out.

Apparently an explosion had been averted because the fuse had been cut. Dauch, who was said to have suffered severe injuries to his head while serving as a soldier in the Philippines several years ago, was taken to a police station and subjected to rigid questioning. Later the police announced he had admitted that he himself had placed the explosive. Department officials said the watchman had intended to "discover" the dynamite before it had done harm and to win promotion for heroism. The dynamite had been placed directly beneath the office of Secretary Houston, who was out of town.

MEETING IS TURBULENT

Threats of Personal Violence Mark Gathering at the Auditorium.

Socialists "Heckle" David Goldstein After Attack on Their Teachings.

Epithet and accusation, sarcastic question and biting retort and a final threat of violence marked the meeting at the Auditorium last night when David Goldstein of Boston, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus of this city, gave an address seeking to prove that the Socialists as an organization are advocates of free love and opposed to Christianity. A crowd that almost filled the large building heard the address and representatives of both sides of the question were highly demonstrative.

The air was charged with "electricity" and ever and anon some remark of the speaker drew fire from the Socialist section of the audience. But it was after the address that the real fireworks began and for a time it looked as if part of the audience might charge the speaker and put him off the platform. The speaker closed his address with a bitter assault upon atheists and recited in detail some of the bloody scenes of the French revolution, telling how the mob had torn down the statue of the Virgin Mary and set up the statue of a prostitute and then fallen down and worshipped her as the Goddess of Reason. He also told of the persecution and murder of Christians and then stated that if atheists continued to attack the church that the church would not hesitate to use the peaceful methods in meeting these attacks. He said the church had not forgotten the persecution and bloodshed of former times.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Gifford

which was lost on most of the audience. Another questioner arose and queried if the Catholics would use the state as a means of furthering their ends. Mr. Goldstein said he did not think they would, except to suppress certain forms of literature which the Socialists were sending out opposing Christianity and advocating free love.

Still another question, this time regarding the position of the church on the Spanish question, was put to Mr. Goldstein. The latter maintained that the Spanish government was responsible for the horrors of the inquisition and that the church's motives were altogether right and praiseworthy.

Violence Threatened. About this time a man near the platform who had been putting questions to the speaker got into a verbal clash with Mr. Goldstein which nearly ended in violence. The questioner finally got up to leave the room, when Mr. Goldstein said to the audience: "Look at him; you see he has no intellectuality."

This remark caused the man to turn about, and he backed out of the room shaking his fist and promising to do justice to the speaker outside. Several of the attendants at the auditorium moved to the front to prevent violence, and a patrolman at the door got in readiness to stop an encounter.

The gist of Mr. Goldstein's lecture was to prove that the Socialists as a party were opposed to Christianity and in favor of free love. To prove his points he read from a small library of Socialist literature, picking out excerpts which he said applied to these subjects.

One thing that undoubtedly caused bitterness at the meeting is the claim made by the Socialists that Mr. Goldstein, who is a former member of that party, was ejected from their ranks. Mr. Goldstein, however, maintains that he resigned.

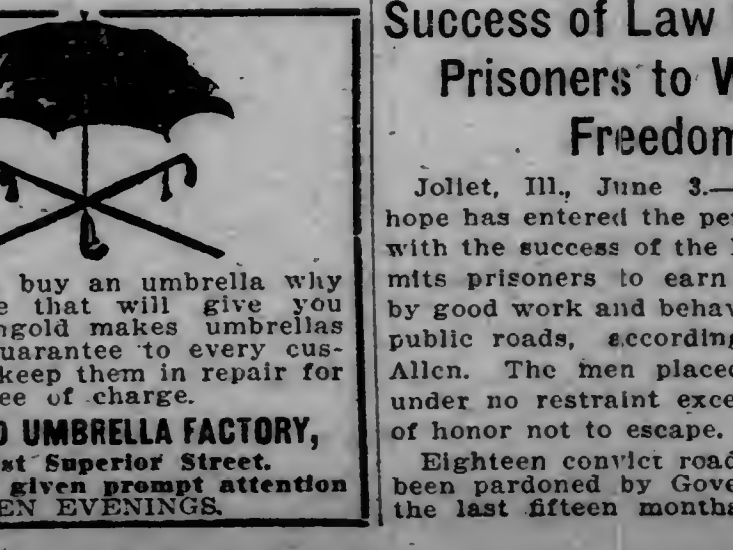

It was announced from the platform that Moses Baritz would answer Mr. Goldstein tonight on the street corner.

CUNNINGHAM PITCHES A NIFTY THREE HIT GAME

Sturgeon Lake Kid Beats
Grand Forks 3 to 2 in Ten Rounds.

Harold Bond Breaks the Tie With Slashing Single to Center.

BY BRUCE.
George Austin Cunningham held Bos Wheeler's North Dakota Demons to three stinging hits and two scores in ten lurid rounds of pastime yesterday, our side getting three runs and the game.

In the initial round our former co-worker, Muggs McGraw, pasted one to left that went for two bags. Had Collins played the ball right it would have been an out. Two of the three blows garnered during the afternoon by the visitors came in this round.
Frankie crossing the baseline when Altman singled by third.

The ancient order of leaders, O'Brien, fizzled two approaches in the third round and when the smoke of battle had lifted it was observed that the enemy had gathered its second score of the game. This introduction is penned merely by way of stating that with perfect support George Austin Cunningham, the leading citizen of Sturgeon Lake and its coming mayoral candidate, was deserving of a shut-out.

Before the start of the game several citizens of Sturgeon Lake paid their way into the grounds. The delegation occupied seats in the grandstand and after observing with wonder and admiration the head pieces of some of the ladies also present, started to depart. It was not known whether George will fall for it.

Kid Nelson Does Well.
Opposed to the salubrious slugging of George Austin Cunningham was Kid
Nelson. In the first round the kid added their toll to the total of time the kid was with Winnipeg.
Cunningham does extremely well. While our side gathered nine blows during the fray they were so well distributed throughout the matinee that it was with extreme difficulty that placed the enemy in the minority column.

In the first round, former citizen
McGraw slammed the pill to left. Mr.
Collins hurried in to it from the right on it. In the meantime the former home citizen reached second base. Messrs. Foster and Flaherty were retired, but Altman cracked one by third base and the first score of the game was in.

After Ford was killed off in the second, Collins singled touchingly in the second, Wolfe singled and while Nelson napped, both runners differed.
Collins was shugged at the plate on Dietrich's swat to Sampson, but honest and brave hearted Jeremiah Edmunds singled and Wolfe rode home.

O'Brien booted the offering of Nelson in the third. McGraw sent the runner to second by a sacrifice. O'Brien loyal leader booted the offering of Foster and Nelson attempted to throw the ball to second. O'Brien's error was stopped at the plate on Flaherty's hit to Wolfe, Foster going to third. Flaherty attempted to throw second and while he was playing tag with several members of the local staff Foster reached home with the final run of his side.

After this run the visitors did not get a hit or a runner past first. In our fourth Ford singled past coast defense No. 4, was sacrificed by Collins, went to third on Wolfe's second blow
Flaherty.

So torrid was the fling that we did not get a man by first until the seventh. In this ray, round Mr.
Wheeler leaped high in the atmosphere and pulled down a sacrifice. O'Brien rusty but of Jeremiah Edmunds, performing the feat with one hand and two feet. George Austin Cunningham singled over second and was forced by Brackett. Brackett swiped second.
O'Brien walked and Scholastic rode dove a line drive to left center that counted the winning run.

Tigers Beat White Sox.
Detroit, Mich., June 3.—By a batting rally in the sixth inning which resulted in three runs, Detroit defeated Chi-

Schalk's expense. After Detroit scored twice in the first, Keagley tied the score in the second on two hits and an error. Four hits were made by Dethe substitutes who will play the challenge. The Englishmen did not play. Lord Wimborne announced, however, that the English players would play during the international matches, and probably during practice on Thursday.

The practice of the challengers was their first appearance in competition on American soil. In the opinion of the spectators, the players did not start off with the dash and vim that marked the first efforts of the visitors last year.

The English players, however, won against a strong four of two Canadians, J. Watson Webb, a five foot man and C. Perry Beadleston, a six foot man, and Duke of Perananda, I. and Capt. Lockett.

On the English team were Capt. Tompkinson, Lord Wimborne, Capt. Barrett and J. A. Hall. The score was 24 goals to 14 in favor of the English players.

The American cup defending team, composed of La Montagne, Milburn and the Waterbury brothers, won from a strong four by a score of 10 to 4.

Purifies Blood
With Telling Effect

Gives Conscious Evidence of Its Direct Action.

S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, almost takes as it sweeps its way through the circulation. Its action is so direct that very often in some forms of skin affliction the appearance of the eruptions changes over night, the itch and redness are gone and recovery begins immediately.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutrient. That is why it regenerates the blood supply, why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating indications that cause pruritus, sore throat, weak growth, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks, and that weariness of muscle and nerve that is generally experienced as spring fever. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 534 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient Medical Department, where all who have any blood disorder or skin nature may write freely for advice and a special book of instruction. S. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores, department and general stores, but beware of all substitutes. Do not accept them.

POLARINE remains fluid at zero. POLARINE differs from all other makes of motor oils in that it furnishes perfect lubrication to friction surfaces at extremes of temperature. These essential characteristics obviate the necessity of changing oil for summer and winter use. POLARINE is composed of a mixture of kerosene, graphite and other lubricating products with unstable and poor oil for the purpose of making it fluid in winter weather.

BOXERS ARE ON THE WAY

Gibbons and Young Mahoney Are Expected in Early Thursday.

According to the message received from the officials of the Superior Athletic club, Tommy Gibbons, manager Eddy Reddy and Mike Gibbons started early today for the Head of the Lakes in an automobile and are due to arrive here sometime late today or early tomorrow.

Young Mahoney of Racine, Wis., the opponent of the younger Gibbons, is also due to reach Superior tomorrow. The tough plumber from the Wisconsin town, the same boxer who gave Eddy McGorry so rousing a battle before the Hedding law era, is reported to be in grand condition and confident of stopping Thomas before the expiration of the bout.

Mahoney has a rushing, slamming, tearing style. It is expected that he will carry the battle to Gibbons from the first going. In the matter of cleverness there is little comparison between the two men. Gibbons holds all of the advantage there. The only chance, it would appear, that Mahoney has of getting a decision is to tear right in and try to put over the fans.

Kid Billings is back from Minneapolis and is reported to be in grand shape for his battle. Those who have seen the Billings Park declare that he has improved remarkably and that he will surprise the fans by his showing.

The preliminaries of the bout will bring out some good milling. This Erle chap from St. Paul is said to be one of the fastest kids in the country and he should make a hit with the fans.

FORT WILLIAM IS STRENGTHENING TEAM.

Charles Kelly, business manager of the Fort William team, yesterday stated that Hawkins, a south-paw from the Memphis team of the Southern League, has been added to the club's roster, and that Weidell from Saratoga, N. With the acquisition of Kelly the statement of Kelly the Twines have played to 12,000 people in eight games. Baseball is taking well at the Head of the Canadian Lakes.

He was charged with failing to report a death to the health department within twenty-four hours. Dr. Hruby was said to have refused to issue a death certificate after the death of Mrs. Mamie Lyons, because relatives feared to permit a strange undertaker to care for the body.

HEALTH TALKS.

William Brady, M.D.

Reviving the Drowned

The competent Boy Scout can give the average bystander practical demonstration in the resuscitation of the apparently drowned these days.

And he doesn't subject the subject to the risk of dislocation of the ribs in the effort, either, for the Boy Scout is taught a simpler, more easily applied and far more efficient method of artificial respiration than the old-fashioned practice of working the subject's arms and pressing on the ribs.

The Process.

Such expedients as "rolling on a barrel" and inverting the victim in order to get the water out of the lungs are more spectacular than restorative. Of course, a pulmotor would be a fine thing to use if one were at hand, but meanwhile every one should know and be ready in an emergency to apply the method of artificial respiration used by Boy Scouts.

It is performed as follows: Place the subject prone on the ground or on any flat surface, that is to say "on his stomach," with the hands of his hands on the ground beside his head and his face turned to the right or left. Now kneel beside or astride his hips and press directly downward upon the lower ribs above the small of the back, by simply rocking the weight of your body forward on your thighs.

This rapid action forces air (and water if there be any) out of the subject's chest. The next movement is still easier—simply release your thighs and lean back and wait a few seconds. Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be covered personally if it is of a medical nature. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of this Herald.

WESTERGAARD HAS GRAND CHANCE, SAYS THORSON

Manager Oscar Thorson with his world's champion mat chondener in tow, reached Duluth yesterday afternoon. The gigantic Des Moines Swede looks in the greatest condition of his life and fit to give the Pole one of the greatest mat battles that the European contender has gone through with since he came to this side of the pond.

During the past week Westergaard will work four days. On Sunday the Des Moines man will simply take light work and on Monday he will rest for the big labor of the evening.

"Endurance is the chief stock of trade of Westergaard," said Manager Thorson at the St. Louis last evening. "Joss had Cutler in the third bout was called. The Pole has been beating all of the American wrestlers through his marvelous endurance.

In Westergaard Zbyzko will face the toughest wrestling of his career outside of Frank Gotch. After the match of Monday night the followers of the game here will do well to recall my words.

"Joss has one chance to win. That is to beat Zbyzko from the start. American secured a fall on the Pole and we wanted to wager $5,000 at Kansas City that Joss can defeat the Baltic man grapple. Raulo de Rouen also took a fall from Zbyzko at Montreal. Westergaard holds a victory over the gigantic Frenchman. If any American wrestler has a chance to beat the present champion of the world, that man is Westergaard.

"Not since the first contest between Gotch and Hackenschmidt, in my opinion, has any American stood so good a chance to win the championship as Westergaard. For the last month Joss has been carefully rounding into shape. Since the contest with Cutler no man has trained harder than the big Swede. He is fit, absolutely right, and his Duluth friends will see him make the battle of his life. To win means a fortune to him."

Finish Match Called For.

Promoter Tilton E. Lewis has a contract calling for a finish contest. This contract will, he asserts, be signed by the managers of the two wrestlers. The event of a foul or an accident or a wrangle interfering with the completion of the contest, not one cent of the guarantee will be paid to the wrestlers, according to the terms of the contract.

The matter of the referee will be taken outside of the arena. The referee, who is a veteran sportsman, is a thoroughly competent man. He is one of the veteran sportsmen who have been referees for years and is a thoroughly competent man. He is one of the veteran sportsmen who have been referees for years and is a thoroughly competent man.

Ed Shave of the St. Paul News and the writer of the best known sports writers of the Twin Cities and both referees of long experience, are also under consideration.

SHOT BY KANSAS "JOINT" OWNER

Assistant Attorney General Codding Wounded at Leavenworth.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 3.—J. K. Codding, former warden of the state penitentiary at Lansing, Kan., and at present an assistant attorney general in charge of the prosecution of illegal liquor sales, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday by Jake Weisman, an alleged "joint" owner.

The bullet struck Mr. Codding in the right side, ranging upward. Physicians said it probably would not prove fatal. Weisman is under arrest.

The shooting followed a raid on a saloon here by Mr. Codding and Thomas Larkin, a deputy sheriff. After the raid Weisman said he was ill and called a doctor who was in a motor car, told him to accompany him to Leavenworth and get medical treatment. Weisman came down to the road and stepped on to the running board of the machine and, according to witnesses, drew a revolver and fired twice at the assistant attorney general.

The first bullet passed over Mr. Codding's head. Weisman had been arrested many times for violating the prohibitory law. Mr. Codding is widely known as a temperance advocate. He served four years as warden of the penitentiary and was a leader in a crusade to reform prisoners throughout the country. He is 53 years old. After leaving the warden's office he was appointed an assistant attorney general to engineer the enforcement of the prohibitory law. He had charge of much of the active work of the machine and made many enemies among them.

Gurdit Singh will go back to India, determined to stir up his countrymen there concerning the alleged indignities to which British subjects who were still in detention in the west coast of Canada. He declares his hope of being able to stir up serious trouble for the British empire in India.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

A number of cities are adopting the city manager plan of government. The latest thing in the city manager plan is the charter providing for this form of government in St. Louis, Mo. This charter is very brief and was made possible by the ordinances made by the council of the city, and reads as follows:

"1. That there be appointed by the two branches of the council in joint session as soon as possible after the adoption of this resolution, and thereafter annually at the regular election of city officers in July of each year, an officer to be known and designated as 'General Manager.'

"2. The general manager (except in the case of the first appointment under this resolution, which shall be until the next election of city officers in July 1908), shall hold office for the term of one year and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified in his place.

"3. The general manager shall be paid an annual salary of $10,000, and he shall have the right to employ one clerk at a salary of $1,000 per annum, to be paid by the city. The bullet struck Mr. Codding in the right side, ranging upward. Physicians said it probably would not prove fatal. Weisman is under arrest.

"4. The general manager shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and shall have entire charge and control of all the executive work of the city in its various departments, and have entire charge and control of the heads of departments and employees of the city. He shall make all contracts for labor and supplies and in general perform all of the administrative and executive work now performed by the council.

SALUTE WAS SHORT: GUNNER IS IN "BRIG."

Annapolis, Md., June 3.—Because he failed to count correctly, or in some manner missed the number of guns being fired when Secretary of the Navy Daniels was a visitor at Annapolis on last Saturday, a chief gunner's mate at the naval academy is in the "brig" of the station ship Reina Mercedes. According to the navy, the gunner's mate, whose name is being withheld, had charge of the firing of the salute in honor of the arrival of the secretary of the navy, who came to witness the army-navy baseball game. Naval regulations call for nineteen guns to comprise the salute to cabinet officers. The salute fired on Saturday was one gun short.

Harper's Magazine: Mr. Cooke was a traveling man and was slightly injured in a railroad accident.

One of the officials of the road went to his home to break the news gently to Mrs. Cooke.

"Madam," he began, "the calm! Your husband has met with a slight—that is to say, one of the drive wheels of a passenger locomotive struck him on the cheek and—"

"Well, sir," interrupted the woman, "you needn't come around here trying to collect any damages of me. You won't get a cent! If you can't keep its property out of danger I'll have to take the consequences. You should have your engines insured."

One Thousand Present. Owing to the late arrival of the Soo Line special bringing 150 additional delegates, the convention did not assemble this morning until 10:30. When more than a thousand persons were present at the time the gathering opened, and the general attendance of the session is close to 1,000.

When the men met at the Auditorium this morning, the woman's auxiliary met for a forenoon session at the high school with Miss Anna Shelland of International Falls presiding. Mrs. F. C. Cornell of Big Falls acting as secretary, and Mrs. Charles A. Pitkin of Thief River Falls as treasurer.

At the men's meeting at the Auditorium this morning, D. A. Willard, development agent of the Northern Pacific, declared that no part of the country was attracting more attention from immigrants than Northern Minnesota, and that now one of the most important parts of development work here is to get the farmers, old and new, to understand the needs and requirements for successful farming in this territory. He was emphatic in his prophecy for great achievements in the farming line for Northern Minnesota.

Bert Hall, the Chicago crop expert, was unable to attend his presentation, the program was filled by T. A. Hovstad, development agent of the Soo Line, who urged the organization to meet the demands of the country life.

F. H. Crane, agricultural extension agent of the Northern, made a plea for better and more sanitary farm improvements.

The program this afternoon is being carried out as originally announced, covered slides and strong northern breezes have cooled the heated atmosphere of yesterday, much to the delight of the delegates.

Committees Named. Just before adjournment at noon the following committees were named: Resolutions, F. A. Wilson, of Bemidji; Benton, J. M. Thien, of Bemidji; Cass, M. N. Koll, of Clearwater; Martin, T. J., of Clearwater.

FIGHTING IN COAL REGION

West Virginia Deputies Are Sent to Investigate Shooting.

Houses Are Attacked With High-Power Rifles From Hill.

Colliers, W. Va., June 4.—In response to a telegram from Governor Hatfield, calling on him to preserve the peace in Brooke county, Sheriff Patterson today sent six deputies here to investigate the firing on four houses occupied by strike-breakers employed by the West Virginia & Pittsburgh Coal company.

Deputies were that men in the houses answered the shots, but no one had been hurt. The attacking party, it was stated, lay on a hill fully half a mile from the village and used high power rifles.

R. Z. Vaughn, superintendent of the local drive mine, said today he had asked the governor for military protection after he had been fired on from ambush late yesterday. The paymaster, he said, had also been attacked.

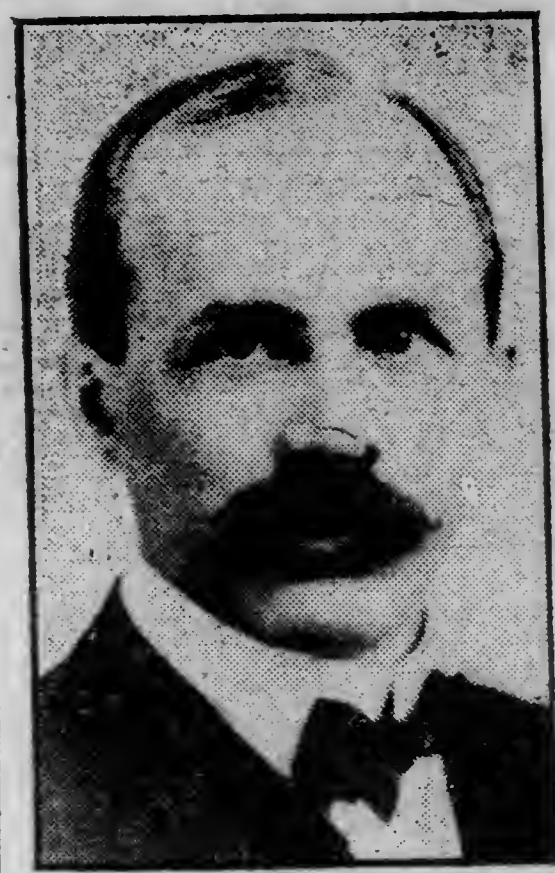

No Trouble at Colliers. Striking miners and their friends made no demonstration at Colliers during last night, according to reports received at the office of Sheriff George Patterson here early today.

A number of suits to eject striking miners and their families from houses of the West Virginia & Pittsburgh Coal company were listed for trial in the county court here this week, but they were postponed because of the large number of criminal cases. It was also thought that some of the strikers would follow the example of their counterparts and leave the town, it now being estimated that no more than a dozen families of the original strikers remain.

Deputies from the mines a month ago and the sheriff said he had been called upon to deal with no serious trouble at Colliers since then.

There are, however, about 200 miners in other parts of the county on strike and during the past few days disorder has broken out in several places. The most serious was at the La Belle mine near here, where a Russian miner was so badly beaten that it was feared he would die. Much of the criminal business before the county court is said to have grown out of the strike.

McGOVERN IS CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATORSHIP

FRANCIS E. MCGOVERN, Governor of Wisconsin.

ENTERS RACE FOR SENATOR

Governor McGovern of Wisconsin Candidate for Republican Nomination.

Will Make His Fight Mainly on the Tariff Issue.

Madison, Wis., June 4.—Governor Francis E. McGovern today made formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator. He will make his fight mainly on the tariff issue.

The governor condemns the Underwood tariff act, which he maintains would injure industry and agriculture in Wisconsin, and declares himself in favor of a tariff law drawn by experts to meet the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad.

The governor also declares that the reduction of the cost of living is a national as well as a state issue.

The announcement of Governor McGovern means a sharp struggle in the primaries. The other candidate for the nomination is Thomas Morris of La Crosse, lieutenant governor. Both are running as Progressives, but Morris belongs to the La Follette branch of the Progressive party.

Both McGovern and Morris are Democrats. The governor's platform.

The following is the governor's statement announcing his candidacy for senator:

"It has been so generally assumed that I should become a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator this year, that it is almost unnecessary for me to say so myself. However, I feel that a definite statement is in order."

MOTORCYCLE RUNS INTO SPECTATORS

Two Meet Death and Ten Others Are Seriously Injured.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—A spectator, believed to be Charles F. Marzoli, was killed and ten other persons were seriously injured last night when a motorcycle, ridden by Arthur Armstrong of New York, became unmanageable at the Pittsburg motordrome and crashed through the railing into the crowd.

Armstrong's back, right leg and left arm were broken. His condition is critical. Benjamin Koroban, a spectator, died last night. His skull was fractured. The others injured, three of them women, sustained broken bones, cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred in the final lap of the nine-mile race when Armstrong was running his machine at a terrific speed.

Riding with Armstrong in the race were Mack Seliga of Cleveland and W. H. Vanderberry of Philadelphia. The riders were closely bunched with Armstrong in the rear.

Yorker put on an extra spur of speed and was passing Vanderberry when the latter swerved up the narrow, his front wheel touching that of Armstrong's machine. Armstrong suddenly shot up the saucer, broke through the wire netting and plunged into the spectators.

As the machine lay among several injured, the wheels whirling around, the rear wheel caught a rise in the floor and then motorcycle was thrown into another portion of the crowd. A panic seized the large audience and scores of persons were knocked down and trampled in the rush for the exits.

Several persons were injured in the crash, but no one was killed.

The race was suspended for several days.

MILITANCY IS PROBLEM

England Perplexed How to Deal With the Growing Menace.

Cost for Protection and Actual Damage Done Are Enormous.

London, June 4.—How to deal with the growing menace of the militant suffragette agitation is becoming a problem of tremendous import, not only for the government, but for the community at large. All efforts of their well wishers to persuade the militants that they are retarding instead of advancing the cause have been in vain; they are convinced that nothing but force will achieve their aims and they have been applying themselves with renewed vigor to outrages.

Cost Becoming Enormous. Yesterday's list included the horse-whipping of the deputy governor and medical officer of Holloway jail, the partial destruction of two valuable pictures, an assault upon two editors, and the setting fire to a house at Belfast. And this takes no account of the daily petty annoyances in the shape of window breaking, the upsetting of political meetings, disturbances in churches and at theatricals and concert performances.

The mere cost to the community for police and other protection against threatened outrages is becoming enormous, to say nothing of the actual damage done.

Prison, since the adoption of the hunger and thirst strike, has no longer been a refuge for the militants and judicial proceedings have been made almost impossible.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst now occupies a house overlooking Buckingham palace, and the force of police within the palace grounds has been increased. The king has caused his daily morning carter in Hyde park on account of the militant activity.

Police have received information of a suffragette plot against the safety of Prince Henry, the king's third son, who is now at Eton, and Scotland Yard has sent special detectives to Eton to guard the prince.

Sylvia Makes Threat. London, June 4.—I will lie on the roof of the house of commons without food or water until Asquith consents to receive a deputation.

This threat was uttered by Sylvia Pankhurst at a meeting at Limehouse last night, and she declared she would carry it into effect should the suffragettes fail in their endeavor to see the prime minister on June 10.

The other speeches at the same meeting breathed defiance to the Liberal government, which was denounced as alone responsible for militancy, and suggestions of wholesale incendiarism were made.

CIRCUS CARS ARE THROWN OFF TRACK

Eight of Ringling Bros. Employees Are Injured Severely.

Saginaw, Mich., June 4.—Eight employees of Ringling Bros. circus were injured severely when two sleepers and a flatcar of the first section of the circus trains, en route from Flint to Port Huron over the Pere Marquette railroad, were thrown from the track at Hoyt Junction, just east of Saginaw shortly before midnight last night. It is said the accident was caused by the circusmen throwing a switch before all the cars had passed. The eight men were brought to hospital here. All of the injured are expected to recover.

ONLY RUBBER STAMP DIRECTORS ON BOARD OF NEW HAVEN ROAD

Did Not Investigate Value of Billard Company's Securities.

Skinner Says Railroad Has Right to Create Public Sentiment.

Acknowledges He Knew of the "Prayer From the Hills."

Washington, June 4.—William Skinner, a director of the New Haven railroad, continued his testimony today at the interstate commerce commission's inquiry into the railroad's financial affairs. Lewis Cass Ledyard and George F. Baker, directors, and Lawrence Minot, a former director, were present waiting to testify. Mr. Ledyard will testify as a voluntary witness.

"Why did the directors make a report to the stockholders to the effect that the New Haven held marketable securities the value of which was worth $10,400,000 when they were in reality, of little value," asked Chief Counsel Folk of Mr. Skinner.

"I took the word of the accounting department of the road," he replied. "No Auditing Committee."

"Have you no auditing committee on the board?"

"No, but we employ certified accountants."

"Do you not know that the accountants are not certified?"

SHAMROCK IV IS STRETCHING SAILS

Lipton's New Challenger for the America's Cup Being Tested.

Portsmouth, Eng., June 4.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, went out today for her first sail-stretching. She was accompanied by Shamrock III.

The wind was fluky and inadequate to test the capabilities of the challenger. Under her huge mainsail and sleep foresail, she maneuvered handily, however. The towering mast of the new yacht dwarfed that of the old Shamrock.

Sir Thomas Lipton was on the challenger, together with Charles E. Nicholson, designer, and William P. Burton, the amateur yachtsman, who is to command the Shamrock IV during the cup races in American waters.

Need $900,000 for Victims of Empress. Liverpool, June 4.—In order to provide adequate relief for the dependents of those lost through the sinking of the Empress of Ireland, $900,000 is needed, of which $400,000 should be allotted to the families of the crew. This is the estimate given to the lord mayor of Liverpool by Duncan Fraser, the captain of the vessel connected with the Titanic fund.

CARRANZA NOW LOOMS AS CRUX IN MEXICAN SITUATION

Immediate Hope of Diplomacy Ending War Hangs on Message.

Prospects of Attempted Blockade of Tampico By Huerta's Gunboats.

Officials Decline to Say What United States Would Do.

Washington, June 4.—Carranza loomed today as the crux in the mediation situation. Upon his message to the South American envoys hung the immediate hope of diplomatic endeavor to bring order out of war's chaos in the Southern republic.

The note was expected definitely to determine whether mediation was to be confined to the dispute between Huerta and the United States, or to include the entire problem of Mexico's president, the Constitutionalists represented at the Niagara conference. Carranza at Durango was in telegraphic communication with his agents here until late in the night.

Any errors for the night, they transmitted the note to the mediators which had been written in reply to his message expressing "astonishment" that the Niagara proceedings had been started without Constitutional participation. It was believed Carranza's answer would not be delayed.

Blockade of Tampico. Prospects of an attempted blockade of Tampico by Huerta's gunboats took the position of chief interest in Mexican affairs here today and administration officials, instead of the latest development only in news dispatches, declined to indicate their policy, although they informed Admirals Bauger and Mayo of the situation.

It was considered significant, however, that Carranza's answer would not be delayed.

COLIMA IN HANDS OF GEN. ALAMILLO

Capital of State Is Taken By the Constitutionals.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., June 3, via Wireless to San Diego, Cal., June 4.—Colima, capital of the state of that name and one of the most important cities in Southwestern Mexico, has fallen into the hands of the Constitutionalists under Gen. Alamillo, former governor of Colima. According to official information furnished Admiral Howard late today by a Constitutionalist officer.

COUNTRY IS WITH REBELS

Capt. Burnside Finds Practically All Mexico With the Revolution.

Estimates Huerta's Forces, Including Police and Employees at 60,000.

Vera Cruz, Mex., June 4.—Capt. W. A. Burnside, formerly military attaché at Mexico City and now intelligence officer of Brig. Gen. Funston's force, has submitted a memorandum on the strength and disposition of Huerta's troops and summarizing the territorial division between the Federalists and the Constitutionals. He estimates the total number of Huerta's forces, including police, students and civil service employees, at 60,000.

The memorandum says that the estimates are liberal, although the newspapers controlled by the Huerta administration are claiming considerably more.

As to the Constitutionals, the note says: "Practically the entire country is in sympathy with the revolution and the pacified condition in many places is due to intimidation or indifference. For the purpose of robbery and the appropriation of property, probably 150,000 armed men claim to be revolutionaries. However, the armed revolutionaries, having an organization and being actually under fair control of their leaders, are estimated at about 70,000."

The Huerta Forces. Of the Huerta forces, the report says that about 8,000 are scattered along the railroads between Vera Cruz and the capital, and that the garrison at Mexico City numbers 13,000, including students and government employees. The estimate is made of only 3,000 regulars in the capital.

The strongest Federal garrisons, 6,000 each, are at San Luis Potosi and Aguas Calientes, with 5,000 at Guaymas. Referring to the situation at Tampico and Tuxpan, now in Constitutional hands, the memorandum states that the officers there are deceiving the men in the ranks regarding Vera Cruz, declaring that that city is held by the followers of Carranza. To the direct question as to whether this was being done, the rebels' officers replied: "Yes. At the present time it is not convenient to let the men know that Vera Cruz is in the hands of the Americans."

NEW TRIALS TO TWO ARE UPHELD

Tveitmoe and Houlihan
May Not Be Tried Again.

Chicago, June 4.—The judgment of the United States circuit court of appeals in granting new trials to Olof A. Tveitmoe of San Francisco and Richard Houlihan of Chicago, in the dynamite cases, was affirmed by that court yesterday in an opinion handed down by Judge Seaman.

The court reversed itself in granting a new trial to William Bernhardt of Cincinnati. The government's contention that the court erred in granting Bernhardt a new trial was upheld by the court, and the sentence of one year imposed by the lower court must be served, according to the opinion.

The decision was on the government's petition for a rehearing on the granting of new trials to the three men, argued here several weeks ago. At that time twenty-one other defendants were given till June 5 to report at Leavenworth prison to begin serving their sentences. This date was deferred until June 25, by order of the court last Monday, to give President Wilson time to consider evidence in connection with petitions for pardons for the convicted men.

The court took the arguments as to Houlihan, Tveitmoe and Bernhardt under advisement, and as a result reversed themselves in Bernhardt's case. Tveitmoe was sentenced to six years imprisonment, and Houlihan to three years by the verdict in the lower court at Indianapolis. Unless the government unearths new evidence against them, it is said that they will probably not be tried again.

EVERYBODY FIGHTS EXCEPT DEMOCRATS

Even Progressives Now Tumble in for a Fracas; Coe Attacks Sageng and Lee; Governor Appeals to Appointees, Judges and All; Five Minnesota Alumni Start Rally for Jake Preus; Rines' Growing Strength Scars Machine; Fighting Candidates Withhold Usual Promises of Support of Opponents in Case They Win.

The Republican machine forces are overlooking none of the cards in an effort to be retained in power, and to such extent are they going that it is becoming laughable. For instance the governor has just written a very significant letter to his appointees, including district judges whom he has named. Of course he does not tell them in so many words to work for him but reading between the lines one finds quite visible to the naked eye the stirring words "get busy." The Minneapolis Journal has just published a fac-simile of one of these letters, signed by the governor, and it reads as follows:

"Undoubtedly you are aware of the fact that the opposition in the coming campaign is endeavoring to succeed largely by abuse, slander and vilification of myself and the officers that I have appointed, as well as the state itself. I do not believe that the people of this state will approve that kind of a campaign.

However, since the opposition has seen fit to make this wholesale indictment of everything directly or indirectly connected with the administration, I think it is my duty to protect ourselves, as well as the good name of the state, and to emphatically resent such campaign tactics.

No governor has ever been so fortunate in securing efficient and competent officials and there never was a time when the appointive officers of every department were so free from any charge of incompetency or misconduct as now. It is a well known fact that Minnesota is one of the leading states of the Union in the enactment and enforcement, as well as interpretation of wholesome progressive legislation, and in the educational, industrial and commercial development of the state.

As one of the appointees under my administration, whose record of public service stands unquestioned, will you not kindly give this matter very serious consideration, and enlist your friends in a cause that represents your good name as well as the integrity of our state.

Usually in every primary campaign the assurance of the voters that if beaten they will take their defeat like good men and support the winner is repeated so often that it becomes a bore. After listening with wide open ears and more or less alert mentality, it must be admitted that there is a dearth of that spirit in this year. Not once has it been uttered by any candidate—not once—think of that! In view of the fact that the only really active campaigning is going on in the Republican party and neither Governor Eberhart nor his opponent, W. E. Lee, have said that they will support the other in case of victory of the opponent in the primaries, it would indicate that conditions within the once grand old party are anything but amiable. It has been frequently predicted that after the primaries are over, there will be the worst kind of a split in the Republican ranks, and that the defeated side will go off the reservation in a body. The attitude of the two principals in the contest would indicate that such a prediction is based on sound grounds.

Five alumni of the University of Minnesota have started a campaign among other alumni in the state for "Jake" Preus, candidate for state auditor. Mr. Preus being an alumnus of the state law school. The circular letter being sent out to all alumni is signed by Joseph Chapman, Jr., Louis L. "Red" Frankel, and Erle O. Hagen, all of Minneapolis. The circular is in part:

"The state auditor has general supervision of the state school funds and the office is of more than local importance to the alumni. In order to encourage him in his candidacy for state auditor, we would suggest that you write Mr. Preus direct at the state capitol."

It is probably a fact that "Jake" needs the encouragement suggested, for the reason that the way Henry Rines' strength is growing is becoming alarming to the machine, for they want the state auditorship as much as they do the governorship.

The five alumni sending out this literature reminds one of the well-known story of the three tailors of Tooworn street who petitioned parliament for something or other and began their petition with the now historical words, "We, the people of Great Britain."

The St. Louis county Eberhart committee has opened headquarters at 319 Alworth building and is busily sending out campaign literature and letters to the voters in this county, boosting the governor for a renomination. H. J. Mullin is chairman, Guy A. Eason is secretary and E. P. Towne is treasurer. Fred B. Myers of Blwabik is looking after the campaign in that vicinity and Dr. Wislock has charge at Hibbing. Others will be appointed in the various range towns.

Now the Progressives have started something from their camp. W. T. Coe of Minneapolis, who figured for some time on running for congress as a Progressive in the new Tenth district, is out in an attack on Senator Ole Sageng of Ottelburg county.

That the senator is a political hypocrite because, while the senator is now supporting the governor, he did not take that position, but the other day, when he was considering the acceptance of the Progressive nomination for governor, written him by the senator, at a luncheon of the Progressive club in Minneapolis the other day. When the Progressive platform was submitted to Sageng, Mr. Coe said, the senator crossed out the paragraph which condemned the reckless extravagances in state government, and in his letter to Mr. Coe said:

"The last legislature appropriated much money, it is true. But it was not extravagant. In fact, it made better use of the people's money than any session of which I have been a member."

Senator Sageng is now supporting Mr. Lee, and to further point out the Ottertail statesman's inconsistency, Mr. Coe read from a letter this:

"In my opinion neither Lee nor Hammond rate very high as Progressive leaders."

And in addition to this, said Mr. Coe, the senator wrote that Lee's platform was a worthless document.

Marquette, Mich., June 4.—Isaac Tuntori, brother-in-law of Matt Lammi, who was supposed to have been drowned in the loss of the ill-fated Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence river, has received word from Mr. Lammi that after the ship had been rammed he plunged into the water and struck out for shore and made it. He is now in Quebec.

Lammi was formerly employed as a carpenter at Chatham. His brother-in-law was a clerk in the store of C. C. Brown at that place. Lammi had started on a trip back to Finland to be married. He had taken passage on the doomed steamer, but despite the fact that the boat has gone to the bottom his plans have not been thwarted. Undaunted, he has already taken passage on a White Star liner and will again brave the dangers of the deep to join his fiancée in his native land. Lammi was not a resident of Marquette, as was at first announced, but was merely listed from here on the passenger roll of the boat.

SEEK TRANSFER OF COURT VERDICT.

On Oct. 16, 1912, a district court jury awarded the Interstate Dredge & Dock company a verdict for $5,125.75 against the Empire State Surety company. Since that time the Interstate Dredge & Dock company has changed its name to the Interstate Construction company, the surety company has gone into the hands of a receiver and the judgment is still unsatisfied.

Today in district court an order was signed setting a date in July for a hearing on an order to show cause directing Fred G. Dunham, appointed by the New York state insurance department as liquidator for the firm and L. B. Bryant, receiver of the assets of the liquidated firm, to appear and show cause, if any there be, why they should not be substituted in place of the surety company as defendants and the judgment made binding against them.

HARD GALE HITS DULUTH

Fifty-One-Mile Wind Does Great Damage to Shade Trees.

Steamer Curtis Runs Aground Without Damage; Storm Not Over.

A wind and rain storm that sounded worse than it really was, broke in Duluth during the early morning hours, and caused householders to get out of bed to shut the windows. The worst part of the storm took place between 1 and 5 this morning, but the greatest velocity of the wind, Weather Forecaster Richardson says, was fifty-one miles an hour and that for only a short period. Several serious have occurred this spring that were worse.

No great damage to shipping has been heard of, the storm—at its highest point—was brief, and the larger boats, the kind that would be on their way at night, could well withstand it. The wind was confined almost wholly to the western end of Lake Superior, and is therefore classed as local.

The rainfall was light, being only 1.10 of an inch.

Gale is a Twister. Probably the worst damage was done to the shade trees, which were badly twisted and broken. Many of the limbs were torn off, and in several places the branches were carried by the wind into the streets or thrown across the sidewalks.

The severity of this damage was due to the fact that the gale was a twister, which added materially to its effectiveness.

The steamer C. F. Curtis, a lumber vessel, ran aground near the Canadian Pacific dock early this morning during the dense fog and high wind. She was released by the tug Minnesota without having sustained any serious damage. The boat was bound down the channel.

All Navigation Handicapped. All navigation at the head of the Lakes was handicapped by the storm last night and during the early morning. The wind, however, died down somewhat during the forenoon and shortly after noon was blowing thirty miles an hour.

Small craft warnings have been sent out over the upper lake region. According to Local Forecaster H. W. Richardson the storm, with showers and high winds, may be expected today, tonight and tomorrow. Sudden heavy blows may be looked for at any time.

Shipments from the Head of the Lakes were unusually light today. There were few arrivals and still fewer departures of vessels. This was undoubtedly due partly to the storm, but poor demand for various commodities was a big factor.

Little ore is being loaded at the docks, and most of the attention is being turned to the stone, lime, lumber and merchandise docks. Considerable cargo is being brought in, but the amount is far below normal.

Grain is being taken out steadily in bag lots, but few big cargoes are being handled. The stocks at the head of the Lakes are now reduced to a few big vessels could carry all the grain from here in a few days.

The steamer John C. Carr cleared yesterday afternoon with 150,000 bushels of bonded barley and the W. K. Bixby cleared last night with a large cargo of spring and durum wheat. Local exporters report a good demand for wheat to be shipped to the seaboard.

Local Marine Men Doubt Genuineness of Message From Steamer Smith.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 4.—From a crumpled piece of paper, which was found on the deck of the steamer Smith, which left Marquette in the terrific storm of last November and never was heard from again.

The paper was picked up in a bottle by surfmen at the Vermillion life-saving station as they patrolled the beach near Vermillion point. It reads as follows:

Railroads

NORTHWESTERN ROADS SHOW GOOD EARNINGS.

According to the latest returns, earnings of railroads operating in the Northwest are showing substantial improvement. Should nothing happen to disturb the present crop prospects, officials of all the lines predict expansion of traffic from now on.

W. P. Kenney, vice president of the Great Northern, says that he looks for an enormous traffic as soon as the grain is ready to move. The management of the Great Northern is equally optimistic and that system is reported to be already taking steps to conserve cars for the grain.

The Northern Pacific's net earnings for the year were reported at $1,370,231, an increase of $102,570 over last year.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul reported a net operating income for April of $1,784,275, a gain of $113,280 over the same period last year.

SOO ROAD IS FINED For Failure to Operate Four Miles of Its Track.

Stillwater, Minn., June 4.—Judge E. H. Stuber has filed an order in the office of the clerk of the district court in the case of the state against the Soo Line and the Wisconsin Central railway. A penalty of $4,000 with costs is imposed upon the railway for failure to operate trains regularly upon a line of track a distance of four miles between Four Lakes and the Duluth junction.

It is noted in the order that the railway tore up about four miles of track on the line between North St. Paul and New Richmond in the fall of 1910 without permission having been obtained from the state railway commission. Upon a protest in the matter the railway relined the track and operated trains until the state railway commission granted permission to make the change.

Pere Marquette Changes. Detroit, Mich., June 4.—William A. Garrett, executive officer and head of the administrative department of the Pere Marquette railroad, was relieved of his duties here today by the receivers, Garrett was brought here by the Pere Marquette by Samuel M. Felton, one of the Pere Marquette receivers, who resigned today. His personal staff, including assistant, secretary and clerk, also were dismissed. General Manager Frank A. Brown was chosen chief executive officer under the receivership.

NOTICE! All members of Trinity Lodge, U. D. F. & M. S. are requested to meet at the hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, at 2:30 p. m., Friday, June 5, 1914, for the purpose of electing officers. C. E. LOUGHEEN, W. M. R. E. WHEELER, Sec.

FOUR DAMAGE SUITS HEARD

Four damage suits bought against the Trout Lumber company by Vermilion lake homesteaders, which have been tried jointly in Judge Cant's division of the district court will go to the jury this afternoon. Four separate verdicts will be returned.

The homesteaders claim that their meadows were flooded and their crops destroyed by reason of the fact that a dam is being operated at the head of Vermilion lake by the defendant lumber company.

Joseph Bracco is suing for $1,362 damages, Ole Gruber, $900; Alfred Wadman, $700 and John Aronson, $400.

HUERTA STRONGER IN HIS POSITION

Dictator's Attitude as to Mediation Is Not Changed.

Washington, June 4.—One of the foreign ministers in Mexico City advised the embassy of his country here today that Huerta regarded receipt of the recently landed cargoes of arms as strengthening his position with the Constitutionalists, but that it had not changed the dictator's attitude toward mediation.

The Spanish minister in Mexico City advised Mr. Riano, the Spanish ambassador here, that the Constitutionalists were continuing to exact forced loans from Spaniards, and in some cases were holding Spaniards for ransom and reporting the captives held by brigands.

Rafael Zubaran, Gen. Carranza's representative here, said the Constitutionalists chief received the latest communication of the Niagara mediators and a report of the conference last night between John Lind, Juan Uruqui and other Constitutional counsel here, but that no reply was expected for a day or so.

The Big Wash Goods Sale Continues Tomorrow—Come

Green Bay, Wis., June 4.—Damage that will amount to many thousands of dollars was done by rain and an electrical storm in Green Bay last night and today. Scores of families were driven from their homes when the water rushed in, and were saved only by efforts on the part of friends.

Other families were held prisoners in their homes owing to high water. The electric power lines were put out of commission. The hundred telephones were disabled.

The rain in less than twenty-four hours amounted to 4.32 inches.

Trains Blocked by Washouts. Appleton, Wis., June 4.—More rain has fallen in the last twenty-four hours than during the entire month of May. The rainfall yesterday and last night amounted to four inches, while in May it was 3.69 inches.

As a result, trains are blocked on account of washouts. Green Bay traction cars are not running for the same reason. Grain fields are flooded and culverts are washed out. The Fox river is eighteen inches higher than it was yesterday, and while the ground is so soaked that it will not take another drop, more rain is in sight. Trains were compelled to detour on account of washouts. There is also a washout on the Green Bay & Western between Seymour and Queen Landing.

KING AND QUEEN ARE DINED BY WILLARD.

Madrid, June 4.—Col. Joseph E. Willard, United States ambassador, and Mrs. Willard and King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain as their guests at luncheon at the American embassy in Madrid, according to the British and German ambassadors also were guests.

A brilliant reception followed, which was attended by the members of the diplomatic corps and many persons prominent in the society of the Spaniards.

Barron Pair Drown. Barron, Wis., June 4.—Charles Swan, who was a passenger on the ill-fated Empress of Ireland is safe with a brother in Montreal, according to a dispatch to his wife here. ### The Pleasure of Eating—

Yes—but far more important is the effect of food on body and brain.

Grape-Nuts

is not only a delightfully appetizing food, but is remarkably rich in nutritive values.

Made from whole wheat and barley, Grape-Nuts retains all the nutrition of these grains, including the mineral salts—phosphate of potash, etc.—so necessary for growth and repair of delicate brain and nerve tissues, but which are so often lacking in ordinary food.

Ready to eat from the package, with cream or milk and a sprinkle of sugar—

A ration of Grape-Nuts along with other food helps wonderfully to provide a well-balanced dietary.

Human's Realm

The opening party at the boat club on Saturday night marks the beginning of the season's social activities at Duluth's popular summer rendezvous. The equipment of boats, canoes and sail boats has been added to for the coming season and put in perfect condition for use at the time of the formal opening of the club. While the cafe service at the main house of the boat club will not start until Saturday, June 13, the present large attendance at Duluth's popular rendezvous and the Spirit Lake branch, indicates that the more important part of the club's activities will be in full swing during the coming week-end, as far as the interest of the members is concerned.

Although the new concrete paving on Minnesota avenue to the south of Park Point, is now under construction, the avenue on the west side of the car track is still open for traffic, and automobile owners who plan to attend the opening party can take their machines to the main house by traversing the west side of Minnesota avenue.

The paving of Minnesota avenue as far as Twelfth street on Park Point, which will prove such a boon to Park Pointers, is also being heartily welcomed by boat club members, especially automobile owners. The foundation construction of this paving on the east side of Minnesota avenue has been about completed and the pouring of concrete on the east side of the street will begin before the end of this week. This portion of the concrete paving will be allowed to settle and thoroughly set before any work is started on the paving of the west side of Minnesota avenue in this way the paving operations will be carried on without any interruption of traffic and it will be possible at all times for automobile owners to take their cars down Minnesota avenue and to the main house of the Duluth boat club.

The club dances this year promise to be more popular than ever.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

Women of Episcopal Church May Organize to Extend Its Influence—Reception at Bishop's Residence.

Mrs. James D. Morrison, wife of Bishop Morrison, who is president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions in the Duluth diocese, will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers this afternoon at the Trinity pro-cathedral. Mrs. Morrison will suggest the establishment of an extension department in her annual address to the members. This department will begin immediately its campaign throughout the diocese and also begin an organization campaign among the churches.

In addition to the extension feature, Mrs. Morrison will urge the members to ally the local auxiliary with the provincial organization that has recently been projected and which is expected to be consummated at a meeting of that organization in Minneapolis this afternoon. Mrs. Morrison proposes to send delegates to Minneapolis and there aid in organizing a synod similar to the one in force for the male members of the diocese.

Mrs. Morrison will read the proposed constitution to the delegates and select five delegates to represent the Duluth diocese at the Minneapolis gathering next fall.

In addition to the two important matters, the regular routine business of the auxiliary will be taken up at the annual meeting this afternoon. Officers for the ensuing year, Mrs. Morrison is president and Mrs. J. H. Brookline is secretary.

There are about seventy-five members of the auxiliary present for the gathering this afternoon. Enrolled in the organization are about 160 women from the churches in the Duluth diocese.

This will conclude the work of all the members of the church, the diocese proper having finished its business yesterday afternoon. This evening all the delegates will be given from 5 to 10 o'clock this evening at the bishop's residence, 2102 East Superior street.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Aged Married Couples Should Forget Trifles.

Two people who have contrived to live together for forty years ought not have any difficulty in rounding out their remaining years in double happiness. At least not on the score of being unable to tolerate one another's shortcomings or of adapting themselves to the circumstances of life with each other. One ought to be very well acquainted with partner after forty years.

A couple who have lived together for more than forty years have separated after amicably dividing their property. Not only have they separated, but they have picked up their possessions and put a good bit of territory between themselves. They are silent as to their differences and as to their reasons for pulling up stakes and setting far apart at a time of life when most married folk are making their positions as secure as may be.

PLANS FOR MARRIAGE OF KERMIT ROOSEVELT MADE

When the minister of state learned that the ambassador desired to observe the Spanish law in this respect, he suggested the justice should go to the American embassy; but as the embassy is beyond the legal control of the magistrate, being technically United States territory, the minister of state, who is the magistrate's own residence where the ceremony will take place.

Witnesses to Marriage.
The civil witnesses will include Eduardo Dato, the Spanish premier; the marquis of San Juan de Puerto Rico, minister of state; Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador in Paris, and Roosevelt, who will officiate as the officiant. The religious service will take place at noon the next day in the chapel of the British embassy.

The bride's dress will be of ivory satin and tulle with a court train. She will wear orange blossoms arranged with old lace and a long veil of tulle and lace. ### TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Madame X."

Amusement Notes.

The Baldwin Players at the Lyceum theater have established themselves in the hearts of the theater-goers of Duluth by their magnificent performance of "Madame X." Large and enthusiastic audiences are crowding the theater this week. "Madame X" will be continued for the remainder of the week including the usual matinee Saturday at 2:30.

Next week commencing Sunday matinee, June 7, the Baldwin Players will present, by special arrangement with William A. Brady, Margaret Mayo's comedy of a thousand laughs, "Baby Mine."

Asheton Stevens, the able critic of the Chicago Examiner, openly declared that "Baby Mine" was the funniest play ever written, and Allan Dale, in the New York American, said, "Not a baby mine but an adult mine of fun." Other well known writers have vied with each other in an effort to do full justice to the exceeding cleverness of Margaret Mayo's laugh play. Indeed, it is so good that it is sending a gale of laughter around the world.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the politics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MISUNDERSTOOD.

To the Editor of The Herald:
In the account of Mr. Goldstein's lecture published in this morning's paper, I noticed a quotation which the reporter entirely misconstrued. It said that Mr. Goldstein declared "When Socialists and their red flag of revolution are buried deep in oblivion, then (note the word then) the cross of Christ will survive." The truth of the matter is that the speaker clearly and distinctly declared that "When Socialists and their red flag of revolution are buried deep in oblivion the cross of Christ will still glitter."

STAYED BY SHIP
UNTIL CRUSHED

Further Details of Sinking of Stefansson Ship Karluk.

Fairbanks, Alaska, June 4.—Additional details of the Stefansson ship Karluk are contained in advices from St. Michael, where Capt. Robert A. Bartlett was landed last Friday by the Whaler Herman. The Karluk was crushed in the ice and sank sixty miles north of Herald Island, in the Arctic ocean northeast of Siberia, Jan. 16, after having been held fast in the ice from the time she disappeared from near Point Barrow last September. Capt. Bartlett reported that, while the Karluk was drifting with the ice, it was impossible for the men aboard to make a safe landing and they stayed by the ship until she was crushed, when they loaded their sledges with provisions and made their way over the ice to Wrangel Island. They have sufficient provisions and fuel to last until a relief ship can reach them. Capt. Bartlett remained on Wrangel Island until March 18, when, with one Eskimo and a dog team, he set out over the ice for the Siberian coast where he was picked up by the Herman. Capt. Bartlett expects to leave for Seattle in the first steamer sailing from Nome.

GIVEN TWELVE YEARS FOR CUBAN KILLING.

Havana, June 4.—Gen. Ernesto Asbert, former governor of Havana province, and Eugenio Arias, a former member of the house of representatives, were yesterday sentenced by the supreme court to twelve years imprisonment for the killing, in July 1913, of Gen. Armando Riva, chief of the national police.

Senator Vidal Morales, who was with the others at the time of the killing, was convicted on two charges, the first, firing a shot in the street, and the second, carrying a revolver without a license. A fine was imposed on the defendants accused of attempting to shoot them, was acquitted.

LIBERTY AND JUSTICE

By SAVOYARD.

Washington, June 4.—(Special to The Herald).—Your congressional jingo is in a rage because the president of the United States refuses to manage the Mexican problem as the country would have it done. Every devil or 'em is on his head to have Huerta kept in place and power, and all of them are horrified at the suggestion of a recognition of Carranza. Huerta does not conceal the fact that his policy is to keep 90 per cent of the Mexican people in a state of hopeless and abject penance that is infinitely worse than African slavery ever was in any of our Southern states. According to Huerta, the most of the labor in Mexico has no mission in this life but to delve in the mine for the profit of a few men who own the country and have made "concessions" to adventurous foreign capital from which has been spawned a hundred "revolutions" in Latin America, and this good day Mexico would enjoy political tranquillity if the dirty money from our country and Europe had not been ventured to reap dividend from revolution, war, rapine, murder and slavery.

May 19 John Sharp Williams read in the United States senate and had printed in the Congressional Record a letter from an official of the United States stationed in Mexico from which I take this passage:

"Wee Willie Hearst has a large corps of men here making mauling out of molochs for the purpose of inflaming the public mind, in order that his investments in lands in Mexico may be enhanced in value. It is a rotten game, and the majority of the newspaper men here do not want to see war."

Then the writer goes on to say that it would cost 200,000 American lives and occasion an expenditure of ten billions of dollars to overrun, conquer and subjugate the country. Here is his close:

"It would be cheaper to take every refuge out of here, pay him every dollar due him, pension him for life, and let his blatant mouth be heard at home, as inane as that of a madman, rather than engage in war."

William Kent, a member of congress from California, expressed an admirable sentiment in relation to Mexico. He said he had money invested in a mine down there, that he had abandoned it till quiet is restored, and that as he would not willingly shed a drop of his own blood to make the property profitable, he would feel himself a coward to ask that the blood of one single American soldier be spilled in the affair.

There is a man, a patriot, and his are the sentiments of a good Christian, who has ventured in Mexico where as clean as his there would be no revolution down there.

Carranza and Villa may be very bad men; but neither is as bad as Huerta, and both asserted that their mission in politics and in war is the abolition of penance in their unhappy country. They are agrarians, certainly, and they may be visionary, but anarchy will be the result in Mexico until their dream is realized. Land for the landless and letters for the ignorant is the aim.

They may fall, but they cannot be their war cry. It ought to appeal to every American.

Centuries ago Hernando Cortez with his cruel band invaded Mexico, and if there was any justice there then it sloped to the uttermost ends of the earth at his approach and has never returned. Why not try a little justice down there? It cannot turn out worse than the despotisms they have had for hundreds of years. I was talking with a senator in congress who has money ventured in that country and he declared that Mexico was not ready for liberty and justice and that I was a dreamer. If he had not been a polite man he would have said what he thought, that I was a fool.

When are they going to be fit for liberty and justice? How many Huertas will it take to murder liberty and justice into them? When I asked those important questions he was certain that I was a fool and he declined me no reply. Now, if I understand Wilson's policies he is determined, so far as in him lies the power, that a dab of liberty and a chunk of justice shall be purveyed for the Mexican.

Nobody can read Robertson's "Charles" without a desire to visit Spain. That potentate, the first to boast that the sun never set on his dominions, was the most powerful crowned monarch of the sixteenth century. He vacated his throne, abdicated the scepter and retired to a valley in Spain that the matter of fact Scotch historian goes into poetic ecstasies over. There are a thousand such valleys in Mexico.

Byron's apostrophe to the Orient in the "Bride of Abydos" is descriptive of numberless precincts in the fair, the opulent, the wonderful land beyond the Rio Grande:

"Know ye the land where the cypress and myrtle Are emblems of deeds that are done in their clime,
Where the rage of the vulture, the love of the turtle,
Now melt into sorrow, now madden to crime?"

Know ye the land of the cedar and vine,
Where the flowers ever blossom, the beams ever shine;

Where the light wings of Zephyr, oppressed with perfume,
Wax faint o'er the gardens of Gul in her bloom;

Where the citron and olive are fairest of fruit,
And the tints of the nightingale never is mute;

Where the tints of the earth and the hues of the sky,
In color though varied in beauty may vie,
And the purple of ocean is deepest in dye;

Where the virgins are soft as the roses
they twine,
And all, save the spirit of man, is divine.

The "spirit of man" made a hell of this clime at the East, and ever since the Spanish conquest hell has abided in Mexico. Despotism, war, rapine, murder and slavery have failed to bring prosperity or contentment to a little liberty and a little justice down there.

more disastrous than a bloody despotism such as Huerta heads.

CROP REPORTS AID BUSINESS

Jobbers Have Good Steady
Call; Orders Only for Present Trade.

Sugar Is Active and Going Up; Summer Goods Move Briskly.

Under the impetus of the favorable crop outlook through out the Northwest, a perceptible quickening in trade is reported in Duluth wholesale and manufacturing circles during the present week.

A feature commented upon is the increase shown in current business, attesting to the fact that country merchants are confining their purchases to necessities. It is noted that sugar can be obtained as to the ultimate harvest. Practically all of the houses report expansion in their volume of orders from the Northwest, Wisconsin, and Northern and Western Minnesota, and North Dakota.

Substantial improvement in shipments of general groceries over the territory was reported by the Rust-Parker-Martin company of this city, and the Twigg-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior.

Sugars are strong at the advanced quotations made a week ago. A heavy demand for all grades of sugars is being met with by the trade and its maintenance is expected from now till the fall months.

The coffee market is steady and features with robustness in view of the large Brazilian marketings. Warehouse deliveries of Brazilian coffees are said to be considerably in advance of a year ago.

Dried fruits continue firm all round. Futures in prunes are, however, tending easier in view of estimates of the new season's crop being heavier than had been counted upon. The first deliveries of the new crop will be due late in September. Apricot supplies are nearly exhausted, but marketings of the new crop, which is expected to be exceptionally heavy, will begin next month.

All cereals are being stiffly held with quotations in rolled oats and rice again up slightly.

Dry Goods Orders Improve.
A gain in current dry goods orders during the last few days was noted by F. A. Patrick & Co. This development is attributed to the breaking up of stocks of summer fabrics following the spell of warm weather through the West. Future orders are also coming to hand satisfactorily, especially in woollens. The house's factories are working on a capacity basis, with their outputs sold up for the season.

Liberal Hardware Shipments.
An increase in the volume of hardware sales over last year was advised by both the local jobbing establishments. The Marshall-Wellie Hardware company and the Kelley-How-Thomson company. Heavy shipments of summer lines, such as refrigerators, ice cream freezers, lawn mowers, etc., are now being made from here over the West. With the exception of a reduction of 25 cents a box in horsehoes, quotations in iron and steel staples are unchanged.

Activity in Footwear.
Current business is heavier with us and more operatives than last year are employed in our factory," said F. E. Church, sales manager of the Northern Shoe company.

A feature commented upon by Mr. Church is that orders are especially good in the country's higher grades of footwear. Reports of its salesmen from over the West, Minnesota and North Dakota grounds are gratifying. Provided the crops maintain their present promise over the next four or five weeks a sharp bulge in the general volume of trade is predicted by them.

Good Furniture Demand.
A continuance of the activity in the furniture trade that has been in evidence since the early spring was advised by the De Witt-Seltz company. The best relative increase was met with of late over Northern Wisconsin and North Dakota. The company's mattress factory is now being operated at capacity, and it has been found necessary to secure additional help. C. S. Skone of Deerwood, Minn., was among the customers at the company's warehouse today.

Move in Building Materials.
The Peyton Paper company reported that May was the best month on its records for the season in point of the aggregate business booked. The call for general stationery is the feature of the present. Shipments of building and roofing papers continue to be heavy.

YAQUI RIVER CROPS
TOTAL FAILURES

Farmers on Irrigation Systems Have Opened Sluice Gates.

Douglas, Ariz., June 4.—Crops in the Yaqui river valley, which ordinarily supply a large part of the foodstuffs used in the Mexican state of Sonora, will be almost total failures, according to reports received here.

Indian incursions and the unusually low water in the Yaqui river have prevented agricultural pursuits from being conducted satisfactorily.

Because of the scarcity of the water, it was reported, farmers on irrigation systems have opened the sluice gates and used all available supplies, regardless of the spirit of conservation and the rules of distribution.

Another report was that, for the second successive year, wheat crops in the Cimpa district would be a complete failure because of the drought.

WOMAN BRINGS SUIT.

Objects to Exchange of Manufacturing Plant for Dakota Lands.

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 4.—Miss Julia Hall has begun suit in the district court in this city against the officers and directors of the Scandia Manufacturing company and the corporation itself, alleging that the directors exceeded their authority in transferring the manufacturing establishment to Mr. Christianson in exchange for certain lands in Richland county, N. D. She asks that the transfer be enjoined, if it has not actually taken place, and that she either be reimbursed for the money she paid for stock in the company or that a receiver be appointed for the company and its property sold for cash. Miss Hall owned about $1,900 worth of the company's stock. She claims that the transfer will mean that this stock will be of little or no value.

TISSUE BUILDING

Tissue is the doctor's name for body cells.

It is to our bodies what coal is to an engine.

Every day we burn up a certain amount of tissue.

Therefore new tissue must be built to take the place of the lost fuel.

The food we eat makes this new tissue and in a healthy person gives enough fuel to replace the loss.

People get thin and "run down" because they do not get enough nourishment from their food to supply the needed fuel.

When the weakened system does not do its duty you must have a "tissue builder." Father John's Medicine is a real tissue builder because it actually makes new flesh and tissue.

When you take Father John's Medicine, the actual food elements of which it is composed give you new strength, and enable the organs of the body to resume their work.

Father John's Medicine soothes and heals throat and lungs, treats colds, bronchitis, asthma.

People gain weight steadily while taking it.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in Duluth by William A. Abbott, 205 West Superior St., 101 West Fourth street, 932 East Second street, also Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior street; Wirth Drug Store, 13 West Superior street, and practically all other drug stores in the city. If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1 for a large bottle by express, prepaid.

Blum, one of the defendants, and City Clerk John Fennecsey.

The single issue to determine was whether or not Mr. Moore, the plaintiff, was a resident of Michigan or Wisconsin when he commenced his suits on May 2, 1914.

The jury found that the plaintiff, Moore, was a citizen of Wisconsin at the time the suits were instituted. Moore claiming to be a resident of Detroit, Mich., at that time.

As the jurisdiction of Federal courts depends upon diversity of citizenship and the defendants were all citizens of Wisconsin, a dismissal of the suits necessarily followed and was so ordered by Judge A. L. Sanborn.

In the action before Judge Sanborn Mr. Moore acted as his own attorney, while V. W. James represented Judge Blum and the other defendants.

Cost of Running State Last Year Increased Over 1912.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

HERE is the dope in a nutshell. Stanislaus Zysko will enter the ring at the Auditorium weighing in the neighborhood of 250 pounds. Westergaard has boosted the weight beam to 222 pounds according to his scaling of yesterday. With the possible exception of erratic Charles Cutler, the Des Moines entry for the world's highest grappling honors is the best man America has produced since Frank Alvin Gotch came into his own as the greatest wrestler of all time and all climes.

There will be approximately thirty pounds hiatus—it is a chasm—in the question of weight. Against the weight and inhuman strength of the Pole Westergaard must exercise every bit of knowledge he possesses. No one in this section of the country knows the powers of endurance possessed by Westergaard. Zysko can wrestle all night.

Frank Gotch told Oscar Thornton at Des Moines, before the pilot of Westergaard left for Duluth that Westergaard had one chance of beating the Pole—and that chance lay in the ability of the Swede to get the Pole tangled up in his own cumbersome and then trap him.

Looking over the record of the Pole it will be found that he has never been beaten by sheer strength. It can't be done. Frank Gotch used brains, speed and strategy to beat Zysko. The first fall came in six seconds—because the Pole wasn't ready. The second fall came when the Pole started to fuss with his shoe—again he wasn't mentally primed.

Athletically speaking, Stanislaus is the strongest man in the world. Speaking from the standpoint of weight lifting, Arthur Saxon is the strongest man in the world. Saxon was here once with a circus. He held an automobile on his chest and performed other highly interesting feats. The writer felt the arms and legs of the Pole. They were like iron. In a wrestling contest Saxon would prove a plaything in the grasp of Zysko.

The muscles of the gigantic Pole are soft and pliable; his strength is the strength of the natural man, of the cave man, and his endurance is the natural endurance that comes from natural strength.

Westergaard will never wear the Pole down. No other wrestler in the world could perform that feat. Gama, the East Indian, tried and failed. If the huge Swede, tough and strong with the strength of the Northern race, has the chance to win, he must win comparatively quickly, for underneath the apparent fat of the Pole are thick and powerful muscles that move and continue to move without tiring.

Westergaard and Zysko are as different as the poles—mild joke. One is tall and lean and sinewy; the other is round and short and broad. Until you walk around the Pole you fail to get his girth. Once he tried to buy a sweater in this city and went to three of our hardware and sporting stores before he succeeded in getting one that would go on—and sweaters stretch considerably.

This is a world's championship match. Zysko goes to South America next season, according to information received here. That will mean that in all probability that Westergaard will have the final fling for sometime at the championship. About nine-tenths of the fans of Duluth hope the gigantic Swede can win.

Old Shylock in the days of old. Yelled long and loud for paltry gold; And standing at the village gate, Cursed Tony for being overweight.

A pound of flesh was Shylock's aim, And ringside weight also his claim.

But Shylock didn't have a thing On modern boxers of the ring.

Bob Fitzsimmons is enraged because his son won't fight, and said son is pathetic because he can't fight.

Jack Johnson has the biggest feet of any fighter in the ring. It is going to be awfully hard to fill his shoes.

The members of the Northwestern football team are said to be in favor of mediation as a general issue.

A woman owns the St. Louis National baseball team. But even the suffragettes don't mention the fact.

There are four Scotchmen on one of the international league baseball teams. It should be awfully tight.

Frank Chance is one of the youngest managers in big league baseball. He may possibly live long enough to see the Yankees win a pennant.

Some of the recent trout stories appear to have originated in the river of doubt.

Bert Leahy, a college champion broad jumper, jumped a board bill at Portland, Or., which shows that the well trained man always has the advantage.

Christy Mathewson refuses to play baseball on Sunday—he plays golf that day.

There is no truth in the rumor that the New York and Cincinnati baseball teams are owned by the same company. Cincinnati always loses to New York because it can't help itself.

Plans have been perfected for an Inter-Prison baseball league. The road uniforms of the team will be with a stripe effect. Instead of breaking training on the off-date days the players will break rocks.

The English polo team has lost its best pony. If it was one of the players it would not have made so much difference.

English sportsmen declare that the king's horse would have won the derby if there had not been so many horses in the race.

Battling Nelson declares that his hands are gone. We are inclined to think so as he hasn't written anything for a long time.

The white men shot Chief Rain-In-Face and now they have cruelly compelled Chief Johnson to play with the Cincinnati team.

ARTIE HOFMAN SUES.

Demands Back Salary of Chicago National Baseball Club.

Chicago, June 4.—A suit by Arthur Hofman, former National league baseball star, against the Chicago club for $5,000 back salary, has been assigned for trial next Monday.

Hofman accused the club of breach of contract and of failing to pay him a year contract of $5,000 a year, according to the bill of complaint. In June, 1913, he was hit in the head with a ball, and while he was out of the game, was traded to Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg discharged him and Chicago refused to release him, he said. He was then sent to the minors and played ball, losing three-fifths of a year's salary.

Chicago, June 4.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul and George (Knuck) Cutler of Chicago, who had not played together since 1908, were matched last night to box ten rounds in Boston on June 6.

BASEBALL BOYS SEEK AND FIND AMUSEMENT

Rain Drives Henry Clay Blancke to Literature and Slippery Elm, While Others Find Means of Whiling Away the Idle Hours

Bud Croake, the former Winona first baseman, arrived here yesterday and will take his place at No. 1 station in the coast defense of the White Sox on the first merry day upon which the sun shines.

The coming of Croake marked the croaking of Detroit's loyal American Order Commander O'Brien announced yesterday that he had handed Detroit his walking papers. This means that Croake, O'Brien, Wade and Ford will play the infield and that Collins, Brackett and Bond will cavort in the garden.

"I think I have a swell ball team now," murmured the Dook as he paused with one foot on the train that was about to take him to his summer home at Carlton.

"Croake escaped from Winona because he was dissatisfied. He came near going to the American association last season. Bud tells me that this will be the best season in his whole career. You know me, Al; I will give Bud the greatest chance he has ever had and will show him some things about the game. Croake will be sold at the end of the season, for he is going to play the best first base of any player in the league."

As is usual in the case of rain the various players spent the day in seeking amusement.

Henry Clay Blancke bought an electric home, but it hasn't been installed yet. Supported by several pillows, his note book in his hand, the eminent sylvia pitcher was found pouring over his manuscript.

His brow was wrinkled and his classical countenance. But his jaw stuck out with determination. By his side was a huge quantity of slippery elm and a large pitcher of water.

While poring over the cryptic stuff of the Norwegian, hard Henry Clay Blancke was training for the long spit ball duel that is expected to come with warm weather.

Eddie Wheeler of the Grand Forks team bears the reputation of being the best dressed man in baseball. He got the habit in New York when a young man in the flower of his very youth, and though he has spent several years in the gloom of a penitentiary, he is a fellow with loads of native style and keen abreast of the latest sartorial times.

Yesterday afternoon rummaging in the shops and came away with a nifty cane and flowing scarf tie.

Young Wolfe spent the day in writing letters home. This is his first season out and President Plume let the boy take his patent fountain pen.

Brackett took the kid down to the Lenox and told him that the paper was free a late hour last night. Wolfe was still at work.

Harold Bond, the Montana schoolmaster, visited the public schools and wound up the work of the day by taking in the new high school. During his scholastic days Mr. Bond was the leading debater of college and he promised Principal Young of Central that he would address the students some rainy afternoon upon the subject of "Why College Men Chew Peppermint."

Afternoon in getting his bearings. By judicious questioning of the traffic squad Bud learned that the avenues cross the wide expanse of city and that the streets intersect at the extremes of the municipality. With the aid of a note book and some penciled diagrams Bud, who has lived in Winona for several seasons, believes he will be able to find his way about the city.

Kansas City, Mo., June 4.—"All the time in the world," said the world's champion, "I'm never going to play in Cincinnati again. As long as they'll let me play in Cook county, I'll stay there."

*****
We have positive evidence that during the interim between the submission in this case, they have exhausted every means to get their players to substitute new contracts. "Johnson will not play with Cincinnati and every player who belongs to the team will be taken care of."

MIXTURE OF HOPE AND DOUBT AS TO EXPECTED REPLY FROM CARRANZA

May Not Accept Unreservedly Offer Made By Mediators.

Reply May Not Be Received for Three or Four Days.

Washington Is Deliberating on the Shipments of Arms to Tampico.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 5.—The attitude here in regard to the expected reply from Gen. Carranza, chief of the Constitutional cause in Mexico, to the note the South American mediator sent him last Tuesday through his representatives in Washington, is a mixture of doubt and hope.

In some quarters there was more or less skepticism manifested. It was evident some believed Carranza's response would be negative, but it was hoped it would leave open the door for continued correspondence. Semi-official statements in regard to the attitude of Carranza toward the mediation proceedings indicate he is not ready to accept unreservedly the offer of good offices practically renewed by the mediator.

Mediators to Confer. A question which aroused interest here today was as to when Carranza, who is reported en route from Durango to Saltillo, would reach the latter city where he is preparing to establish his provisional government. While no meeting between the mediators and either the American or Mexican delegates were scheduled for the day, the mediators themselves planned to get together to discuss the latest phase of the situation.

Optimism as to Reply. Carranza's statement that he would not reply to the last note he reached Saltillo from Durango, confirmed the belief of administration officials today that the Constitutionalists' final attitude toward entering the Niagara negotiations would not be known for three or four days. Optimism, expressed at Niagara Falls that Carranza would decide to take part in the proceedings, was reflected here.

The Tampico Shipments. The situation confronting the Washington government, reference to the shipments of arms to Tampico continued today as the absorption of the state department in official headquarters. A report reached the state department that another steamer loaded with ammunition had cleared from New York today for Tampico. Inasmuch as the recent order was to refuse clearances only to ammunition for Mexican ports, it was stated there could be no denying clearances to ships billed to an American port. It was declared that the ship sailing today would be trans-shipped to Tampico.

MAY ACCEPT THE OPERATORS' SCALE

Coal Miners' Convention Putting Finishing Touches on Wage Scale.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 5.—Representatives of 50,000 coal miners in the Pittsburgh district assembled here today to put the finishing touches on the wage scale for two years. Committees have agreed with the operators that the rate for machine miners shall be 84 cents a ton and for pick mining $1. There were some differences on the scale for the side men, but it was believed the convention before night would accept the scale offered by the operators.

LETTER'S ACCURACY IS BEING DISPUTED

Chicago, June 5.—Accuracy of the translation of a letter written in German by William Rapp, Jr., to his wife, Mrs. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the prima donna, was expected to figure prominently today in the trial of the singer's suit for divorce. The letter was written by Rapp a year ago and offered to allow Mrs. Schumann-Heink to obtain her freedom without opposition. It was introduced in evidence yesterday and Rapp protested that it had been improperly translated. In the proceedings Mrs. Schumann-Heink accuses Rapp of infidelity, naming a New York woman, Rapp is a lawyer and son of the late William Rapp, editor-in-chief of the Chicago Staats Zeitung.

SENTENCE OF YEAR IS GIVEN PERUGIA

Florence, Italy, June 5.—The plea of "extenuating circumstances" was accepted today in behalf of Vincenzo Fezzani, who stole Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" from the Louvre in Paris. The judges sentenced him today to one year and fifteen days' imprisonment. As Perugia had been in prison awaiting trial since December, last year, he will serve only about six months.

THREE THOUSAND GO OUT ON A STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 5.—Approximately 3,000 men and women employees of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company refused to go to work this morning when the whistles at the East Pittsburgh factory sounded at 7 o'clock. They marched to the creek, a mile away, where the leaders said they would discuss their grievances.

SUFFRAGETTE CAUSES SCENE AT FUNCTION AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

Mary Blomfield Throws Herself on Knees Before King and Queen.

Had Hardly Spoken When Seized and Huddled Out of Room.

Officials of Militant Organization Deny Responsibility for Incident.

London, June 5.—Miss Mary Blomfield, daughter of Lady Sarah Louisa Blomfield, widow of Sir Arthur Blomfield, was the woman who created the sensational scene at Buckingham palace last night when she threw herself on her knees before King George and Queen Mary.

Miss Blomfield alone was concerned in the incident, although her sister, who also attended the court, was requested to leave the palace after the occurrence, despite the fact that she took no part in the demonstration. She left without protest.

Officials of the palace today were on the verge of nervous prostration as the result of last night's scene, and the lord chamberlain's department has taken every precaution to circumvent any attempt to repeat the performance tonight when another function takes place at Buckingham palace. Persons in the immediate vicinity at the time declare that the whole scene lasted less than ten seconds and that the women had only time to ejaculate audibly. "Your Majesties! For God's sake, stop this!" was heard as she was seized and hustled out of the throne room, finishing the sentence as she struck, finishing the sentence as she struck, finishing the sentence as she struck.

TO INSPECT SUNKEN BOAT

Nearly 800 Bodies Are Believed to Be in Empress' Hulk.

Wireless Operator Tells of His Call for Assistance.

Quebec, June 5.—The cruiser Essex was prepared to leave here some time today for Father Point, where her divers will attempt an inspection of the wreck of the Empress of Ireland. The Essex has a modern outfit for submarine work and her divers will be able to penetrate the corridors of the sunken vessel. Nearly 800 bodies are believed to be in the hulk.

Ronald Ferguson, the Empress wireless operator, had only eight minutes in which to call for assistance before the power failed, according to his story yesterday. Directly after the collision Ferguson says he ran to the wireless room from his cabin to which he had retired for the night. He sent out a message to Father Point, telling the operator there to "stand by as the Empress had struck something." A second later First Officer Stead ran into the room and told him divers would be sent to the wreck. Father Point answered that help was coming and immediately the wireless of the Empress stopped.

Went Down with Ship. Ferguson went down with the ship but came up, and, after swimming for three-quarters of an hour, was picked up.

The application of the owners of the Storstad, which rammed and sank the Empress of Ireland, to file a bond, in connection with the Canadian Railway company's claim for $2,000,000 damages, and be allowed to leave Montreal, has been postponed until next Monday by agreement of counsel.

WANT RIGHT TO VOTE ON SENATOR

Chicago Women Claim Suffrage Act Gives Them Right.

Chicago, June 5.—Formal demand by women for the right to vote for United States senator, both at the September primaries and at the November election, was expected to be made today before the election commissioners. In the notice of the demand, filed yesterday, it was stated that the point would be raised that, if the 1913 limited suffrage act provided that women might vote for presidential electors, it carried the right to vote for senators.

HARVARD CLUBS ARE MEETING AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 5.—The eighteenth annual meeting of the Associated Harvard clubs began here today with members present from all over the United States and several from abroad. Today's program was mostly social in its details. The chief feature is the banquet which will conclude the meeting tomorrow night and at which the principal address will be made by Dr. Abbott Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University.

SERVICE TO HUMANITY

Mission of United States Not Aggrandizement or Conquest.

President Wilson Gives Address to Naval Academy Graduates.

Annapolis, Md., June 5.—President Wilson today told 164 graduates of the naval academy, many of whom leave shortly for Mexican waters, that the mission of the United States is one of service to humanity, not of aggrandizement or conquest. He spoke at the annual academy graduation exercises and later delivered the diploma to the young midshipmen. He declared the duty of the United States is to serve the world.

Speaking of the Vera-Cruz situation, the president reverently declared that "I pray God the boys there will not have to fight any more." He added that the real good they will do will be their impression on the Mexicans.

President Wilson said in part: "It is ought to be one of your thoughts all the time that you are sample Americans, not merely sample navy men, nor merely sample soldiers, but sample Americans, and that you have the point of view of America with regard to her navy and her army, that she is using them as the instrument of civilization, not as the instrument of aggression. The idea of America is to serve humanity and every time you let the Stars and Stripes free to the wind you ought to realize that that is in itself a message, that you are on an errand which other navies have sometimes forgotten, not an errand of conquest, but an errand of service."

FOURTH RACE OF CUP GLASS YACHTS

Defiance, Will Not Be in Shape Until Next Week.

Larchmont, N. Y., June 5.—Arrangements for the fourth Long Island sound race for the cup glass yachts, which will be held tomorrow under the auspices of the Larchmont Yacht club, were completed today.

The races, which met in the three contests held by the New York Yacht club during the past three days, will complete the third cup aspirant. Defiance, was still being overhauled today. She scarcely will be in shape until the second of the races off Sandy Hook, which begin Wednesday.

The yachts will try their sea-going qualities for the first time next week in three races over the regular American cup course off Sandy Hook, with the starts at the Ambrose channel lightship. These races will be held by the New York Yacht club.

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

Charges Grow Out of Copper Miners' Strike in Michigan.

Houghton, Mich., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The trial of Charles H. Moyer and other leaders of the western Federation of Miners on charges growing out of the recent copper miners' strike will begin July 6. The date was selected today after O. N. Hilton, attorney for the union, had assured Anthony Lucas, prosecuting attorney, that his client would be ready. The case will be heard at L'Anse, seat of Baraga county.

SOUTHWEST SWELTERING WITH HEAT

Another Scorching Day in Western Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

'Freak' Weather Conditions Extend From East to Pacific Coast.

Northern Ohio Swept By Lightning, Wind and Hail Storms.

Kansas City, Mo., June 5.—High temperatures, forecasting another record-breaking day of heat, prevailed in Western Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma this morning. Concordia, Kan., reported 89 deg. at 9 o'clock. At Springfield, Mo., the mercury stood at 86 and at Kansas City the government thermometer on the top of a twelve-story building registered 84. Other points reported temperatures above 80 deg. A brisk breeze prevailed.

In Kansas City the public schools were dismissed yesterday afternoon because of the heat, the record for the season being marked when the thermometer reached 91 deg. At Leavenworth, Kan., the mercury climbed to 84 yesterday. However, a stiff breeze from the southwest offset the heat to an extent. Wichita reported a maximum temperature of 89, while it was 97 deg. at Manhattan and 94 at Concordia, Kan. Bartlesville, Okla., reported a temperature of 101 deg. The record at this time of the year in that city.

Hot at Indianapolis. Indianapolis, Ind., June 5.—A rain storm, accompanied by lightning and thunder, the first of any consequence in more than three weeks, put an end to the hottest day of the year here last night. The government thermometer registered 92 degrees at 5 p. m. The electrical storm did considerable damage.

BLACK RIVER RISING FAST

Towns in Wisconsin Are in Danger of Being Swept Away.

Families Are Driven From Their Homes By the Water.

Greenwood, Wis., June 5.—With the Black River already past its greatest flood height and rising fast, this town and others situated near the raging torrent are hourly in danger of being swept away.

The maddened waters, swollen by the heavy rain of Wednesday and Thursday, have torn the Municipal Light & Power company's dam from its anchorage and have swept away 350 feet of reinforced concrete levee. Small buildings are being whirled down the stream. One steel bridge has given way to the torrent and others are threatened.

Driven From Homes. Families have been driven away from their homes by the water and are seeking shelter in the higher places.

At Hemlock, four miles north of here, the sawmill and roller mills of the T. O. Withee Lumber company have been torn down by the bursting of a dam and a steel bridge has been wrenched from its moorings. Creeks have been turned into rivers and the water is still rising fast.

At Owen, fifteen miles south of here, four feet of water is swirling through the streets, basements are filled, sidewalks carried away and small buildings demolished. The damage will reach many thousands of dollars.

TWO FRENCH ARMY AVIATORS KILLED

Bodies Found in Trees, Horribly Burned and Mutilated.

Dijon, France, June 5.—Two French army aviators, Lieut. Gironne and Sapper Rioux, were killed while flying near here today.

Peasants watching an aeroplane which had risen from the military aviation station and which was flying swiftly at an altitude of half a mile over the forest of Cacolette, heard an explosion and saw a burst of flame. A few moments later the fragments of the aeroplane, to which the aviators were strapped, fell among the trees and the bodies of the men were found, horribly burned and mutilated.

STATE LAND DRAINAGE IS URGED ON A TATION OF NEXT LEGISLATURE

Northern Wisconsin SPEAKER HEARD FROM

Sense of Delegates to the Northern Minnesota Development Meeting.

Marked Progress in the Good Roads Agitation Is Praised.

Demand for Opening of Indian Lands Under the Homestead Law.

Thief River Falls, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the closing session of the Northern Minnesota Development association today resolutions, the most important part of the gathering, were adopted. The threatened fight over the Dunn good roads law did not materialize. Fifty automobiles arrived from Crookston, but otherwise the attendance was smaller than the two previous days.

The resolutions adopted provide: This association again commends to the favorable consideration of the voters of the state the proposed amendment providing a revolving fund of not over $250,000 may be set apart from the funds derived from the sale of school and swamp lands, to be used in construction of roads, ditches and fire breaks.

"We again urge public and legislative attention to the matter of a comprehensive soil survey for the whole state."

"We urge upon the next legislature that they submit to the people for consideration a constitutional amendment opening the way for the establishment of a revolving fund of adequate size from the proceeds of the sale of state lands, to be used in draining, clearing and otherwise improving and reclaiming and building roads and fire-breaks, in through and around state school and swamp lands remaining unsold."

"We congratulate the association upon marked progress in the good roads agitation and upon the legislation accomplished. We renew our thanks to the members of the good roads committee for their untiring labors in this cause. We recommend upon the part of each county the careful study of a road system that shall co-ordinate with the credit of adjoining counties and with local roads."

"We favor the specific purpose and general plan laid before the people of the state in the preliminary report of the efficiency and economy commission involving: (1) central departmental responsibility, (2) an effective civil service, (3) a strict budget system subject to state appropriation."

More Settlers Wanted. "Minnesota needs more settlers. A very important factor in bringing settlers to the state is publicity. We believe the most effective publicity is the exhibition in Minneapolis of the exhibit room in former years was very effective in inducing settlers to Northern Minnesota, and we recommend that it be re-established. One of our Minn. citizens, in order that the resources and natural advantages of the state be better known to the outside world, we also urge and recommend that the next legislature appropriate $200,000 for use by the state immigration department for publicity purposes."

We endorse the plan of the state university allowing state high schools to offer two years of college work in the state university. We endorse the plan of the state educational commission which puts all rural schools under its jurisdiction."

MILITANTS BURN ANCIENT CHURCH

Historic Edifice, Dating Back to Norman Times, Is Destroyed.

Derby, Eng., June 5.—The ancient and historic church at Breda, dating back to Norman times, was destroyed by fire during the night. Suffragettes are suspected by the authorities, as explosives similar to those caused by the bombs usually employed by the arson squad, were heard before the fire. A short time ago a suffragette meeting in the village of Breda was broken up by boys, and it is generally supposed that the women burned the church in revenge.

Among things consumed by the flames was an ancient chained Bible. The church register, dating back to 1573, was saved.

ALL PASSENGERS SAFELY LANDED

Steamer Northland Is Hard and Fast on a Reef.

New London, Conn., June 5.—The seventy-five passengers from the Eastern line steamer Northland, bound from New York for Portland, Me., which went ashore on Bartlett's reef late last night, were safely landed in this city at 5 o'clock this morning and a half hour later started for Boston and Portland on a special train. The captain and crew of the Northland remained aboard their ship which is in no immediate danger as the weather today is fair.

An attempt to haul off the Northland was made at high tide this morning by three tugs, but the steamer remained hard and fast on the reef. All arrangements were made to lighten the cargo during the day and at high tide in the early evening another effort to float the vessel will be made. It is believed here the grounding of the Northland was due to the captain mistaking, in the fog, the Bartlett's reef light for that on Gull Island.

STEEL PLANT SUBURBS ROSSICH BOYS STILL LOST

Hope Fades of Finding Them Alive—Trail
Ends at River.

Shores and Islands of River Will Be Searched—Parents Exhausted.

Although a continuous search has been kept up during sixty hours for Joe, 12 years old, and Frank, 8 years old, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rossich, of New Duluth, who disappeared Tuesday evening, no trace of the boys has been found. The bloodhound brought to the scene was unable to trace the lads any further than to the water's edge, where they were seen to have taken a boat belonging to William Berger. The boat has not been found.

An attempt was made early yesterday by Deputy Sheriff C. E. Evans to have the bloodhound pick the trail up at various points without success. The bloodhound picked up the first trail, although it was nearly forty-eight hours old, from the home of the boys and followed it down to the river. This trail is said to have been true and is so testified to by people who saw the boys leaving home on Tuesday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock. A part of this trail led to the home of another boy and over a rail fence, and this was taken by the dog. In company with Mr. Rossich, the deputy sheriff and the dog tramped through the woods back of New Duluth nearly all day yesterday. Mr. Evans is convinced that the boys cannot be in the woods.

Various parts of the river near New Duluth were dragged yesterday by friends of the family, but no sign of the boys, boat or any of the fishing tackle carried by them was found. This morning it is intended to start a hunt for the rowboat and a thorough search of the shore up and down the river is to be made.

The disappearance of the boys is the main topic of conversation in the suburb. Everyone is now of the opinion that the boys have found a watery grave in the St. Louis river.

The parents of the children are on the verge of a break-down. The mother and father have slept but little, the father not at all until last evening when exhaustion drove him to bed. The father still clings to the hope that the boys may be in the woods or on one of the islands of the river and still alive. He said last night he would not believe otherwise until he saw the dead bodies of his children.

The older boy was said to have been an exceptionally bright little chap. He was in the seventh grade at school and at home had taken piano lessons and showed indications of becoming a good musician.

HOTEL BURNS TO THE GROUND

Suburb of Gary Has $12,- 000 Blaze During the Night.

Thirty-Five Boarders Escape in Their Night Clothing.

The Gledroje hotel on Gary street and Ninety-eighth avenue west was totally destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning. Thirty-five boarders in the place barely managed to escape in their night clothes.

The fire is believed to have started in a stove in a pool room on the first floor of the building. It spread rapidly throughout the place and within fifteen minutes after it was first discovered the building was a smoldering pile of ashes. High winds fanned the flames and made quicker the work of destruction.

The volunteer department headed by Capt. Charles Pearson responded to the call in record time in spite of the bad condition of the roads, but the building was too far gone to enable it to do any effective work.

Sparks from the burning building were carried to the roof of the building owned by Ed Gledroje and damaged the roof to a small extent, but work of the firemen saved the building.

The hotel was operated and building owned by Walter Gledroje. The building was valued at $7,000 and its contents at $4,000. Insurance of $6,000 was carried on the building and $3,000 on the contents. A grocery store also owned by the hotel proprietor carried about $1,000 stock on which $200 insurance was carried.

Only one accident was reported. Steve Gledroje, a son of the proprietor, received a bad cut on the wrist in breaking a window pane through which he made his escape from a second story window.

J. C. R. FINALLY IS IDENTIFIED

Is Earl W. Iles, Mining Engineer, Missing Since 1906.

Chicago, June 5.—The man of mystery who has been known only as J. C. R., by the officials of the Oak Park infirmary and by hospital attendants at Rochester, Minn., yesterday was identified as Earl W. Iles, a mining engineer who had been missing since 1906.

The identification was made by Iles' mother, Mrs. H. E. Pitkin of this city, and the proof was considered complete when the man revealed a scar of a cut on his right foot, which he had suffered when a boy. Mrs. Pitkin described the cut which had not hitherto been noticed by the officials.

Signs of Recognition.
He showed feeble signs of recognition, although his vocal cords have long been paralyzed and he was unable to speak.

The man of mystery was found unconscious on the streets here last November and was sent to the infirmary. He was unable to speak, but wrote the initials J. C. R., and at times J. R. R. He was identified as a man who had been for several years, known only as J. C. R. He was believed to have been at some time connected with the navy.

Never in the Navy.
Mrs. Pitkin said her son never had been in the navy, but had last been heard from in the gold mining district of Nevada in September, 1906. "He started for home to visit us," she said, "but never arrived."

He was found dazed in the northern part of Minnesota, and was believed to have been injured or suffered paralysis, which caused complete loss of memory.

Iles will be taken to his mother's home and cared for by her.

SALE OF ROAD TO PAY ALL DEBTS

Pere Marquette Must Be Sold Soon, Says
Judge Tuttle.

Detroit, Mich., June 5.—The Pere Marquette railroad receivers were informed by United States Judge Arthur J. Tuttle yesterday that he "will probably order the issuance of $4,000,000 of receivers' certificates" to help them out of the road's financial difficulty.

The court made this announcement during the hearing on the receivers' petition for the issuance of $7,500,000 in receivers' certificates, to cover past obligations of the receivership and those about to be incurred.

"Whether I place the receivers' certificates before or after the divisional mortgages is immaterial," said Judge Tuttle, "for I am convinced the sale of this road will pay all debts and very much more. I am firmly convinced also that the sale must soon be made, and the receivership be of short duration. The receivers' certificates, if issued, must mature at an early date. Matters must be wound up and this road put back in the hands of real owners, who will go ahead and operate it."

Judge Tuttle did not say when he would formally order the issuance of the certificates, and the hearing was adjourned until July 7.

SALT MAGNATE'S IRE IS AROUSED

Causes Arrest of Chicago Reporter on Charges of Trespass.

Chicago, June 5.—Mark Morton, wealthy salt magnate, annoyed by reporters of Chicago newspapers seeking information regarding the plans of his daughter, Miss Helen Morton, yesterday caused the arrest of a reporter for an afternoon paper on charges of trespass.

For more than a fortnight the publicity attending a pranks trip of Morton's daughter to Virginia and sparking quotations from her in the newspapers are said to have aroused the ire of Mr. Morton to a high pitch against reporters. His anger burst yesterday when the newsman visited the estate in quest of further stories.

The reporter says he was knocked down, his arms bound with a half-inch rope and that he was thrust into Morton's automobile which Morton attempted to drive.

The drive is said to have culminated in the excited driver hitting a post, which threw the reporter and his captor into the road.

VICARIOUSLY*Saloon Keeper's License in Danger for Wife's Blind Pigging.

Because his wife was yesterday afternoon convicted of selling liquor without a license, Matt Sampli, proprietor of a saloon at 334 Lake avenue south, may lose his license, according to Commissioner Hicken.

Samp's license expires during the latter part of this month and in all probability his application for a renewal will be denied, as a result of the conviction of his wife yesterday for selling liquor to John Samli in her home above the saloon. Commissioner Hicken said this morning that he will take the matter up with the other commissioners next week.

Anna Sampli, 43 years old, was arrested Tuesday morning by Detectives Schulte, Irvine and Lahti, who made a raid on several alleged "blind-pigs." She pleaded not guilty when arraigned following her arrest and at her trial yesterday afternoon was convicted of the offense. She was fined $100 or sixty days. Her husband paid her fine. John Samli, 42 years old, 113 South First avenue east, who was also arrested last Tuesday morning, was found guilty yesterday afternoon and

Superior*FORESEE END OF THE SEGREGATED DISTRICT

The notorious "red light" district of Superior will be a thing of the past within another month is the belief of officials in Superior. An order was issued through the sheriff's office for all milk "hangers-on" in the district to make themselves scarce or they would feel the heavy hand of the law. This order together with those previously issued, those affecting the sale of liquor, music and dancing will, in the opinion of the authorities, gradually put the places out of business. Many of the women have already closed up their houses, it is said.

Want Garbage Collection.

Sanitary improvements including garbage collection and an incinerator will be established in Superior within a short time, according to statements made at a meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon. A delegation of women interested in better sanitation for the city attended the meeting with the object in view of securing such improvements. The commissioners stated that plans were now being made for a system of garbage collection.

Sidewalk Contracts.

Contracts for nearly eight miles of cement sidewalks were let yesterday by the city commissioners. The new walks will be laid principally in the Second ward, while many strips are also to be laid in the First, Third, Fifth, Seventh and Eighth wards. The contracts were awarded as follows: Baum & Jacobs, 11 cents per square foot, First and Second wards, Magnus Peterson, 12 cents per square foot, Eight ward; Johnson & Swanson, 11c per square foot, Second ward; Ed Johnson, 10-15 cents per square foot, Seventh ward; Berg & Runsten, 10c per square foot, Third and Fifth wards.

NEEDS EXTRA HELP TO RECORD VITAL STATISTICS

Recording and indexing St. Louis county's vital statistics for the last year will require three months time according to J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, in whose office this record is kept.

Clerk Johnson today secured authority from the county board to hire an additional clerk in his office for the purpose of indexing and recording the 1913 births and deaths. About 8,000 entries must be made.

Ordinarily the work is taken care of by the regular office force but none of the clerks regularly employed can be spared for the work. A suitable person will be hired for three months at a salary of $50 per month.

Are Surprised By Remarkable Exhibition.

Parents of Duluth public school pupils showed marked interest in the annual manual training exhibit at the Washington school, which was opened to the public last night. Several hundred visitors, a far larger number than last year, looked over the displays and were highly pleased with the excellence and variety of the work. The exhibit will open again this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and again at 7:30 tonight.

Work of Boys and Girls.

The displays cover work done by both the boys and the girls. They include carpentry, cabinet making, forging, pattern making, laundry and machine shop mechanical drawing, machine design, structural and architectural free-hand drawing, leather work, art metal work, pottery, basketry, cooking and sewing.

The excellence and scope of the work are remarkable. Furniture, tables, cabinets, clocks, etc., are displayed and it is known that the articles were made by amateurs it would be impossible to detect it from the product of expert workmen. One of the finest exhibits is that of a large clock nearly six feet in height of excellent finish and perfect structure. A very fine work and drawing of a hard to rival are to be seen in large numbers.

Sewing and Cooking.

The sewing and cooking exhibits cover both practical and fancy designs and the girls have shown great skill in their work.

That the public may get a proper idea of the work being done in these lines the department of education and in operation during the exhibit and parents are urged to make a thorough inspection. In charge of the exhibit are: E. P. George, director; H. S. Vincent, carpentry; A. L. Lawson, pattern making; George Gregory, iron work; A. J. Avery, iron work and drawing; C. R. Carman, mechanical drawing; S. L. Potts, drawing and turning; E. J. Bartlett, grade school drawing. The domestic science teachers assisting are: Miss Pealer, art department; Miss Florence Alken, Miss Marie Tins, sewing; Miss Nellie E. Hillis, Miss Quilard, cooking.

CITY BECOMING A "MODEL TOWN"*Key of Police Station Lost or the Commissioner Might Close It Up.

An industrial poll hangs over the police station. Whether it is the interstate commerce commission's delayed decision, or the Wilson administration, or the Mexican war that is to blame, is not known, but the fact remains that police business is at a standstill.

The daily output of the police mill has been cut down to a minimum. In the "good old days" the daily output used to be about thirty or thirty-five "drunks," half a dozen "vags," several petty thieves, and perhaps a good many young rascals.

But the output has slumped woefully. On their present twenty-four hour shift all that the police can turn out on the average is about three "drunks" and perhaps a minor assault case.

A disgusted police reporter suggested to Commissioner Hicken today that he close the police station up, or run on half time for a while, but the commissioner said that the key had been lost, as the station hadn't been locked for the longest time in the history of the city.

"We'll have to turn the detectives into cowboys and let them chase stray cows," said one of the old officers, who might also act as truant officers, or health inspectors, or dog catchers, or anything else that the key we could all lay off for a week or two, and nobody would miss us."

BUSINESS

$3,200 Appropriated for Fourth District.

Owing to the fact that the office of the county auditor is rushed with work incidental to preparing for the primary election June 16, the proceedings of the county board, which met for its June session this morning, are being shortened as much as possible.

T. H. Little, appointed to the office left vacant by the death of the late John Tischer, commissioner from the Second district, occupied a seat on the county board for the first time today.

Road Petitions Held Over.

A number of road petitions which were to have come before the board for their first reading this morning were laid over until the July meeting. The delay, however, is not important, as there will be no money available for the proposed highways until next year. In the meantime, such highways as are deemed advisable will be legalized.

The board appropriated $3,200 to be spent on the improvement of roads in the Fourth, or Commissioner McKenna's, district. The roads in the Fourth district to be improved are the Burnside and Crane Lake roads, which $1,200 and $2,000 will be spent respectively. In the Third district $1,600 will be expended on the Hutchison road and $600 on the Haines highway.

More Equipment Asked.

The commissioners have been asked to purchase additional equipment for the office of the clerk of the poor commission. A new desk and chair are requested. The fact that A. P. Cook, retiring postmaster, will soon take up his duties as clerk of the commission and that the clerk of the commission in the office than formerly.

Settled in Washington, D. C., and 62-18 petitioned the board this morning for the dissolution of school district No. 1, which embraces that territory. The petition will probably be acted upon at the afternoon session.

He asserted that the association has accomplished much good since its organization in 1911. C. E. Oberg and J. O. Lounsbury gave short addresses. The chief speech of the evening was by Congressman Clarence B. Miller, who gave an illustrated lecture on the Philippines. Mr. Miller made a distinct hit.

As a result of the meeting of the social survey committee, held on Wednesday, tentative plans have been worked out, which will doubtless be elaborated on hereafter, and more details furnished soon. The cost of a social survey of the city, which is approved by Mayor Prince, will be about $3,000. If the schools are added the additional cost will be about $600.

and Used Him Cruelly.

Joseph Gutman, 44, who no longer be obliged to suffer ill treatment at the hands of his wife, District Judge Pesler has granted him a divorce from Agnes A. Gutman, 33, on the grounds of cruelty. The action, which was contested by Mrs. Gutman, was heard at the March term of court. The order for judgment in Gutman's favor was filed yesterday by the court.

Gutman claimed that his wife was of an extravagant disposition and that she constantly kept him in debt. He also testified that she had often made attacks on his person and that on one occasion she threw his baby out of the house. Other acts of cruelty were also charged. They were married July 2, 1912, and lived together until Sept. 20, 1912.

Mrs. Gutman was given the custody of the three children and Gutman is directed by the court to pay her $30 a month alimony and $25 for the boy's fees.

West End

CREATE INTEREST IN GARDENING

Club Members Receive Enrollment of Eight Hundred Children.

James Maghan, chairman of the garden committee of the West End Commercial club, at a meeting of the club held last evening at Simonson's hall, outlined plans for a general exhibition of the products raised by the children of the West end, to be held in this end of the city just prior to the Duluth Industrial exposition next fall. The contest, said Mr. Maghan, promises to be the best held by the organization and that, so far, more than 800 children had entered their names. The committee in charge of the contest has visited all of the schools in the district and the members have given a number of talks before the children on the subject of gardening during the month. A great deal of enthusiasm has been aroused in the contest, said the chairman. The proposed exhibition of garden stuff is to be held in the business district. The best of the display will be taken to be used at the general exhibition which is to be held later under the auspices of civic organizations of the city.

An invitation was received by the club to have a committee representing the West End Commercial club on the general committee having the Duluth Industrial exposition in charge. The invitation was sent from the Rotary club. The members of the committee will be appointed later by the president. The club will make inquiries as to whether or not the Duluth-Edison Electric company intends placing its electric wires on Superior street underground. The business men want the company to do this while the paving of the street is in progress. A committee to confer with city officials on the subject was appointed. They are S. W. Hill, Alec Kennedy and George M. Jensen.

NEW NETWORK OF SWITCHES PUT IN

Traction Company Makes $7,000 Improvement on Garfield Avenue.

A new network of switches has been installed at Garfield avenue by the Duluth Street Railway company. The old switches were removed and the new ones put in between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock yesterday morning. A crew of nearly 100 men was engaged on the job. Every available man doing construction work for the company was summoned on the work in order that there would be as little delay in the work as possible. The only cars delayed were the regular "owls" going to the western end of the city and this service was kept up by cars from Garfield. D. C. Moore, superintendent of the company, was in charge of the work. The new switches are of a heavier type than formerly used at this crossing. The cost of the set is said to be close to $7,000.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR THE PLUMBERS

Inquiry to Be Extended to All Parts of Country.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 5.—Judge Smith McPherson yesterday afternoon ordered that warrants for the arrest of the indicted members of the Plumbers' association be issued. These will be served as rapidly as possible. The indictments are in blanket form and among other things recited that "the object of the national, state and local master plumbers' associations has been to secure to the members all of the business of the United States growing out of the furnishing and installation of plumbing supplies and this to the absolute exclusion of all others engaging in or endeavoring to carry on such business."

The basis for the monopoly of the plumbing business charged by the government was what is known as the "Baltimore resolution," adopted at the national convention of master plumbers in 1884, according to B. F. Welty, special assistant to the attorney general, who has been assisting Claude R. Porter, district attorney in the investigation before the grand jury. This resolution provided an agreement between members of the Plumbers' association and supply men to confine the sales of plumbing supplies to persons legitimately engaged in business, or master plumbers. Another resolution adopted at New Orleans in 1903, Mr. Welty said, defined a master plumber as a member of the association.

SAYS MELLEN TOLD UNTRUTH

Ledyard Flatly Denies Testimony of Former New Haven Head.

Mellen Did Not Offer Himself as Sacrifice for Morgan.

Washington, June 5.—Charles S. Mellen's recent testimony that he, as New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, allowed himself to be indicted in the Grand Trunk case to shield the late J. P. Morgan, was flatly denied before the interstate commerce commission yesterday by Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York, who was a director of the New Haven at the time.

"I want to say in the most unqualified terms," declared Mr. Ledyard, "that Mr. Mellen did not offer himself as a vindictive sacrifice for Mr. Morgan."

Telling of the letter in regard to the Grand Trunk investigation to the United States district attorney at New York, written by Mr. Mellen in the presence of E. D. Robbins, counsel for the New Haven, and himself, Mr. Ledyard said:

"Was Claiming Innocence." "That was not the letter of a man accepting responsibility. It was the letter of a man claiming innocence."

Mr. Ledyard took the stand as a voluntary witness in the commission's investigation into the New Haven's financial affairs and was not sworn. The subpoena issued for him some time ago had been withdrawn, but he urged that he be allowed to make a statement.

Mr. Ledyard said that when he began to take an active part in the affairs of the New Haven about $13,000,000 already had been expended for the acquisition of the Westchester road. He declared he knew nothing of any transactions with Morgan.

Police Inspector Thomas E. Byrnes of New York or of any negotiations with politicians.

In January, 1909, the witness said he was appointed a member of a committee of the New Haven that took up the question of the settlement of the Gottschall suit. He told at length of conferences the committee held with the Gottschall lawyers as a result of which the claim was settled for something over $1,000,000.

The Billard Deal.

Taking up Billard company matters, Mr. Ledyard said:

"While I was in Europe in 1908, the Boston & Maine stock was sold to Mr. Billard and after my return I asked Mr. Mellen if the sale was outright or a dummy transaction. He told me the sale was made outright."

"The following year I was taken ill and again went to Europe. Before that in January, the Massachusetts legislature had asked the New Haven board for certain information regarding its compliance with the Massachusetts trolley decision, and also the Billard matter. At the meeting in January I again asked Mr. Mellen as to the sale to Mr. Billard, and he told me that it was a bona fide transaction."

I asked who Mr. Billard was, and he replied: "He is a wealthy Connecticut man. I asked why the sale was made to Mr. Billard, and Mr. Mellen replied that it was because Billard was a friend of the New Haven interests. I then inquired why this was not mentioned in the reply to the Massachusetts legislature. Mr. Mellen left the chair and became excited. He seemed to think I was showing lack of confidence in him. Later the answer to the Massachusetts legislature was amended."

Mr. Ledyard said several important things happened while he was in Europe that year.

Morgan Also Angry.

"By the time I returned home, Mr. Billard had sold back to the Navigation company the Boston & Maine stock. I went to a meeting of the executive committee of the New Haven board on Oct. 2, 2, I was outspoken in expressing my opinion regarding the Billard transaction, and the big profit that had gone to Mr. Billard. Morgan was present and he also was angry about the matter. The dissatisfaction shown, I believe, resulted in Mr. Mellen afterward saying that no resolution was adopted for the committee meeting."

I have examined the record of the meeting of the directors on Oct. 8, 1909, and it appears a report was read then of the meeting of the executive committee on Oct. 2. The resolution incorporated in the record in the form with which you are familiar, and I am quite sure it was adopted after the executive committee meeting. The board ratified the subsequent record which has been read here, in which allusion is made to President Mellen having come to some arrangement with Mr. Billard. I do not recall any such record."

Wanted to Change Record.

"A year later, July 12, 1910, on my return from another trip abroad, I saw Mr. Mellen in New York and he told me he had learned an erroneous record in the Billard case had been made in the minutes of the New Haven meeting. He said it was misleading and might make trouble. He said to me, 'You know we never owned that stock or made the profits. That record indicates that Billard's profit belongs really to the New Haven.' Mr. Mellen wanted to change the record, but I reminded him the laws of New York strictly forbade anything of that sort."

As to the matter of dividends, Mr. Ledyard said he did not think anything he could say would be as important as figures which the New Haven would furnish, or possibly had furnished. He said he had no knowledge of political contributions made by the New Haven.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Louis County.
Alexander Boyd, appellant, vs. City of Duluth, respondent.
Evidence in an action for damages for personal injuries received by a child who was struck by a timber which fell from the supports of a public bridge under which she was playing, considered and held such that the court would not have been warranted in ordering judgment, notwithstanding the verdict, as against one to whom defendant owed any duty in the premises, on the ground that no negligence in the construction or maintenance of the bridge was shown.
Defendant's liability held not affected by a provision in its charter giving it general care and supervision over its public highways, bridges, etc.
The injury complained of held to have resulted from an extraordinary combination of circumstances which defendant was not bound to anticipate, and being charged with no duty of care with respect to the person injured, it was not answerable in damages for the injuries received.
Orders affirmed.

Phillip E. Brown, J.
St. Louis County.
Hilma Maki, by Nell E. Benton, guardian, respondent, vs. St. Luke's Hospital Association, appellant.
Where the plaintiff in an action to recover damages for personal injuries moves for and obtains a new trial on the ground that the damages awarded were inadequate, and the order granting it is reversed on appeal upon the ground and for the reason that plaintiff has no cause of action on the merits, the decision so rendered will be applied on a subsequent appeal by defendant from the judgment rendered by the reversal of the order granting a new trial, as final and conclusive upon the rights of the parties.
Judgment reversed.

Brown, J.
Hennepin County.
State ex rel. Harry L. Fowler, appellant, vs. Otto S. Langum as sheriff of Hennepin county, respondent.
In habeas corpus proceedings for the discharge of one arrested on the warrant of the governor in interstate extradition proceedings, the burden of showing that he is not a fugitive from justice is upon the prisoner. A warrant in due form and containing the proper recitals is prima facie evidence that the accused is a fugitive from justice. What amount of proof is necessary to rebut this prima facie case is not decided.
The courts will not try on habeas corpus the question of the prisoner's guilt or innocence, nor will they, on the ground that the proceedings were instituted in bad faith or from ulterior motives, review the action of the governor in granting the warrant.
Order affirmed.

Ramsey County.
W. B. Kellogg, administrator, appellant, vs. Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company, respondent.
A foreign administrator who has no right to maintain an action for wrongful death in the state of his appointment, nor in the state where the injury is not alleged by an order in a suit brought by him for the benefit of the next of kin, denying his motion to substitute the next of kin as party plaintiff.
Appeal dismissed.

Ramsey County.
Joseph H. Beck, appellant, vs. John C. Nelson, respondent.
Spoken words directly disparaging a person in his calling or employment are slanderous and are actionable per se. In a complaint charging the use of such words, the burden of proof need not be alleged. Schaefer vs. Schoenborn, 191 Minn. 67, distinguished.
Order reversed.

Atkin County.
William H. Allis, et al., plaintiffs, vs. Thomas H. Foley, et al., defendants.

1. The right to sue for breach of covenants which run with the land rests exclusively in the last covenantee, and an assignor of the covenant has no right of action thereon until he has indemnified such subsequent covenantee.
2. Although the legal title does not vest in the purchaser at a mortgage foreclosure sale, the expiration of the period for redemption, yet when it so vests back and the mortgagee takes effect as of the date of the mortgage, and after it so vests, the rights of the purchaser and the rights of the mortgagee are the same as if the premises had been conveyed to him at the date of the mortgage by deed containing the same covenants contained in the mortgage.
3. Where the grantee in a deed of warranty executed a first mortgage with full covenants to mortgagee, and second mortgage to another, and thereafter conveyed the premises to a third subject to both mortgages, and the first mortgage was subsequently foreclosed, a cause of action against the original covenantor for breach of his covenant of warranty, accruing after the execution of the first mortgage, passed to the purchaser at the foreclosure sale, and, at the expiration of the period for redemption, became vested and absolute in him, or in his assignee, and the mortgagee no longer had any interest therein.
4. Where both such subsequent grantee of the mortgage and the assignee of the purchaser at the foreclosure sale were plaintiffs in an action against the original covenantor for breach of his covenant of warranty, it was not error to dismiss the action as to all the plaintiffs except such assignee.

Order affirmed.

Continued.
Continued.
Jesse E. Greenman, appellant, vs. William McVey, et al., respondents.
A testator by his will devised and bequeathed to his wife his real estate and personal property, and "after her death and within two years thereafter" gave and bequeathed to each of his children a specific sum of money, the total bequests to such children amounting to the sum of $4,900, approximately equal to the total value of his real estate and personal property, which personal property was worth $300 at the time the will was made, and $300 at the time the testator died. After the testator's death, and before the death of his widow, a creditor of a son of the testator obtained a judgment, levied an execution on the son's interest in the real estate and purchased such interest at the execution sale. After the death of the widow, the real estate was sold under a license of the probate court to pay debts and legacies, and this action was brought by the creditor to recover of the administrator the son's interest in the proceeds of such sale. It is held:
1. Though there is no express direction in a will to sell the real estate of a testator and convert it into personalty, where it appears that the testator must have contemplated that it would be necessary to sell the real estate in order to carry out the provisions of the will, the direction is implied, and there is an equitable conversion of the realty into personalty.
2. When the sale is directed, expressly or by implication, at a specified time in the future, the conversion takes place in equity as of the date of the testator's death. Between that time and the actual sale of the real estate, the testator had no interest in the land that could be levied upon or sold on execution.
Order affirmed.

Brown, J.
County Auditor
ORDERS BALLOTS
Provides for Voters of Both the County and the State.

County Auditor Odin Halden has placed orders for 85,400 ballots of fifteen different varieties to be used June 16 at the primary election. He has also ordered 10,000 separate ballots for the use of women voters outside of the city of Duluth who have the right to express a choice in the nomination and election of the county superintendent of schools. In addition to this, the county auditor has also ordered 85,000 separate ballots for the use of the 70,000 Democratic and 15,000 Progressive ballots to be used in the balloting for state offices. St. Louis county has about 25,000 voters. The auditor expects to distribute about 2,000 ballots of different forms in Duluth, 1,900 in the Fifth commissioner's district outside of the city of Duluth, 8,000 in the Seventh commissioner's district, and 29,800 in the Sixth commissioner's district. The distribution of the ballots in the various districts will begin Monday.

HUMANE AGENT
ACTIVE IN MAY

A total of 46 cases, 35 of which involved human beings and 11 dumb animals, were handled in May by Agent R. D. McKeecher of the Duluth Humane society, according to his monthly report submitted yesterday afternoon at the June meeting of the society at the city hall.

The report shows that three of the cases investigated were not substantiated, the work of the society concerned 91 persons, of whom 41 were adults, 25 were girls and 25 were boys.

GIVEN FLOOD DAMAGE.
Lake Vermilion Homesteader Is Awarded $550 By Jury.

Ole P. Gruben, homesteader on Lake Vermilion, was awarded $550 damages against the Trout Lake Lumber company by a jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court yesterday afternoon.

Gruben sued for $900. He charged that his hay meadow and crops were flooded and destroyed by reason of a dam which the defendant lumber company had erected at the head of Vermilion river, which is one of the outlets of the lake. The dam caused the water to rise several feet.

MAILING PLATFORM
IN THE POSTOFFICE.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.
Washington, June 5.—The bill for the civil appropriation bill, reported to the house yesterday, authorizes the use of a surplus of the funds provided for the purchase of a site for a new postoffice at Duluth, not exceeding $3,000, for the erection of a mailing platform in the old postoffice.

BAROMETER OF BUSINESS

Secretary Redfield Finds It High, Except in Northeastern States.

Howls of Apostles of Evil More Humorous Than Harmful.

Raleigh, N. C., June 5.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in a speech here yesterday before the chamber of commerce, discussed business conditions throughout the country. In part, he said:

"If we would place the business atmosphere of the country on a sort of weather map, we should find a curious condition. In the extreme Southeast and Southwest where the business barometer is high. All through the great central part of the country, where the bulk of our wheat is grown, would be another great area of fair weather and high pressure. Over the great cotton areas of the South would be no depression, not even unseasoned depression, but a normal looking and cheerful outlook favors expected to come. High barometer also prevails where automobiles are made in and about the lake area. Over the Northeastern states would be found a section of low barometer and marked depression. If the state of mind of the different parts of our country could be shaded in colors, the great body of the West would be white, while an area of dull gray would represent our Northeastern states.

"One does not mean to deride a depressed state of mind in speaking of it as a psychological condition. The people that feel that way feel just as badly about it as if the condition were physical rather than psychological. The hope lies in the fact that the mental state of the nation is not so serious as it appears to be, and that the mental state will adjust itself to them and be relieved.

World-Wide Conditions.
After citing reports of depression in various foreign countries, Mr. Redfield continued:

"Few men would be so bold as to deny the world-wide conditions which have been suggested. This is not an age in which the nations are separated. Their commercial and industrial alliances on the one hand and complicity on the other are close. That which affects one adversely is reflected upon the others. It is the merest childishness to select one of them out from the others and cast it as if its own internal procedure were the sole cause of the conditions found in it.

In like manner any argument to the effect that the depression of our government toward 'Big Business' is the cause of such depression as exists here is met by the fact that in Germany, where trusts and cartels are legalized and the government assists both, the depression is even more severe than it has been here.

"Any world-wide view, therefore, of the great intricate mass of interlocking transactions which we call 'the world's business' finds it in a state of depression almost everywhere, with ocean freightage so low because of the shortage of international traffic on the sea.

that shipowners are beginning to consider whether it is not cheaper to lay their vessels up than to run them at a material loss.

"A good deal has been made of the fact that our foreign trade shows a decrease in the month of April shows a decrease in the exports of about $37,000,000 and an increase in the imports of about $27,000,000, and that the merchandise transactions for that month show an apparent balance against us somewhat in excess of $10,000,000, and gleeful conclusions as to the effect of the tariff law are drawn by high-speed thinkers from rather meager data. Looking at the facts, we find them to be as follows:

The Facts.
"During April the increase of imports, which we have seen amounted to about $27,000,000, is found to be in the following items:

"Crude materials for use in our manufactures, $12,000,000.
"Crude foodstuffs, over $4,000,000.
"Partly manufactured foodstuffs, nearly $7,000,000.

"Here is an aggregate of $23,000,000 out of a total increase of $27,000,000, is entirely in foods and materials which our manufacturers use. The balance is made up of an increase in finished manufactures of $5,000,000, less a decrease in partly finished manufactures of $2,000,000, showing a net increase in all imported manufactures of $3,000,000, or about 6 per cent as compared with the month of April a year ago.

"Turning now to the exports for the month of April, in which there is a decrease of $37,000,000 for that month, we find $10,000,000 of it in crude materials for manufactures; $14,000,000 of it in foodstuffs; over $5,000,000 in partly finished manufactures; making a total of $29,000,000. Eight millions out of $37,000,000 is in fully finished manufactures, this last item showing the smallest ratio of decrease for the month of April of any of the groups named. In other words, it is in the line of fully finished manufactures that we have held our proportion of business best.

Men Needed For Harvest.
"On the day when this was written, the secretary of labor read in the cabinet a telegram from the Missouri state authorities of Missouri stating that 30,000 men were needed to that state to help harvest the crops. Another telegram from the labor commissioner of the state of North Dakota, dated June 1, stated that for the purpose of harvest, and at the previous session he had read a dispatch from the labor commissioner of Oklahoma stating that 15,000 men were needed there.

"It is true that a psychological depression is none the less a depression because it is psychological. We may therefore fairly look into other conditions to see whether the mental state that exists has a justification in solid fact.

"It is true, it is not, as one looks over the country, that all the conditions upon which sound business exists are overstocked. Rather is the reverse true. None are so rash as to say overstocking exists. Nay, on the contrary the brokers' complaints of lack of commissions. Money is not so scarce that banks refuse legitimate borrowers. The reverse is true. We have sent large sums abroad of late without cramping our financial resources. It comes to me from more than one quarter of the country that men who are pessimistic in speech are prosperous in pocket. Things are not tied up tight when New York registers a surplus of $20,000,000, and when that great industry is pushed to the full.

A Different Atmosphere.
"If you and I get away from the crowded centers of our Middle and Eastern states, where mental mounting exists for conditions that can never return, since the day of mastery is over and commerce must henceforth be a servant—if, I say, we get away from these centers into which the light is breaking but which it has not yet fully illuminated, we shall find a different atmosphere. From far-off California and from Florida; from the orange groves of California when I saw them in March, and Florida uttering no cry of distress in sending 23,000 carloads of her fruit to market.

"It is a small and pitiful thing that men should expect to reap political harvests out of magnifying evils. However, the too willing howls of the apostles of evil are so obvious as well as so previous as to be on the whole more humorous than harmful. They make the judicious griever but they bring no anxiety to the thoughtful."

So many people fuss in despair over stubborn skin afflictions that some rules laid down in connection with the use of S. S. S. for the blood will be of great value. These are outlined in a hand book, finely illustrated, of the many variations in skin troubles. It tells how to overcome them. If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, or what you will, ask at any drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the East. It is one of those medicinal forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvellous.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy today, and if your case is stubborn, or peculiar, write to Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 535 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. ### GAINS NOTHING BY LONG COURT ACTION

After a fight which has been carried twice through the lower courts to the supreme court, Hilma Maki, laundress, will receive nothing for the loss of her left hand in addition to the $1,000 which was paid her at the time of the accident.

On Oct. 6, 1911, her hand was crushed in a mangle in the hospital laundry, where she was employed. Shortly afterwards while she was still suffering from her injury, she signed a settlement for $1,000. Afterwards she thought this insufficient, and after consulting an attorney, brought suit for $12,000 additional. A jury awarded her $750.

Willing to take the chances of receiving an adverse verdict she applied to the court for a new trial. This was denied and judgment ordered by the supreme court in her favor. From the entry of judgment, the hospital association appealed, with the result that the supreme court sustained the appeal and ordered the judgment reversed.

As it now stands, the woman will receive nothing in addition to what she obtained in the original settlement. The South African government will erect a large mill to encourage the cultivation of sugar cane in Zululand.

OPPOSITION TO MORGAN

Ledyard Denies Magnate or Mellen Dominated New Haven Road.

Testimony Is Enlivened By Lively Clash With Counsel Folk.

Washington, June 5.—Lewis Cass Ledyard, continuing today his testimony on New Haven railroad financial affairs before the interstate commerce commission, denied that the New Haven directors were "dummy" or that the late J. P. Morgan or former President Mellen dominated the board. He said he had often opposed Mr. Morgan, that the board meetings were well attended and that generally all the directors took part in the proceedings. The prompt of John L.illard in the Boston & Maine transaction, Mr. Ledyard said, he had considered "outrageous" and that he had so told Mr. Mellen. Under questioning by Chief Counsel folk for the commission, Mr. Ledyard refused to testify that the entries in the New Haven minutes relating to a Billard company transaction was "false" but said it did not represent what had occurred at the meeting.

A Lively Clash. Mr. Ledyard's testimony was enlivened by a lively clash with Mr. Folk in which the witness insisted on answering questions in his own way and appealing to Commissioner Daniels to sustain him. J. H. Crim, attorney for Former President Mellen, read into the record Mr. Mellen's much-discussed letter to Former United States Attorney at New York, assuming responsibility for the Grand Trunk deal under which Mellen was indicted. Mellen testified he took the responsibility to shield the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

Ledyard Contradicts. Mr. Ledyard yesterday vigorously contradicted that contention. Crim merely read the letter and asked Mr. Ledyard if it accorded with his recollection and Mr. Ledyard replied that it did.

Mr. Ledyard told of Mr. Mellen telling him that he had heard of some conferences Mr. Morgan had had with the directors of the Grand Trunk and asked him to inquire of Mr. Morgan if he was worried about Grand Trunk matters.

"I asked Mr. Morgan if he was worried over Grand Trunk affairs and he said 'Not a bit.'"

"Did Mr. Mellen send the letter the same day he wrote it?" "My impression is he called in the stenographer, dictated a letter and that the stenographer brought it back and Mr. Mellen said he was sending it right along by messenger."

"Do you know any conferences as to the propriety of sending the letter?" "None, except what I have mentioned."

Did Not Advise Mellen. "Did you have anything to do with Mr. Mellen's defense, or advise him any further?" "I did not."

"Do you understand anything you say may be used against you?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Oh, yes." "Your relations with Morgan were quite intimate. You made yachting trips with him and you drew his will and were one of his executors?" "That is correct."

Mr. Ledyard said he often opposed Morgan and had done in the New Haven board.

"Did you oppose him enough to make him mad?" "I never hesitated to tell him plainly what I thought."

Mr. Folk asked Mr. Ledyard about a small dividend in connection with an underwriting syndicate which Mr. Morgan had urged him to accept, although he had said he did not want to take it.

He Took Dividend. "Well, you finally took it." "Yes, as I have said before, I took it and gave it to a charity in which Mr. Morgan was interested."

"So he had his way after all?" "He had his way and I had mine," retorted Mr. Ledyard.

"You did not fuss with him very hard?" "I refuse to answer that question."

"Were the connections between the two largely dummy?" Mr. Folk asked.

"I should not say that," Mr. Ledyard replied. "Mr. Mellen certainly was not a dummy. Charles F. Brooks was not. Mr. Brush was a most aggressive and obstinate man."

Whittemore was an able man of large interests. Frank Brewster was a young, energetic man who asked many questions. Henry K. McHarg was a man of large interests."

The Billard Transactions. Mr. Folk, at the opening of the afternoon session taking up the Billard company transactions, asked Mr. Ledyard if he knew at the time that the New England Navigation company loaned the Billard company $2,000,000.

"No, and I don't know of it now," answered Mr. Ledyard.

Mr. Folk stated that reference to this transaction appeared in the records of the meeting of the directors of the navigation company held in September, 1909, when a committee, he said, was appointed in regard to effecting the loan.

Mr. Ledyard said no action ever was taken by the committee.

Mr. Folk stated the books of the navigation company showed that $2,000,000 cash was paid for gold notes of the Billard company.

"All I know," said Mr. Ledyard, "is that a committee was appointed and that it was reported no action was taken."

The French postal authorities are experimenting with automatic and semi-automatic telephones in two cities with a view to their general introduction into Paris if satisfactory.

PRESIDENT IN BAD STORM

Cuts Short Speech at Unveiling of Confederate Monument.

Blue and Grey Veterans Are Drenched By the Rain.

Washington, June 5.—A terrific thunderstorm broke over Arlington National cemetery late yesterday while President Wilson was addressing a great crowd gathered for the unveiling of the monument erected there to the Confederate dead. Torrents of wind-driven rain drenched the Blue and Grey veterans, women and children before they could seek shelter, and then there was a deluge of automobiles, and trolley cars, participants and spectators alike forgetting the almost finished program. The president, who had cut short his speech as the rising wind and dankness of the storm threatened the unveiling, hurried to his car with his two daughters, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre. They were inside before the rain came, but the machine's top afforded poor protection and the party was thoroughly drenched in the seven-mile drive back to Washington. Roads were strewn with branches and along the route many automobiles with wrecked tops or torn tires were passed. The president's machine made the trip safely, however.

Crowd Without Shelter.
The ceremonies were held at the base of the magnificent monument in the Confederate section of the cemetery. Only a slight canopy afforded protection to the speakers, and the crowd was absolutely without shelter, and far from any building.

Mrs. Daisy McAdoo Stevens, president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, made the address presenting the monument to the president on behalf of the women of the Confederacy. Her remarks were greeted by her when she said: "You, Mr. President, were Jefferson's spirit when at Mobile you said the United States had no interest in Mexico or any other foreign land, except to see that the citizens enjoyed the right of the pursuit of happiness under a constitutional and just government."

The president acknowledged the tribute with smiling approval. Master Paul Micon, a grandson of Col. Hilary A. Herbert, pulled the cords which released the draperies from the monument.

All the speakers commented on the appropriateness of delivering the memorial to the government through a Southern-born president, and when Mr. Wilson was introduced he was given an enthusiastic reception. The president said:

The President's Speech.
"I assure you that I am profoundly aware of the solemn significance of the thing that has now taken place. The Daughters of the Confederacy have presented a memorial of their dead to the government of the United States. I hope that you have noted the history of the conception of this idea. It was proposed by a president of the United States who had himself been a distinguished officer in the Union army. It was authorized by an act of congress of the United States. I am not so much happy as proud to participate in this capacity on such an occasion, proud that I should represent such a people. Am I mistaken, ladies and gentlemen, in supposing that nothing of this sort could have occurred in anything but a democracy? The people of a democracy are not related to their rulers as subjects are related to a government. They are themselves the sovereign authority and as they are neighbors of each other, quickened by the same passions and moved by the same motives, they can understand each other."

"They are shot through with some of the deepest and profoundest instincts of human sympathy. They choose their governments. They consult their rulers. They live their own life and they do not have that life disturbed and discolored by fraternal misunderstandings."

Turns to the Future.
"This chapter in the history of the United States is now closed, and I can bid you turn with me your faces to the future, quickened by the memories of the past, but with nothing to do with the contests of the past, knowing as we have shed our blood upon opposite sides, we now face and admire one another."

"The generosity of our judgment was made up soon after this great struggle was over, when men came and sat together again in the congress and united in all the efforts of peace and of government; and our solemn duty is to see that each one of us is in his own consciousness and in his own conduct, a representative of a reunited people. It is our duty and our privilege to be like the country we represent, and speak no word of malice, no word of criticism even, standing shoulder to shoulder to lift the burdens of mankind in the future and show the paths of freedom to all the world."

TWO MEMBERS TO BE SELECTED
Federal Reserve Board Nominations to Be Made Soon.

Washington, June 5.—With the nominations of the entire Federal reserve board expected to be sent to the senate by the president within the next few days, Secretary McAdoo announced last night after a conference with the president that the election of directors of the new reserve banks should be completed about July 1 and the banks should be fully organized and ready to begin business about Aug. 1. The secretary said he had talked with the president about the personnel of the reserve board but declined to give any definite information in this connection.

Charles S. Hamlin, now assistant secretary of the treasury, and E. C. Simmons of St. Louis have been most prominently mentioned for the remaining positions. It was intimated in official circles, however, that Mr. Hamlin might not be appointed because of his value in his present position.

Secretary McAdoo gave out a statement during the day in which he said that the organization of the Federal reserve banks had proceeded rapidly and satisfactorily and was ahead of the schedule mapped out.

Treasury officials said that New Orleans and several other cities had finally decided to appeal to the Federal reserve board against the designation of reserve bank cities.

HE BORROWED CONSIDERABLE

Blood From Friend and Thumb Bone From Rabbit.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 5.—With a rabbit's hind leg for a thumb bone and a quart of another man's blood in his veins, Bertrand Williams, 35 years old, is just recovering from what physicians say was one of the most delicate operations of its kind ever performed here.

Last fall Williams came to Glenview hospital suffering from a peculiar bone malady. His right foot was affected. After a number of examinations the leg was amputated just below the knee. Dr. Theodore S. Breck performed the operation.

A few weeks ago Williams returned to the hospital with the same peculiar affection in his hand. On examination it was found that his blood had been poisoned by the malady. Dr. Breck called into consultation Dr. H. D. Fowler, and it was decided to replace the bone.

The hind leg of a healthy rabbit was obtained and the bone put in place of the affected bone, which extended from the first joint of the left thumb to the wrist joint. The ligaments and muscles were attached and the wound healed rapidly.

The physicians feared that the tainted blood would carry the infection to another spot, so it was decided to replace most of Williams' blood also.

Jacob Mahring, 1482 East One Hundredth street, a friend of Williams', volunteered to give a quart of his blood. A like amount of Williams' blood was transfused into Mahring's blood transfused to his friend successfully.

Rapid Fire Campaign But No Tendency Toward Militancy.

Columbus, Ohio, June 5.—Open air meetings, spectacular processions and flying squadrons of women speakers all are included in the campaigns of suffragists in the summer of 1914. Ohio woman suffrage leaders, according to their announcements, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the Ohio Woman Suffrage association, declared that the Ohio campaign would rival in intensity and enthusiasm anything that has ever been seen in any of the states of the Union. She said that men's leagues would be organized as co-ordinate entities in every county in the state, and that the climax of the campaign would see men and women working shoulder to shoulder.

However, there will be not the slightest tendency toward militancy, according to the Ohio suffrage leaders. "The women of Ohio are going to show that even a political campaign can be conducted in a dignified and decorously," Mrs. Upton is telling her state workers in her letters of instruction.

But the campaign this year will be far more spectacular than that of two years ago, both the state and the Columbus leaders say. Two years ago, they insist, they were not given time to whip their plans into shape and consequently their movement was not perfectly organized. This year the plan is to organize every precinct in the state and to reach every voter by some sort of argument. In 1912 there were thousands of voters who were not reached at all, many of the suffragists say.

The real climax of the campaign will not be reached until fall, but the summer will witness numerous interesting suffrage stunts. Just now the workers are so busy getting signatures for their petitions that they have not time to conduct a proselyting campaign. But the campaign will begin with zest. There will be street corner meetings, house-to-house canvassing, auto tours of speakers, pamphlet and newspaper advertising and big suffrage parades. Even now, in all parts of the state, women and girls are being trained for suffrage speeches. Timid and shrinking workers are being taught to face riotous and even sneering crowds to answer questions, carry arguments and beat down opposition.

As the campaign wears on automobiles will be pressed into service to carry flying squadrons of speakers from county to county in a persistent open air speaking campaign.

HEALTH TALKS

William Brady, M.D.

The Taming of B. Coli

UNLESS you are of an introspective turn of mind you will probably wonder who or what B. Coli is anyway. B. Coli is a savage little animal we civilized human beings have been trying with varying success to tame these past few thousand years. He is a parasite of the mammalian alimentary canal, especially of the large bowel, or colon. His full title is Bacillus Coli Communis, but for short he is familiarly called just B. Coli.

A Harmful Microbe.
A decade or two ago bacteriologists imagined that B. Coli had really been tamed. They ticked him a mere saprophyte, that is a harmless microbe. It was, and is still, recognized that he existed wherever sewage existed—in rivers and lakes from which public water supplies are drawn—but the presence of B. Coli was taken merely as an indicator of contamination of the water supply. Sundry studies of medical and surgical emergencies, however, have shown in more recent years that B. Coli is not to be trusted. Indeed, he is probably the commonest inveterate of that popular modern ailment, appendicitis.

Besides being the cause of the loss of many an otherwise untroubled appendix, B. Coli is now known to be a prolific factor of gallstones and of stomach and duodenal ulcers. His poisons are recognized as a very common cause of "that tired feeling" and headaches and brilliancy and other minor ailments included under the heading of auto-intoxication. In adults he causes dysentery and in infants he often produces bladder and kidney inflammation.

Found in Meats.
There is plenty of experimental and practical evidence that B. Coli is indordinately fond of a meat diet. In the laboratory he grows best on meat broth—and in the human test-tube, the colon, he is equally fond of animal extracts. Put him on an exclusive vegetarian diet and he soon quiets down and behaves himself. Excite him with an excess of porthouse or other suitable pabulum and he is pretty certain to show his savage tendencies.

Metchnikoff charges B. Coli with causing old age. Metchnikoff's sour milk cure for old age is based on the fact that the lactic acid bacilli, which cause the souring of milk, are good germs and will crowd out the unruly B. Coli just as clover seed will choke off the dandelions in a lawn.

Questions and Answers.
Marian C. writes: Should one with valvular heart trouble take long walks to and from her work?

ANSWER.
Yes, if she enjoys the walks and is not exhausted from them.

Alice writes: Would there be any objection to using a solution of half an ounce of salicylic acid in a pint of alcohol, scented with perfume, to apply to the armpits for excessive sweating?

ANSWER.
No, it would not be objectionable if you would omit the scent.

WANT TWO ROADS FIXED

Delegation From Virginia and Vicinity Waits on County Board.

Request to International Road Likely to Be Granted.

Permanent improvement of the International and Pike River roads, highways which link together the two great iron ranges of St. Louis county and serve hundreds of farmers in the connecting country, was strongly urged before the county board at its June meeting this morning by a delegation from the Virginia Commercial club headed by William J. Archer. The International and Pike River roads, which connect Virginia with the north country, are vastly more important to the citizens and industries of Virginia than is the Miller Trunk road to the city of Duluth, according to Mr. Archer, who was given an audience by the board this morning. He stated that the people of Virginia and the farmers north, in and around Cook and Angora, wanted money spent this year on the improvement of the International road, which is a continuation of the Miller Trunk road north from Virginia to Cook, Angora, and the border, and of the Pike River road, which forks off from the International about four miles north of Virginia and furnishes a connection with Tower and Lily.

Owing to the fact that the two or three miles of the International road out of Virginia may have to be abandoned owing to the development of mining property, Mr. Archer cautioned the board to refrain from spending very much on its improvement. It is probable, he said, that within a short time, the road will be vacated and another route suggested and which was recommended to the consideration of the board. The board, however, from its northwest corner and makes a somewhat circuitous swing around the mines and joins the old right-of-way again. The substituted road would avoid numerous hills and traverses no mining property.

Cut-off Suggested.
It is also proposed to build a new cut-off from the International to the Pike River road, which would be a way of an abandoned logging railroad. The board will be asked at its next meeting to take action along the lines of legalizing this for county highway purposes.

Attention of the board was also called to the fact that both roads are in need of repairs. About sixteen miles out of Virginia, it is claimed, a five-mile stretch of the International road is in bad shape and is almost impassable. The importance of immediate attention was urged. It was also represented that about ten or twelve miles of the Pike River road is in bad shape and that it will require about $5,000 to surface it and put it into shape.

Those who were in the delegation from Virginia were William J. Archer, Secretary of the Virginia Commercial club, Andrew Hawkison and Martin Nelson, both candidates for county commissioner from the Sixth district; William Rooney and John J. Jacobson of Pike and J. L. Owens of Cook. Mr. Jacobson was formerly mayor of Virginia and was prominently identified with county politics.

The board also listened to the request of Matt Harris of 55-17 for road improvement. He asked that the young road be extended for three miles as an to connect with the Long Lake road and furnish the settlers of that neighborhood with a more direct route to Eveleth.

It is understood that the board will take action with reference to the improvement of the International and Pike River roads out of Virginia. It is understood that about $55,000 out of the $50,000 set aside as state aid on the International road, also known as State Highway No. 1, will be available and that a portion will be spent in making the desired improvements.

REFUSES TO WASTE MONEY

City Council Will Extend Mains to Occupied Streets First.

Must Make Limited Fund Go as Far as Possible.

The city will make water and gas extensions in streets and avenues that have no improvements.

At its meeting yesterday afternoon the council refused to approve applications for water and gas extensions in the addition between Seventh and Tenth streets and Sixteenth and Nineteenth avenues east. The estimated cost of the work is $10,000.

Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the utility division, transmitted the applications to the council, but recommended that they be not approved, as there isn't a single house on any of the streets or avenues in which the extensions are desired.

"Our funds are limited, and we desire to use them where they will do the greatest good," said the commissioner. "Many applications for extensions are being received, but we will first make those where the greatest need exists. Streets that have homes on them will get gas and water before those which are vacant property. This is also to the best interests of the department, as the revenues will be more rapidly increased by following this plan."

Commissioner Merritt also pointed out that the new ordinance has not been passed. The measure provides for assessing guarantees for water and gas extensions. It will probably be approved at the regular meeting next Monday afternoon, and must then be published before it becomes effective. Under it, all property, whether improved or not, will be assessed 8 percent of the cost on the front-foot basis.

WANT GROUNDS IMPROVED.

Virginia Club Would Have Its Courthouse Site Beautified.

Courthouse grounds at Virginia will be parked if the Virginia Commercial club has its way, and the courthouse committee of the county board is so disposed.

A communication was received this morning at the meeting of the commissioners asking that action be taken along the line of improving and parking the courthouse grounds. The letter was written by the secretary of the Virginia Commercial club.

"The site is too fine to let it lie idle as it is doing at present," says the writer, "and if you are of the opinion that you can do some good in getting it fixed up as a park, please advise us and we will submit our plans."

WILL SPEAK HERE ON SPIRITUALISM

Dr. Manning's address Sunday will be on "The Tenets of Spiritualism." The meeting will be free and open to the public. Dr. Manning is in Superior for several days organizing a branch society there for the state association and as soon as his presence was known here, an invitation was extended to him to speak here next Sunday. He is one of the best speakers on Spiritualism in the country and is very well known as an expert of psychological treatment in medicine and surgery. He is a graduate of the New York medical college.

WOULD SET ASIDE FRANK VERDICT

Hearings on Motion Before the Georgia Superior Court.

Atlanta, Ga., June 5.—Hearings on the motion to set aside the verdict which found Leo M. Frank guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl, for which crime the young factory superintendent now is under sentence of death, were expected to open before Judge Ben H. Hill of the Fulton county superior court here today.

The motion of the defense is based upon the claim that Frank's constitutional rights were violated because the verdict was returned during his absence from the court room. Judge L. S. Ross, trial judge in the case, permitted the returning of the verdict while Frank was absent, on representation of attorneys that a public demonstration was possible if Frank were present.

Frank's lawyers have decided to take the case to the United States supreme court, should Judge Hill deny the motion to set aside the verdict. Hearings on the extraordinary motion for a new trial, another feature of the fight to save Frank's life, will be held by the supreme court in the near future.

COAL OPERATORS WOULD ARBITRATE

Charleston, W. Va., June 5.—The members of the Kanawha Coal Operators' association have expressed a willingness to submit the differences between them and the miners of the Kanawha field to arbitration. A strike has been in progress since last Monday when 8,000 of the 12,000 men employed in that district quit work because the operators refused to grant them the check-off.

The operators said they are willing to submit the present difficulty to an impartial tribunal for adjustment.

SOAP BOXERS MUST MOVE ON

Socialist Meetings Will Not Be Allowed on Second Avenue After Saturday.

May Seek Another Location If Language Is Toned Down.

Richard Jones and W. E. Towne appeared before the city commission late yesterday afternoon to urge that the Socialists be allowed to continue their nightly street meetings on Second avenue west above Superior street. Mayor Prince told them that that matter is entirely in the hands of Commissioner Hicken, head of the safety division, and that the council could take no action upon it. Commissioner Hicken referred them to Chief Troyer, explaining that the chief was handling that feature. The commissioner declared that he would not allow the meetings to be held in Duluth at which revolutionary or incendiary statements were made. He added that complaints have been made that the crowds were interfering with traffic on the avenue.

Two nights ago the soapbox orators who have been holding forth on Second avenue west received orders to discontinue their harangues. This was the reason for the appearance of Jones and Towne yesterday. From the council chamber they went to Chief Troyer. They protested strenuously that it was unfair to stop their meetings without any warning and in response to their protest Chief Troyer said that the meetings could continue the rest of the week, but that none would be allowed on the avenue after Saturday night.

Jones and Towne asserted that Second avenue is better suited to the purposes of the soapbox speakers than most of the others in the downtown section. When the chief suggested that they might go below Superior street they said that such an arrangement would not be satisfactory as the speakers would have to talk "uphill." Nor did they wish to go to First avenue west, saying that the men cleaning the streets come along with the hose and break up the meetings before they could finish before the street gang reached them.

In any event, the Socialists will be obliged to find another location for the soapbox orators if they are to continue their street meetings after Saturday night.

It will be voted on tomorrow.

Dr. Pomeroy conferred with President Wilson on the program two days ago and his introduction of such a resolution was interpreted as significant.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use It Like a Cold Cream and Dry Eczema Eruptions Right Up.

The moment you apply bold-sulphur to itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

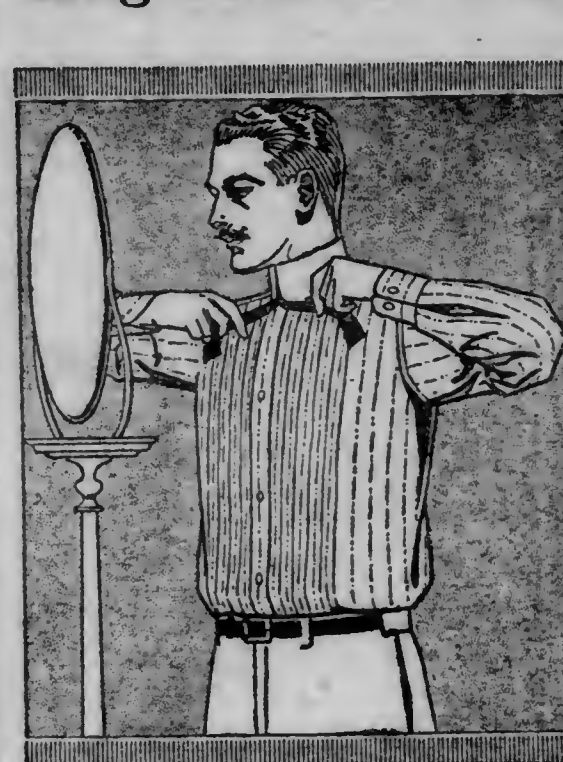

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream, which can be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

DRIVER TAKES OWN CHANCES

Cannot Collect for Death of Horse Killed on County Highway.

St. Louis county can not be held liable for damages for the death of a horse while traversing a county highway, according to an opinion which Charles E. Adams, special county counsel, gave the county board this morning.

Oscar Aho, Cedar Valley farmer, presented the commissioners with a claim for $125 for the loss of a horse, which he claimed was killed while driving along the Swan Lake road the animal stopped on a broken culvert at Milepost 10 and received injuries which were responsible for its death.

On the recommendation of the attorney for the board, the claim was disallowed.

SECOND HAND BRIDGE FOR SALE

Railroad Offers County Old Span Across St. Louis River.

The old Duluth & Winnipeg railway bridge, which has stood in the St. Louis river at New Duluth for a number of years, may be sold and removed in the near future.

The county board, at its session this morning, was notified by H. S. Wallin, resident engineer of the Great Northern Railway company, that the abandoned bridge was on the market if the county commissioners wished to purchase it.

As it now stands, it consists of a single span draw, 267 feet long and weighing 175 tons. The bridge was abandoned several years ago. The approaches to the draw were removed at that time.

It is not thought likely that the span will be purchased by the county as in the opinion of some of the commissioners the steel is too heavy for use in county bridge work.

French Dinner With Wine.

The New St. Louis Hotel will serve a French dinner with wine for 75c Saturday from 6 to 8 and Sunday from 12 to 8, with entertainers.

Settlers residing in the vicinity of section 31, 57-29, are engaged in an argument among themselves as to the boundary lines of their respective tracts and in accordance with their idea of settling the matter they have written to the county board asking that the county surveyor be directed to make a survey and establish the section and subdividing lines.

It is probable that no action will be taken by the board owing to the fact that St. Louis county is not interested directly or indirectly in the settlers' squabble. Objection was made by some of the commissioners who discussed the subject at the morning session of the board today.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

FOR today's sport menu we have recourse to some observations of George Stallings, the manager of the Boston Nationals. Before commenting at some length upon the invasion of the Federal league we will submit some epigrammatic statements. Shoot.

"Franchises in the major leagues today are not worth a chew of tobacco and will not be for three years to come."

"The Federal league is bound to lose if it wins. There is no room for three major leagues. There is not enough talent for two leagues, let alone three."

"New York is the only city that has any chance to make any money this season."

"The average major league club of today is losing from $500 to $1,000 a week—and the major leagues have treble the patronage of the Federals."

"Backers of the Federal league have already parted from ten times the amount they originally intended to invest. It is only a question of time before the backers of that league will have to pull out or be ruined."

"Time is bound to ruin the Federal league. But organized baseball is bound to suffer, too; in fact, has suffered already from the distraction."

"This is the opinion of one of the shrewdest men in baseball. The angle is, Bill, whether he has permitted prejudice to sway his judgment. It is difficult to divorce prejudice from judgment."

For some time it has been known that baseball attendance this year has been wretched. For instance, the world's champion Athletics are playing to miserable crowds. Why? If you knew and would tell, you could make some money.

Another well known fact is that there is not enough baseball players to go around. The bushes can't supply the insatiable demand of the large shore. There were not enough players for the two major leagues, and here comes butting into the proposition another league. And because of the scarcity of players and because of the haven of rest provided by the Federals the baseball players are demanding salaries that will drive the magnates to the bread lines. The Federal is and will continue to be an interesting baseball experiment. Something is going to break loose one of these days; it should be extremely interesting when it breaks.

The English polo players have brought their wives over with them. Women as a rule are sympathetic.

A headline says "Larned Regains His Old Form." Larned is nearly 30 years of age.

An English suffragist attacked a policeman with a hatchet. This year's style hats are not worn with hats.

The umpire is a lonely chap, the parish of the herd.

All summer through he goes along without a kindly word.

From the irate player chap he gets the frosty eye.

And by the irate player he is named as abili.

The courts have declared that Bob Fitzsimmons can't fight. Why are the courts so partial?

The boy stood on the burning deck, whence all but he had fled.

It is generally believed that the boy was a messenger boy.

In some of the big league bleachers they can't see the players. Maybe this is why the bleachers at St. Louis are so popular.

The Minneapolis baseball team will be represented this year at the annual G. A. R. encampment.

A committee has charge of Yale's rowing affairs. A committee also had charge of the New Haven's affairs.

All through the toil of summer-time the village smithy sweats; Not time has he for frivolity, nor yet for vain regrets.

Other than the march of toil beseech of Eugene Debs; But baseball stars in need of coin have but to join the Feds.

The prison league teams should be strong on inside baseball.

What's the internal ruction within the ranks of the Winona team?

They have "abused-shushed" over the wires and in the local baseball office when this highly impertinent question was asked. Here we go—asking it again, this time right out in the open.

First it was whispered down the baseball pike that Bill Snow was employed by the Winona team, and that the Winona team and desired devotedly to get away.

Winona offered to sell Snow to Duluth—and the price was low. Then Winona refused to sell him to Duluth—and the price was high.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

IT IS surprising to know how much money can be realized from the sale of waste paper. It is reported that a revenue of $800,000 a year is secured by the city of Pittsburgh from disposing of waste paper. Investigation seems to confirm this fact, and a number of cities are going into the business of separating waste paper from garbage and refuse, and baling the same and selling it. The price of paper is going up steadily because of rapidly disappearing forests and the consequent scarcity of wood for wood pulp. As paper advances in price so does waste paper. There are now between 5,000 and 10,000 reputable concerns in this country buying waste paper and eager for every bit they can get. They pay from $2 to $45 per ton if baled in proper shape for handling. Mixed paper stock, which includes everything—newspapers, wrapping, letters, cardboard, scraps, boxes, straw, etc.—now nets about $10 per ton, if reasonably clean and free from dirt. If in extra good condition will bring $15. Newspapers if kept separate and in good condition are worth $14 per ton. Magazines, high class catalogues and high grade waste paper bring $20 and up. Blank paper and shavings from press rooms are usually worth from $30 to $45 per ton. Marshall Field, Chicago, gets over $60,000 a year from its waste paper alone. An office building in New York City gets $22,000 for its waste paper. There are small grocery, dry goods and drug stores that have anywhere from 25 to 50 pounds of waste paper to dispose of every day. In the average small retail store it amounts to several times this much.

In fact, in the average department store, the waste paper is not only the least paying but one of the biggest paying departments. Hotels also have enormous amounts of waste paper. Income from this source amounts to as much, or many times as much as the rental from the best room in the house if occupied every day in the year. These facts and conditions are being realized by a great many cities which are equipping garbage plants with baling machines. A city in Pennsylvania with a population of 13,000 made over $20,000 clear profit in disposing of waste paper that was collected in connection with its garbage. The National Bureau of Municipal Research is in a position to advise cities further with regard to this if they desire.

The city has installed two baling machines for waste paper, one being in the city hall and the other at the public library. The official figure that if the machines, which cost $35 each, pay for themselves in the first year a profitable investment will have been made. Aside from the library and the city hall the administration has not paid much attention to utilizing waste paper. Several private individuals have declared that the municipal collection of garbage offers a profitable field and in case this were taken over by any of them they would undoubtedly sell all the waste paper which came into their hands.

Recovering From Operation.
New York, June 5.—Henry Sturgis Morgan, youngest son of J. P. Morgan, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis in the Presbyterian hospital. Young Morgan complained last week while in school at Groton, Mass., of being ill. He was taken to the hospital on Tuesday last.

RELICS OF STONE AGE SURVIVORS

Collection Gathered by Whaler Is Given to Penn Museum.

Philadelphia, June 5.—The collection of Esquimaux ethnological specimens which Capt. George Cromer, an old-time Connecticut whaler, gathered years ago on his various trips to the frozen North, has been placed in the university museum. It is an extremely large one, including garments of every kind used by both men and women. Most of them are of fur. They were designed for the usual temperature of Southampton Island, which lies to the north of Hudson Bay.

Styles on Southampton Island were elaborate, so far as the women were concerned. They made their own clothes by hand. In the long winter evenings, to judge from the clothes displayed in the Cromer collection, there was little else for them to do except for trimming and fancy adornment of creations. The men's clothes are inconspicuous.

Besides the clothes Capt. Cromer collected an array of harpoons, needles, domestic implements, bone scrapers, stone knives and the like. None of the utensils is of metal, for the Esquimaux were the last representatives of the stone age. In Cromer's earlier voyages he found a considerable group of Esquimaux, but when he was a candidate against Mr. McCormick for the party's nomination for United States senator and Mr. McCormick spokesman, he was in the hands of the Democratic State Chairman Morris has conferred informally on the subject.

The news of this plan, which if finally accomplished would cause fusion between the Democrats and the Republicans, was met with surprise by the party state committees. A. Mitchell Palmer and Van D. McCormick as the party's nominees for United States senator and Mr. McCormick spokesman, he was in the hands of the Democratic State Chairman Morris has conferred informally on the subject.

How the facts and the proposition for fusion is being discussed in both the Democratic and Republican camps. Political groups, therefore, seeking to clothe the possibility with the appearance of a veritable crusade, favorable to D. Clarence Giboney when he was a candidate against Mr. McCormick for the party's nomination for United States senator and Mr. McCormick spokesman, he was in the hands of the Democratic State Chairman Morris has conferred informally on the subject.

Another point made was that, however friendly at heart the Keystone leaders may be to the Penrose interests, they feel that they cannot come out openly as aids to the Republican state organization.

And because of the personal and political hostility existing between the Van Valkenburg management of the Washington party and the Keystone leaders, it was further argued that the Keystone would not name Pinchot and Lewis as their candidates. Hence it was asserted that it was quite likely that the Keystone organization might find as the best way out of the dilemma the acceptance of the Palmer-McCormick ticket.

It is not believed, that the Keystone party will run independent candidates, for the reason that if such a course were taken the legal standing of the Keystone party would probably be imperiled by the fact that it would have a sufficient number of votes. With Palmer and McCormick on the ticket, it was said that the Keystone ticket would probably poll the required 2 per cent of votes.

INDIANS AND IRRIGATION

Project on Idaho Reservation Has Cost Government $803,000.

Indians Now Understand Irrigation as Well as the Whites.

Salt Lake, Utah, June 5.—Though the government has expended upward of $803,000 in the construction of reservoirs, irrigation ditches and laterals, steel flumes and siphons on the Fort Hall Indian reservation in Idaho, it feels well repaid, says Henry W. Dietz, superintendent of irrigation of the United States Indian service, whose headquarters are in Salt Lake. For Indians on the Fort Hall reservation, though faithful and nursing many of the traditions of their ancestors, have developed into farmers, as skillful in the tilling of the soil as white farmers to be found anywhere in Idaho. Upon the request of the Indians, the government began installing irrigation reservoirs on the reservation in 1905. The Indians immediately began showing enthusiasm and they gave direct assistance in the building of the reservoirs and irrigation canals. Now they understand irrigation as well as the majority of Idaho farmers, and it is said they have also begun familiarizing themselves with the intrinsic value of water. They devote much time to tilling the soil, says Mr. Dietz, and rivalry has developed to grow better sugar beets, butter beans and other vegetables than the white farmer. In many instances they have proved themselves successful in this respect.

Indians Are Wise.
"The water crops produce, the more money the government will expend in giving us more irrigation water," is the advice to Indians on the reservation by Pat Tyhee, who was elected chief of the reservation tribe two years ago. He is a Blackfoot, 39 years of age, standing six feet, five inches in his moccasins and of proportionate physique. Though he likes to dress in all the feathers he is entitled to as chief, Tyhee is an Indian first and foremost and takes particular pride in his moccasins. A Blackfoot Indian, he is intelligent. He speaks good English and sometimes puts a twist to six-cylinder English in a manner that would astonish a college professor.

Several years ago he walked into a drug store at Pocatello and began examining picture postcards. A clerk and it is said, a male school teacher immediately endeavored to interest him in picture postcards of gaudy color, emphasizing their importance by saying, "Keep fine postcards." He made no reply until he had looked at all the postcards. Then he said in perfect English:

Gave Them a Surprise.
"The postcards you have pointed out do not interest me. I was endeavoring to find certain views of the San Francisco disaster, and I saw that you have not that for which I am looking." The clerk and the school teacher nearly fell in a faint. Though many such stories have been told about the chief, this one is vouched for by Indian agents on the reservation. Shortly after being elected chief Tyhee inaugurated a system of Indian judges on the reservation to try misdemeanors, according to the laws of Idaho. The reservation now has two judges, who mete out punishment by small fines and short periods of labor on irrigation canals, to the absolute satisfaction of the white residents on that reservation. Tyhee is called chief justice, but he does not like the appellation, because he says that the Indian judge proposition is one in which he is seriously interested, and which should not be looked upon as the subject for jokes.

MOVE AGAINST BOIES PENROSE

Efforts to Unite Democrats and Keystone for Palmer.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 5.—A move has been made to have the Keystone party state committee name Representative A. Mitchell Palmer and Van D. McCormick as the party's nominees for United States senator and Mr. McCormick spokesman, he was in the hands of the Democratic State Chairman Morris has conferred informally on the subject.

The news of this plan, which if finally accomplished would cause fusion between the Democrats and the Republicans, was met with surprise by the party state committees. A. Mitchell Palmer and Van D. The cave is on government land and it is expected that the district will be set aside as a national park.

Providence, R. I., June 5.—Recent experiments at the state agricultural college at Kingston are, says the Journal, of direct interest to every farmer who has tried to raise turkeys for the home market. The careful investigation there is calculated to stimulate interest in the turkey industry of the state, and if the simple Kingston remedy for that disease called the blackhead, which kills 75 per cent of the young turkeys of this region, proves to be as effective on the farm as at the state college, there is reason for believing that Rhode Island people will again see big flocks of pompous gobblers and plump hens which disappeared years

The animals were small, not more than three inches long. It is the guess that they lived not less than 15,000,000 years ago and probably resembled the mud puppies which are to be found in present-day creeks. Eastern scientists will be asked to examine the specimens.

TO MAKE NATIONAL PARK NEAR CODY.
Cheyenne, Wyo., June 5.—The interior department has ordered exploration of Ned Frost cave, a natural wonder near Cody, Wyo. It is the largest known cave in the state. It was discovered two years ago by Ned Frost, a guide, in an almost inaccessible locality on Cedar mountain. Several parties have undertaken to explore it, but none has penetrated to the full depth.

The cave is on government land and it is expected that the district will be set aside as a national park.

Providence, R. # PARK DRIVE

This attractive division is positively the best proposition offered the public in years. It adjoins Chester Park on the east for a distance of half a mile—all lots command a full view of Lake Superior, the harbor and the entire city, as well as the City of Superior, Wisconsin.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

A number of large lots along the entire westerly side of the property front on the magnificent boulevard drive and Chester park. No assessments for maintaining the street on these lots. Every lot is accurately surveyed and plainly marked with iron monuments. Application has been made for extension of gas and water mains through the entire division, the same to be made this summer. All streets and avenues are now being graded and sanitary sewers are to be constructed to drain all lots below Tenth street.

HOW TO REACH PARK DRIVE

Take any car line in the city, transfer at Third avenue West and Superior street to any East Fourth street car. During the busy hours of the day cars run every five minutes. Get off at Seventeenth avenue east and go north three blocks and you are on the property.

COME EARLY--GET THE BEST

This close-in addition completely solves the most serious problem of the homeseeker whose business demands that he be within the easy reach of downtown. Being but a short distance from the car line, and but 10 minutes from the business district for a single fare, a home on one of these choice lots gives the owner all of the advantages of the city with the disagreeable features excluded. Don't let a real opportunity slip by without at least investigating. These offerings are so unusually attractive that they should require no urging or coaxing on our part.

PRICES AND TERMS

Warranty deed. Torrens Title. A special discount of 10 per cent on the first 50 lots sold. These lots will be sold on easy payments without interest until Jan. 1, 1916. Ten per cent discount for all cash, 5 per cent discount for one-half cash; cash payments 10 per cent. Taxes for the years 1913, 1914 and 1915 to be paid by the seller. Purchaser to pay all taxes after the year 1915.

STEEL HAS AN UPTURN

Orders of U. S. Corporation Show Increase of 6,000 Tons Daily.

Western and Southwestern Railway Orders Begin to Come in.

Current orders of the United States Steel corporation in iron and steel products are reported to be averaging over 6,000 tons a day ahead of a month ago, and judging by the volume of inquiries now coming to hand, officials express the opinion that the turn in the tide has come.

Confidence is expressed that the railroad industry will be in the market for considerable equipment within the next three or four weeks. Inquiries regarding this equipment are reported to have been received this week from some of the roads in the West and Southwest leading to the assumption that heavy buying will develop as soon as the crops are regarded as assured.

Export business is being well maintained, and is thought to promise good expansion during the fall months. An order for 35,000 tons of rails for shipment to Australia, just taken by the Steel Corporation, was the largest foreign commission in that line in several months.

Officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad expect to complete their big project of driving a tunnel through the Cascade mountains by July 15 next.

The work has been in progress since 1912, and has entailed a heavy capital expenditure. It involved the cutting of a bore 11,982 feet long through the summit of the Cascade mountains at a point between Rockdale, Wash., and Keechelus, sixty miles east of Seattle. It will effect a saving in distance of over 3.6 miles and will eliminate 413 feet of rise and fall and 1,239 degrees of curvature.

In the present operation of the road it requires three heavy Mallet engines to bring a passenger train over the summit of the mountain, but with the going into operation of the tunnel about Jan. 1 next, westbound trains will cross the summit without any helper service, while those eastbound will require the use of one helper for a distance of nineteen miles.

FOUR QUARTETS WILL SING AT EMPRESS

Tonight, at the Empress theater, the second singing contest will be held. Owing to the success of the first contest another is to be held at both shows tonight.

Four, who won first prize last Friday, and the M. W. A. quartet, who gave them a hard rub, together with the Raymond Four and another quartet, will compete for the $20 prize tonight. Contest Manager Allan, who has heard all four of the quartets, promises some very excellent singing. Popular songs are to be the selections heard tonight. In addition to the contest, the Empress management is offering one of the classiest vaudeville programs seen at that popular playhouse for some time.

Arthur W. King secretary and treasurer of the Woodruff Lumber company of this city, has just completed a deal taking over an apartment building at Fifty-fourth avenue and Greenwood street, Chicago. The cost of the new property was $35,000, which included the residence property traded in.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Verdict in Case of Mrs. Fred Raab at Long Beach.

Long Beach, Cal., June 5.—Murder and suicide was the verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the case of Mrs. Fred Raab, the young woman who killed her two little girls and herself Wednesday. An autopsy revealed that the young woman was again approaching motherhood, a condition which she confessed in a suicide note.

No evidence regarding the man she charged as responsible was brought out at the inquest, and a physician who had been technically in custody pending investigation was released.

The physician denied the assertion that the young woman had been one of his patients. Statements of faith in him were issued by fellow physicians, and by the official board of the First Methodist church.

HIGHER PAY FOR TEACHERS NEEDED.

Philadelphia, June 5.—Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college, in an address to the graduating class yesterday, declared that if institutions of higher education in the United States expect to meet effectively and successfully the new demands that are being made upon them for more advanced and scientific teaching methods, they must immediately set themselves to the work of making the teaching profession more lucrative.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othello Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Boyce Drug Store under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

"DEFEAT PENROSE," IS THEIR SLOGAN

Pennsylvania Progressives Continue Bill Flinn as Committeeman.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 5.—The Washington party, as the Progressive party in Pennsylvania is known, yesterday laid its plans for the coming campaign, organized its state committee for the year and adopted its declaration of principles. William I. Flinn of Pittsburgh was continued national committeeman.

The platform adopted declares that "the paramount issue in Pennsylvania today is Penrose and Penrosism." The platform adds:

"To defeat Penrose and destroy for all time the immoral system for which he stands, is the greatest task which confronts us."

The platform declares that the party stands for protection and that the tariff is a matter of business, not politics. The principles of the national Progressive platform of 1912 are reaffirmed and the party renews its allegiance to Theodore Roosevelt, who is referred to as "our great leader."

Local option with the county as a unit and woman's suffrage are favored.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 5.—Revised and complete returns from practically every county in the state on offices still in doubt show the following results:

Frank S. Shankland of Des Moines, undoubtedly defeated for the Republican nomination for the supreme court. Clifford Thomas of Washington and James H. Wilson of Tama, nominated by Republicans, for railroad commissioner.

Des Moines and Smith, neck and neck for Democratic nomination for secretary of state.

B. Martin of Dubuque, nominated by Democrats for railroad commissioner.

Great interest centered in the contest between Harding and Barber for the lieutenant governorship nomination when late reports from many counties Letter From Perkins Received By National Progressive Organizer.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 5.—Theodore Roosevelt is seriously considering the proposition of becoming the Progressive candidate for governor of New York, according to a letter received by David Hinshaw, national Progressive organizer here, from George W. Perkins. Some of Col. Roosevelt's plans for the campaign are told by Mr. Perkins.

"When he first came home, he said that he did not see how he could possibly do this, but when he left here, I think he was weighing the matter with great care, and that if he makes up his mind that duty calls him to make the race here, for the sake of conditions existing in this state, and because of the Progressive demand for him, he will get into the race, and accept the nomination," the letter reads.

MODERN SCHOOL IS PLAN FOR PROCTOR

School Board Voted Power to Raise $50,000 From Bonds.

Plans and specifications for a combination high and grade school to cost about $50,000 will be asked for within a short time by the members of the Proctor school board. The new building will probably not be erected until next year so as to be ready for the opening of the school term in the fall of 1915.

The village recently voted to allow the school board to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000 for this purpose. These bonds, with what school aid the village received from the state, will be used to erect a new school building.

The new school will be erected on the site of the building now in use on the west side of the village. The present building is of frame and has been in use for over twenty years. Several times the Proctor board has been forced to make additions and it is claimed that the original building is now lost in a series of patchwork.

The new building will be modern in every respect. It will be equipped for manual training and domestic science as well as other necessary apparatus for modern high school work. The contract for the building will probably be let this fall and the children taken care of in other buildings about the village during the winter.

IMPROVES TWO CITY DEPARTMENTS

Hicken Will Motorize Fire Station and Install Police Auto.

Commissioner W. H. Hicken, head of the safety division, is contemplating entirely motorizing the West Duluth fire station and installing an automobile for the use of the West Duluth police department.

This is being considered in connection with plans for the building of a new fire hall in the Western suburb and may be partially carried out independently of the new station. The first move will probably be to dispose of the team which is used in the wagon, replacing the team with a small machine. The horses have been used to but seven patrol calls in the last two months, although they have been used for other purposes. The expense of maintaining them is considerable. The upkeep of a light automobile would be comparatively small and a large part of the purchase price could be raised through the sale of the horses, which are in good condition.

Later a tractor may be placed on the hook and ladder in the fire hall. This is now hauled by a team of horses. The steamer and hose have been replaced by the new combination hose, chemical and gasoline motor.

Commissioner Hicken declares that motor apparatus not only decreases the maintenance expenses but increases the efficiency of the departments.

When a new building is erected it will contain quarters for the fire department, the police department and the municipal court. A small stable may be constructed in the rear, entirely separate from the main building, for a team of horses which could be used for emergency purposes.

MAY REORGANIZE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Beautiful Hair Tinting

Absolutely and Positively Harmless "Brownatone" Instantly Changes the Hair to Any Shade of Brown (or Black if Preferred.)

Nothing so robs a woman of her good looks and attractiveness as gray, streaked or faded hair. And there is no more reason or sense in tolerating unattractive hair than there is in wearing a becoming gown. Nearly all of the more noted beauties long ago recognized this fact, and so wear their hair not only in the style, but also the color, most becoming.

The one hair stain that stands supreme is "Brownatone." It is simple and easy to use. Just comb or brush it into your hair. It can not be detected, will not rub or wash off, acts instantly, and is absolutely harmless. "Brownatone" will give any shade desired from golden brown to black. Your druggist and the other hair preparator and not something else. A sample and a booklet will be mailed you upon receipt of 10 cents, and your orders will be filled direct from our laboratories.

Two sizes—25c and 50c.

PUBLIC OPINION MUCH INFLAMED

British People Incensed at Outrages By the Militants.

London, June 5.—Recent indignities shown by militants to the king and the burning down of many churches have inflamed public opinion to a remarkable degree. People have been still further incensed by what is regarded as the well-grounded belief that much of the work of destruction is done by hired help and well-paid, out of the bulging coffers of the Women's Social and Political union. Cases have been reported of women leaving other employment to join the militants, not from love of the cause, but "because the pay is better."

Police magistrates have warned suffragette prisoners that if they had not been protected by the police they would almost certainly have suffered at the hands of the late police. The ugly temper shown by the crowd at recent militant demonstrations seems to support this view.

Greater activity on the part of the government is expected.

Much lucrative American tourist business is being lost by London hotel and store keepers because of the suffragette raids on the public museums and art galleries.

PARK RAPIDS MAN IS SLAIN

Peter Healy, Old Lumber Contractor, Victim of Beating.

Harvey McCollough Held on Charge of Killing Him.

Park Rapids, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Healy, aged 50, a lumber contractor, married who has lived here many years, owns many farms in this section and is considered well-to-do, died at a local hospital about 9 last night of injuries sustained last Monday when it is alleged he was viciously beaten by Harvey McCollough.

McCullough is a local man and is under arrest and a coroner's jury is probing the affair today. Healy's death is considered the culmination of a feud that had existed between the two for three years.

Both had been drinking. According to current stories of the affair both had been drinking when they met on the street Monday and the quarrel was renewed. McCollough it is said, assaulted Healy and dragged him to McCollough's home three blocks away.

He dragged Healy along and when Healy would fall it is claimed McCollough kicked him and struck him and finally when he got him to the McCollough's home, assaulted him viciously.

McCullough's wife ran to where some carpenters were working on a house and begged them to call the police. The marshal went at once. He found Healy lying in a pool of blood and took him home. When the marshal left the Healy home McCollough returned to Healy's home and attempted to renew the quarrel. He was driven off.

CROSBY'S SOLITARY SALOON NOW CLOSED

Proprietor of Spaulding Hotel Bar Accused of Law Violation.

Crosby, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council yesterday revoked the liquor license of H. J. Breen in the Spaulding hotel and ordered him to close his saloon, as it is alleged that he allowed liquor to be sold last Sunday in violation of the state law.

The fight between the wets and dries has been a long and bitter one. In the annual election last April the town was voted dry by a majority of two votes. The wets appealed to the district court, charging that mistakes had been made in the counting of the ballots. After a long trial the judge rendered a decision in favor of the dries, but allowed twenty days in which to make a motion for a new trial.

Crosby Now Dry. By the closing of the only saloon this town is in the dry list. It is feared that the Fitter Brewing company of Duluth, which owns the building, will close up the hotel, as without the bar it is not a paying proposition.

The Spaulding hotel has been one of the leading hotels of the range and was noted for its up-to-date service. An addition costing over $30,000 was completed last fall, which added thirty rooms and enlarged the lobby, dining room and kitchen.

part of next week for Grand Rapids, Mich., where he will attend the annual convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs. Following the convention, Chief Troyer will take a short vacation, returning to Duluth about June 25.

Cold Creates Lodgers.

The cold weather of last evening drove a large number of men indoors and eighteen were given free lodging by the police during the night. For the last three weeks the lodging list has been very light, owing to the warm weather.

Gets Straight Farm Sentence.

For being drunk a fourth time, Olof Lindberg, 58 years old, will have to spend the next eighty-five days on the work farm. He was arrested last evening by Sergeant Rogers and, pleading guilty in police court this morning, was given a straight work farm sentence.

Forced Into Bankruptcy.

Creditors of Ubaldo Ezecher, proprietary of the Duluth Sausage company, yesterday filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against him with the clerk of the United States court. Through their attorneys, Courtney & Courtney, the Armour company, Decker & Sons and the Shapiro Tucker-Paust company, demands payment of bills amounting to $700 and ask that their debtor be adjudged a bankrupt.

Open Paving Bids.

The works division this morning opened bids for the paving of Ver-million road from Fifth street to Ontario street, a distance of about one and one-quarter miles. They had not been figured up to noon and will not be available until this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Bids were received on several different kinds of paving, including bituminous concrete, bituminous asphalt, creosote blocks, brick, concrete and sandstone blocks.

The bids run from $50,000 to $80,000.
This will probably be the last large street improvement contract to be awarded this season.

Senators Will Attend St. Paul's.

will attend the vesper service at St.
Paul's church at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A sermon will be preached by Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St.
Paul's, and special music will be rendered by the full vested choir.

Look Up Row's Grocery

In the market basket column.

Find Empty Rowboat.

The police received a report this morning that an empty rowboat was found at the foot of Twenty-third avenue east. It was thought at first that the boat was the one used by the two New Duluth boys, who disappeared last Tuesday, but this theory is given little credence. It is hardly likely the police think, for the boat to have drifted all the way down the river, through the canal and out to Twenty-third avenue east.

Forced to Go to Work.

Albert Johnson, 23 years old, who was arrested on this morning on a charge of vagrancy, pleaded guilty in police court and was given a straight sentence on the work farm. He was picked up by Patrolman P. Barber.

CLAIMS SHAMROCK IS FASTEST BOAT

London, June 5.—The yachting reporter of the Evening Standard today estimated that Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, will have to allow about four minutes to the biggest of the American defenders. He credits an unnamed American yachtsman, who witnessed yesterday's sail stretching spins and who has seen three defenders, as saying Shamrock IV will prove faster than any of them. In this case much will depend on the question of time allowance.

KING WOULD COME TO UNITED STATES

New York, June 5.—King Alfonso of Spain is anxious to come to the United States next year to visit the Panama Pacific exposition in San Francisco and

MEN MEET

Grievances of Long Standing Are Discussed; Plan Another Meeting.

Subway at Smithville Proves Stumbling Block to the Officials.

Following the regular council meeting yesterday afternoon the commissioners met with Superintendent Strachan of the Northern Pacific, who has succeeded H. V. Brown in this division, and Oscar Mitchell, attorney of the road, to discuss the various matters at issue between the city and the railroad.

These include the subway at Smithville, the maintenance of the Sixth avenue viaduct, the improvement of Railroad street, the Jensen street bridge and several other matters of less importance.

Most of the time yesterday was taken up with consideration of the Smithville crossing. Attorney Mitchell said that it is not especially material to the railroad whether the tracks are crossed at Ogologic street or where they are now intersected by Commonwealth avenue. He stated that they would be willing to recommend to the St. Paul officials that the road pay the expense of the subway within its right of way, which is 150 feet wide at that point. The commissioners said that they felt that the company should bear the entire expense of grading and constructing if the city takes care of damages caused to adjoining property because of the long and deep cut which will be necessary. No definite conclusion was reached as no figures were available. It was agreed that another meeting would be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the city engineer would be present with the estimates of cost which he has prepared.

The railroad representatives pointed out that when the Sixth avenue via-duct was built the council passed a resolution agreeing to maintain the roadway. Some members of the commission held that the city should not be bound by an agreement a quarter of a century old.

Attorney Mitchell stated that the company is willing to plank its crossings on Railroad street. Some years ago the city condemned a right of way to extend Railroad street to Garfield avenue. The company took an appeal from the award of damages and the case is still pending in the district court.

The Jensen street bridge was not considered to be of immediate pressing importance and it was tentatively agreed that it should be allowed to remain quiet for the present.

"J. C. R." MYSTERY ALL CLEARED UP

Brother and Sister Affirm Identification by His Mother.

Chicago, June 5.—When brother and sister today affirmed their mother's identification of the mysterious "J. C.
R." as her son and the latter, whose mind is practically a blank and whose memories are paralyzed, gave evidence of affectionate remembrance of his mother, the 8-year-old son of the "man who was" was cleared to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mrs. H. E. Pitkin last night identified the man as Earl W. Hes, her son by a former husband, but his brother and sister protested that he appeared to be too old.

"I have been working for months to prove that he was my son and that he has all been compelled to admit it at last," declared the overjoyed mother today.

"Son," she said, turning to the distressed man who sat beside her,
"they have said that I am not your mother."

With a quick clasp of his unaffected left arm the invalid drew her to him and his lips moved as if he would speak. His eyes, though, showed his emotion.

"There is only one word which J. C. R. or Hes can articulate," explained Mrs.
Pitkin. "It was always his favorite word."

Hes indicated that he never had been a naval officer.

Mrs. Pitkin explained the use of the initials "J. C. R." by stating that they were those of her father, which were engraved on his watch, which he made a present to Earl. Earl was carrying the watch at the time he was injured.

When Hes left Chicago in 1908 he had $5,000. He was with which so complete payment for machinery to be used in his mine at Goldfield, in California, that year. Mrs. Pitkin received a letter from him dated Minn-neapolis, stating that he was on his way home.

DRDWNED BOY'S BODY NOT FOUND

No Trace Found of Corpse of Cloquet Youth.

Cloquet, Minn., June 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Diligent search has failed to find the body of John Syralia, the 8-year-old boy drowned in the Cloquet river near the water power mill several days ago while fishing. He was sitting on a rock when his companion saw him suddenly reel over and fall into the swift current which swept him away. It is believed he had a fainting spell. The alarm was given and the mill gates closed but owing to the high water the current was not shut off completely. It is feared the body was carried down the river.

This is the second misfortune for the Syralia family, the father now being in the state asylum at Fergus Falls and the mother having to care for her flock alone.

WILL HOLD WHIPPLE FUNERAL SATURDAY

Body Arrives in Duluth; Daughter Will Come From East.

The funeral of L. H. Whipple, 56 years old, former county treasurer, who suddenly dropped dead early yesterday while on a fishing trip near Beaver, Minn., on the Alger-Smith line, will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the family residence, 130 Oxford street. The family has requested that friends do not send any flowers.

Rev. W. W. Lawrence of the Glen Avenue Presbyterian church, will officiate, and interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

The body of Mr. Whipple arrived in Duluth at 11:30 o'clock this morning and is in charge of C. J. Stewart, under-taker. The funeral arrangements were made this afternoon upon receipt of a telegram from Miss Florence Whipple, daughter of the deceased, who left Mount Holyoke, Mass., where she has been attending school, early yesterday, stating that she would be able to make connections at Chicago tomorrow morning.

Besides a widow, Mr. Whipple is survived by two daughters and one son. He was a resident of Duluth for the last twenty-five years and was one of the best known men in the northern part of the state. He had been in apparently good health and his sudden death yesterday came as a surprise to his many friends.

CITY WILL DO PRINTING WORK

Utility Department Gets $510 for the Purchase of Miltograph.

The water and light department will hereafter do a large amount of its own printing. At the council meeting yesterday afternoon an ordinance appropriating $510 for the purchase of a miltograph was given its third reading and passed.

With this machine the department will get out most of the numerous forms which it uses in the daily transaction of its business. If satisfactory arrangements can be made the machine may be used for similar purposes by other city departments.

George L. Gross, accountant, states that the machine will pay for itself within two years, as material savings will be made in the department's printing bills. He estimates that they will be reduced one-third. The machine does not work and is operated by a small motor.

Inquiry Opens June 16.
Montreal, June 5.—The commission to inquire into the Empress of Ireland wreck will open its sessions at Quebec on June 16, it was officially announced today.

ONLY TRADE COMMISSION BILL IS OUT

Senate Committee Decides to Separate It From Other Measures.

Newlands Says Others May Be Taken Up at Later Date.

May Be No Curtailment of Trust Program This Session.

Washington, June 6.—The senate interstate commerce committee today voted to report out only the trade commission measure of the trust bills. The action was construed by many as an indication of limitation of the administration's program at the present session of congress.

There was no record vote. In a general discussion some senators opposed the motion, and others declared themselves opposed even to this bill at the present time. Chairman Newlands said the committee later might take up supplemental legislation and issued this statement:

"The committee determined today to segregate the trade commission from the supplemental legislation, and have authorized me to present an amendment in the nature of a substitute for my original bill for a trade commission. The committee concluded to name the trade commission the Federal trade commission instead of the interstate trade commission, in order clearly to distinguish it from the interstate commerce commission.

No Wholesale Inquiry.—The fear that this bill will inaugurate a wholesale inquiry of the 350,000 corporations of the country is groundless. This power is substantially the same as is now possessed by the bureau of corporations, and certainly the powers of that bureau have not been exercised in such a way as to annoy the honest business of the country.

The committee will continue its consideration of supplemental legislation regarding interlocking directorates, holding companies, etc., and its action may be on the line of amendments to the trade commission bill or of separate legislation.

Not Any Curtailment.—Some administration senators declared the committee's action did not foreshadow a curtailment of the trust program at this session. Those included the view that it may pointed out that the committee had not after conference with some of the members with the president, and emphasized the president's adjournment before the fall campaign.

To Report Bill Soon.—Mr. Newlands plans to report the bill early next week and will seek to have it made the unfinished business of the senate after the session of the house. The situation is further complicated by the three house anti-trust bills. At least one of the Clayton bill, will be claimed by the senate judiciary committee.

Senator Cummins favors more drastic legislation than proposed in the trade commission bill. In the case of a bill for the national incorporation of railroads which will conflict with much of the house legislation. The most optimistic senators incline to the belief that the senate will be unable to pass a bill in less than two months, and many predict a much longer debate if all the subjects covered in the house bills are to be incorporated in legislation receiving senate approval.

IS UNABLE TO FORM CABINET

Fresh Ministerial Crisis in France and Viviani Steps Out.

Hopeless Division Over Modifying the Military Service Law.

Paris, June 6.—Rene Viviani, who yesterday was said to have accepted the premiership and to have virtually settled all the members of the new cabinet, today informed President Poincaré that he was unable to form a ministry and declined to make any further efforts to do so.

There was heated discussion when the statement chosen by M. Viviani met informally this morning to prepare their declaration of policy to be laid before parliament. The question whether the new combination should unreservedly support the three years' military service law or modify it, found a hopeless division of opinion. As a consequence of this discussion, M. Viviani at once proceeded to the place of the Elysee to tell the president he had decided to give up his attempt to form a cabinet.

Russia Objects to Change.—It was said Maurice Paleologue, French ambassador to Russia, who arrived here last night, had informed the president it was the earnest hope of the emperor of Russia that France would not modify the three years' army service and that he had butimated that any such step would tend to weaken the alliance between France and Russia.

M. Paleologue is reported as having said he would be resigning his post at St. Petersburg if the law were changed. A presidential decree had been already drafted and was ready to be issued today, announcing the dissolution of the cabinet, provisionally formed by M. Viviani, when the fresh ministerial crisis arose.

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT IN CRITICAL CONDITION

ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

Chicago, June 6.—Adlai E. Stevenson, vice president of the United States under President Cleveland, who is seriously ill at the Presbyterian hospital, was taken to the city of Chicago.

Weakness incident to his eighty years and the nervous breakdown he suffered after the death of his wife six months ago told against the veteran statesman.

A critical turn in his condition was expected by the physicians in charge within twenty-four hours. His son, Louis, and other members of the family were at his bedside today.

The failure is believed to be the result of a large operation in Grand Trunk by Arthur Morton Grenfell, who was formerly a member of the firm and whose dealings recently have been the subject of much gossip. It is said several Canadian and other companies wherein he was interested are involved. Earl Grey, whose daughter was Grenfell's first wife, is reported among the heavy losers.

Powerful banking and other interests have been working for some weeks to re-establish Grenfell's affairs in the (Continued on page 7, third column.)

ARE STOPPED BY FUSILLADE

Police at Budapest Vainly Try to Capture Mad Murderer.

Takes Refuge in Church Steeple and Shoots at Pursuers.

Budapest, June 6.—A mad murderer, August Tomics, has since yesterday morning made an impregnable fortress out of the steeple of the village church at Hoeffany. Armed with a repeating rifle and 500 cartridges, he took refuge in the steeple after killing a farmer and his wife and wounding their daughter.

Police tried to reach the criminal but were stopped by a fusillade which killed two and wounded fourteen others.

A large force of police surrounded the church today, but their commander confessed he was helpless until Tomics decided to surrender voluntarily or used up his ammunition. A narrow stairway is the only approach to the steeple, and whenever anybody has attempted to ascend it Tomics has been able to force him quickly to descend again. He fired 200 of his 500 cartridges yesterday and, besides wounding a large number of persons, destroyed the altar and pictures in the church.

This morning he shouted from the steeple: "It is a good thing you let me sleep during the night. Now I have fresh strength. When my last cartridge is gone, I will kill myself."

CONCILIATORS OFF FOR WEST VIRGINIA

Federal Board Will Try to Settle the Coal Strike.

Washington, June 6.—The board of conciliation appointed by Secretary Wilson of the department of labor to try to adjust the differences between striking miners in the Kanawha coal fields of West Virginia and the operators, was preparing today to leave for West Virginia. The conciliators are Charles W. Mills and Patrick Gilday of Pennsylvania, representatives of the miners, and C. A. Faulkner, a representative of the department of labor. They expect to be on the ground to take up their work next week. Ten thousand men are said to be affected by the strike.

Labor Leader Glad.—"We have not been notified by Secretary Wilson of the appointment of the conciliation board to look into the coal strike," said Thomas Hagerty of the international board of the United Mine Workers, "but we are glad the department of labor has taken this action."

"We will present our case as we did to the coal operators, offering the original twenty-four demands. This will let the board act on all that we asked and not only the final proposition of the check-off. We have no fear regarding the outcome."

It was noted here that the Kanawha Coal Operators' association had been officially notified of the appointment of the board, but Secretary D. T. Evans is in Washington and members of the association refused to discuss the matter.

GOES TO LONDON TO STUDY WORLD PEACE

Kansas City, Mo., June 6.—Alfred D. Pittman, a writer on the staff of the Kansas City Star, today received a telegram that he had been selected as one of the five young Americans to be sent to London by the American Association for International Conciliation to study world peace.

Five young men from England, France, Germany and Russia will also be chosen and the association is expected to work toward international conciliation. About four months will be occupied in study.

SUSPENSION DUE TO STOCK TRANSACTION

Well Known Firm of London Bankers Goes to Wall.

Daring Operations in Grand Trunk Stock Cause of Trouble.

Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell & Co.'s Failure Involves Canadian Concerns.

London, June 6.—Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell & Co., limited, the well-known firm of merchants and bankers in No. 8 Princes street, suspended today.

The company was registered in 1899 to take over the business of Morton, Chaplin & Co. (formerly Morton, Rose & Co.) Its authorized capital is $1,750,000.

The firm is an old established one with high reputation and excellent family connections. It conducted general and private banking and a company for promoting business. The directors include Ernest Chaplin, G. Grenfell Milne and E. W. Skipwith.

The failure is believed to be the result of large operations in Grand Trunk by Arthur Morton Grenfell, who was formerly a member of the firm and whose dealings recently have been the subject of much gossip. It is said several Canadian and other companies wherein he was interested are involved. Earl Grey, whose daughter was Grenfell's first wife, is reported among the heavy losers.

CLERKS ROBBED BY HIGHWAYMEN

Three Men Under Arrest and One Said to Have Confessed.

New York, June 6.—Joseph Longo, a chauffeur, and James Fay, a poolroom owner, were held today charged with participation in the holdup yesterday of two employees of the American Can company, who were robbed of nearly $3,000. Fred Kelley, arrested previously, confessed, according to the police, that he had driven the car in which the men escaped. He said Longo hired him.

The clerks had just returned from a bank with the money in small bills in a valise. They were entering the factory when two men leaped out of a touring car and with pistols revolved told them to throw up their hands. A confederate stepped inside the factory and ordered every one to keep quiet. The clerks dropped the bag and the robbers escaped with the money.

Both cashiers, John Armstrong, a young man, and John Bonaville, 33 years old, were badly injured by blackjacks, wielded by the robbers. Armstrong was semi-conscious when picked up. He had tried to follow the robbers and had fallen from weakness. Both he and the elder man were treated by physicians.

HERRESHOFF-DESIGNED BOAT WHICH IS CANDIDATE FOR AMERICA'S CUP DEFENDER

THE YACHT RESOLUTE. The Resolute, the Herreshoff-designed boat, which is now having a series of races with the Vanitie, the Gardner-designed boat, for the honor of being the America's cup defender. The Vanitie gives the Resolute an allowance of 3 minutes, 23 seconds.

YACHTS BEGIN FOURTH RACE

Wind Six Knots and Sound Speckled With Soft Spots.

Best Suited to Vanitie With Her Enormous Sail Spread.

Associated Press Boat, off Greenwich, Conn., June 6.—The cup candidate Vanitie and Resolute started their fourth race shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. Resolute crossed the line at 1:17:23 and Vanitie at 1:17:41. They were both on the port tack with balloon sails as they got under way.

Both boats were slow in crossing the line. To some extent the Vanitie was hindered by motorboats. They headed the sound on the first leg of the triangular course over which they were to sail twice for a total of 29 1/2 miles.

At noon the wind was hardly more than six knots and the sound was speckled with soft spots. It was a day best suited to Vanitie with her enormous sail spread.

The forty single stickers made sail early and some time before 1 o'clock, the hour set for the start, were out stretching their canvases.

Near Hoppers the storm struck the farmhouse of James Allen and five members of the family were injured and the buildings were wrecked.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN JUMP

Several passengers and other members of the crews were injured, but none seriously. It is said the passenger train ran past signals.

NO WORD OF CARRANZA'S INTENTIONS

Reply on Attitude Toward Mediation Not Expected Until Monday.

Informal Advices Indicate That the Situation Is Highly Encouraging.

Question of Ammunition Shipments Not Giving Mediators Concern.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 6.—Definite word regarding Constitutional attitude toward mediation is not expected by the South American envoys until Monday or possibly Tuesday. They realize that Gen. Carranza's trip from Durango to Saltillo will occupy him during the next forty-eight hours and they are not disposed to worry about the delay, believing time for deliberation is an essential at this moment.

The mediators have no inkling of what the Constitutionalists will do, nor have either set of delegates. Such informal word as has been conveyed here from Washington indicates that the situation is highly encouraging, though it is believed the formal answer from Carranza will not be drafted until he gets more information from his agents in the United States than was sufficient to decide upon the correspondence with the mediators.

Only Question of Policy.—Shipments to either the Constitutionalists or the Huerta government is not giving the mediators concern as they hold it to be an issue purely for the American government to decide upon. The only armistice in effect now is between the Huerta government and the United States and so far as known there has been no agreement by the Washington government with the mediators or either of the Mexican factions as to the shipment of arms from the United States to Mexico, the whole question being one of policy.

STATE SUSTAINED IN FRANK'S CASE

Demurrer to Motion to Set Aside Verdict Upheld.

Atlanta, Ga., June 6.—Judge Ben H. Hill, of the Fulton county superior court, today sustained the state's demurrer to the motion to set aside the verdict by which Leo M. Frank was found guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory girl.

The motion was based on the claim that Frank's constitutional rights were violated when the verdict was returned and the condemned man's absence from court.

TOOK PLUTO FOR A WALK

Schumann - Heink's Husband Gave Mrs. Dean's Dog Exercise.

Also Seen at the Dean Apartment Wearing an Apron.

Chicago, June 6.—If Mrs. Schumann-Heink is soiling her husband, William Rapp, Jr., for divorce, is to attend the Wagnerian festival in Bayreuth, Germany, June 15, as she earnestly desires, she must leave her case in the hands of her attorneys and hurry away, as the defense has not yet begun. Today was devoted to reading depositions of New York witnesses.

Further testimony that William Rapp was often at the New York apartments occupied by Mrs. Catherine E. Dean, named in the divorce bill, was presented at the morning session of court. Few spectators were present and the attorneys hurried the reading of the depositions.

In her written testimony one witness, Mrs. Elizabeth Heink, who said she had often seen Mr. Rapp at the Dean apartment, replied to a question "is Mr. Rapp fat or thin?" by saying "Not so thin—just nice."

But Walking With Pluto. She also said that she had frequently seen him "out walking with Pluto, Mrs. Dean's dog."

Pluto, the dog, also appeared in the deposition of Lillian Schmidt, daughter of the Dean apartment owner, who told of being hired by Mark Harrison, the actor, who was said to have been a frequent visitor there, to take the dog out for exercise.

The girl testified that she saw Rapp at the Dean apartment wearing an apron and firing the stove. She declared that Mrs. Dean asked him to buy some meat and called him "hon."

Kissed the Letter. "Once," said the girl, "Mrs. Dean showed me a letter from Mr. Rapp. She kissed the letter and she let me read it. I don't remember what it said but it ended 'Your faithful Billie'."

Mrs. Annie Schmidt, mother of Lillian, testified in a deposition that she knew Mr. Rapp and that she had often seen him at the Dean's place. She told of seeing him leave early each morning in February, 1913.

WHERE WE GET SPONGES

A Greek Diver Discovers Valuable Fishing Districts
Off the Coast of Honduras—What a Funny Fish a Sponge Is.

Where do all the sponges come from? From the sea, of course, but very few people know just how or where they are gathered, and that their habitat is restricted to a very few profitable fishing districts. Like oysters, sponges don't travel about of their own accord, and they must be caught where they grow. As the demand constantly increases and the older fishing areas are being depleted, newly discovered grounds are of great importance and are eagerly sought.

A news item in the current number of the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan American Union, Washington, D. C., states that recently a shipment of 3,000 sponges of a fine grade arrived at Mobile, Alabama, from the coast of Honduras. The fact that this coast has extensive sponge-fishing possibilities had been either practically unknown or ignored until a Greek sponge-fisher from the Mediterranean sea happened along during the latter part of last year. With about three weeks' fishing he gathered enough for the shipment alluded to, and now Honduras is going to add another product to its other numerous industries.

Sponge-fishing is a rather unique occupation, and the term "fishing" is not much of a misnomer. Most of them are still caught with hooks notwithstanding the fact that the improvement in diving apparatus has made their gathering easier. They thrive only in the salt water of the sea, and the best known districts are in the Mediterranean sea, the Caribbean sea, the Gulf of Mexico, and waters contiguous to these. Those of the Mediterranean are the oldest and produce about half in value, though not in quantity, of the world's supply.

To persons who know sponges only as they appear ready for sale and use, the animal as it comes from the sea would be unrecognizable. It is a solid looking, rather slimy, fleshy body, varying in color from light-greyish yellow through a range of browns to black, and in form either cup-shaped, spheroidal, or cake-shaped, according to the species, its age, or the environment in which it grew. In general, in appearance and consistency and the manner in which it cuts with a knife, a living sheep-wool sponge is not unlike a piece of beef liver, perforated with holes and canals. The sponge of the markets is merely the skeleton, the supporting framework which gives strength and form to the soft gelatinous tissues of the living animal.

Concerning the life histories of commercial sponges but little is known. In some species at least, the sexes are separate, the females greatly preponderating, and the young are produced mainly if not solely from eggs. The young are, for a time, minute free-swimming organisms which may be carried considerable distances by the currents before they at last settle down for a permanent attachment, usually on natural rocky bars near the coast.

The old method of gathering the sponge was to wade into the shallow water and pull up the growth by hand. Later the sponge hook, a two or three tined short hook attached to a long pole, was introduced, and deeper water could be fished. The fisherman in his boat closely scanned the bottom of the water for sponges, tearing them loose and depositing them in the boat by means of this hook. To overcome the difficulty of seeing the bottom because of the ripples on the surface of the water, the "sponge glass," or "water telescope" was introduced about 1870. This is merely an ordinary pair of glasses. The device, when placed with its glass bottom beneath the surface of the water does away with the ripples and also operates by deflecting reflection and to heighten its efficiency the hooker usually wears a large straw hat which casts off a large portion of the direct light when his head is thrust into the mouth of the bucket. By this means the bottom may sometimes be seen in clear water to a depth of 50 feet. Two men are required to each boat, the hooker and the sealer, and considerable skill is required to prevent mutilation in tearing up the sponges. In 1885 the Mediterranean method of introduced and used successfully in American waters, and now many of the Greek type of boats, equipped with gasoline engines, are being used and the yield per man has greatly increased. American sponge fisheries now produce about 4,000,000 pounds annually, valued at something over $1,500,000.

THE PROVIDENT CHIPMUNK.
John Burroughs in Harper's Magazine: At present my favorite denizen of the orchard is the chipmunk. He, too, likes the apple seeds, but he is not given to chipping up the apples as much as is the red squirrel. He waits till the apples are ripe and then nibbles the pulp. He also likes the orchard because it tells his movements when making his trips to and fro, if danger threatens, the trunk of every tree is a house of refuge.

As I write these lines in my leafy tent, a chipmunk comes in, foraging for his winter supplies. I have brought him cherry pits and peach pits and cracked wheat, from time to time, and now he calls on me several times a day. His den is in the orchard but a few yards from me and I enjoy having him for so near a neighbor. He has at last become so familiar that he climbs to my lap, then to the table, then to my shoulder and head, looking for the kernels of popcorn that he is convinced have some perennial source or supply near me or about me. He clears up every kernel, and then, on his return in a few minutes, there he is again! I might think him a good deal puzzled by the prompt renewal of the supply, if I were to read my own thoughts into his little noodle, but I see he is only eager to gather his harvest while it is plentiful and so near at hand. No, he is not influenced even by that consideration; he does not consider at all, in fact, but just goes for the corn in nervous eagerness and haste. Yet, if he does not reflect, he certainly has a wisdom and foresight of his own. This morning I mixed kernels of fresh cut green corn with a handful of the dry, hard popcorn upon the floor. At first he began to eat the soft sweet corn, but, finding the small, dry kernels of the popcorn, he at once began to stuff his cheek pockets with them, and when they were full he hastened off to his den. Back he came in about three minutes, and he kept on doing this till the popcorn was all gone; then he proceeded to make his breakfast off the green corn. When this was exhausted he began to strip some choke cherries (which I had also placed among the kernels) of their skins and pulp, and to fill his pockets with the pits, thus carrying no perishable food to his den. He acted exactly as if he knew that the green corn would keep, he did not know it, but not as you and I know it, by reason of experience; he knew it, as all the wild creatures know how to get along in the world, by the wisdom that pervades nature, and is much older than we or they are.

"Missed the 6:30. Don't keep dinner waiting. Will be a little late tonight." It was long after midnight when he left the train at New Rochelle and ten minutes later before he reached home. Mrs. Jones met him at the front door. "You got my message, darling?" he asked, pressing a box of bonbons into her hands.

CLUB CENSURES CITY COMMISSION Meagre Publicity of Registration Dates and Places Causes Protest.

Members of the French Naturalization club last evening criticized the city officials for not giving greater publicity to the change made in voting districts of the city and also for not doing more to let the voters of the city know that the first registration day occurred last Tuesday night. It was held at the city hall and, if possible, every member of the club that next Tuesday will be the last registration day and to have each member notify his neighbor of that fact. The club has a membership of nearly 600 voters and through these members the club expects to be able to do its share in getting out all of the voters.

Considerable discussion on new locations of booths and changes in the boundary lines of the voting districts was held. It was claimed that many of the districts of the West End have been changed. The members were of the opinion that the city should have given wide publicity to these changes, especially in the districts where the changes were made.

"The city commissioners would have Preparations for the annual picnic of the Young Old-Timers Association of the West end, to be held at L. R. Birch's grove on Lester river on Sunday, June 21, were about completed at the meeting of the general committee held last night. Plans have been made to take 200 of its members to the grove.

It was arranged to have tally-hoes take the crowd to the picnic grounds. The members and their friends will meet at Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street at 8 o'clock in the morning to take the conveyances.

The transportation committee has arranged to have all those who wish to go to the picnic notify members at seven different places for reservations. These members are: Otto P. ## SUSPENSION DUE TO STOCK TRANSACTION

Interest of the many stockholders of the companies he controlled. The firm had not been connected therewith since Feb. 17.

The affairs of the bank were largely controlled by the Canadian agency, limited, which is controlled by Arthur Grenfell. He and the Canadian agency had been engaged in a campaign for the purchase of a controlling interest in the bank's operations. The bank's losses through loans to Grenfell and withdrawals of business consequent on his operations caused the bank to suspend. It is believed, however, to be entirely solvent, but time will be required to liquidate the assets in order that depositors may be paid.

The total of the deposits is understood to have been greatly diminished in the last month and the amount outstanding is believed to be about $1,250,000.

Further Failures Not Likely.

Further failures in connection with the business of the bank are not likely. Arthur Grenfell recently formed a syndicate for the purchase of a controlling interest in the bank. Grenfell is retiring from the transaction, which will now be carried through by other members of the group.

The Grand Trunk Pacific transaction attempted by Grenfell is considered as one of the most daring stock operations launched here in years.

In the notice posted on the doors of the bank which has been surrounded by a crowd since morning, the firm expresses regret at having to suspend business and states that its books have been placed in the hands of a receiver.

The members of Grenfell's family are assisting him in the settlement of his affairs.

New York Surprised.

New York, June 6.—The suspension of the bank of Grenfell & Co. excited some surprise in this market. Private assurance has been given that Grenfell's embarrassment began generally known, that the firm was in no wise involved.

So far as known, Chapin, Milne, Co. has no commitments or interests in this market and at no time was the firm active in American securities. The failure, according to the understanding here, resulted not only from enormous shrinkage in values of South American securities, mainly Brazilian and Peruvian.

NO WORD OF CARANZA'S INTENTIONS

With the board of mediators. The general peace plan was discussed as it had been decided as much progress as possible was being made through the mediation of the board of mediators. The text of the conference Justice Lamar said: "The discussion today was the same as the one which was held last Tuesday and before the Carranza incident."

It was generally understood some phases of the land question and method of treatment of the revolutionaries. The mediators noted with interest the settlement of an international English subject at Juarez, would be demanded of Carranza. The text of the settlement was established in Mexico City.

The Tampico Shipments.

Washington, June 6.—While administration officials still awaited Carranza's note to the South American envoys as the next move in mediation proceedings, attention in Washington today was directed to shipments of arms through Tampico. The reported landing of arms for Carranza from the United States was regarded as significant. Officials of the state and navy departments declined to comment upon it.

There were indications, however, that the Washington government would continue to regard Tampico as an open port. With the Cuban steamer Antilla on its way from New York to Tampico carrying arms for Carranza, there had been much speculation as to what the United States would do if Huerta attempted to set up a blockade.

American Warships were Keeping Mexico City, Mex., Under Surveillance.

Mexico City, Mex., June 6.—Estevan Ruiz, acting foreign minister, gave out to the press last night his first formal statement in several days, regarding the peace conference at Niagara Falls. In it he declared that the negotiations through Tampico were proceeding favorably. The text of the statement follows:

It is of the utmost importance that the public should have a clear and exact idea of the form and manner in which the settlement of an international question must be the subject matter of deep meditation and study. In consequence the impatience evidenced by some persons to know the result of the negotiations is unwarranted; but I can assure you that the said negotiations are in a most favorable condition. Within the last few days a report has been launched that in the deliberations other influential than those of justice and patriotism have asserted themselves. I declare emphatically and categorically that the action of the three mediating powers and the conduct of the plenipotentiaries have been from the outset and continue to be spontaneous, noble and free from all extraneous suggestions.

Precedence Made Manifest.

The precedence of the ambassador of Brazil and of the ministers of Argentina and Chili, who preside over the peace negotiations in the name of their respective governments, have constantly been made manifest and this very form in which the mediation procedure has been organized—that is to say, in the form of partial conferences with the delegations of Mexico and the United States separately, and before the united delegations in plenary session for reciprocal communications and discussions of their respective propositions.

The declarations which I have just made should satisfy the Mexican people and afford complete assurance with respect to the rectitude and fairness of the methods adopted by the honorable mediators, who mission is to be solicitous both for solution of the conflict and for the honor of the republic and its government.

Villa to Meet Carranza.

El Paso, Tex., June 6.—It is probably will be several days before Gen. Carranza will arrive at Saltillo and issue his answer to the proposals of the mediation conference at Niagara Falls.

It was announced by his agents here that Villa would leave Chihuahua this day today to confer with the Constitutional commander-in-chief at Juarez. A new bulletin saying that Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, commander-in-chief of the Eastern military zone, was on his way to Saltillo to meet Carranza.

Gen. Villa left Torreon on his way to Saltillo. He is expected to confer with the relative positions of the military zone, and Gen. Natera, recently appointed by Carranza as commander-in-chief of the Eastern military zone, covering territory through which Villa was expected to move.

The new zone places Natera in command of the campaigns against Villa and the campaigns against Carranza. Villa originally was expected to reach Saltillo following his victories at Torreon and Saltillo.

Huerta and Villa Communicate.

Vera Cruz, June 6.—President Huerta is now in daily communication with Gen. Carranza. The president has brought here by a refugee, the character of their communication after a brief, unconventional, Gen. Villa, according to the report, recently sent one of his telegrams to the Federal Highways. He tapped a telegraph wire and sent to Huerta a message, in which Villa called his enemy Carranza by name and urged him not to hasten his departure from the capital, as Villa was anxious to see him before he left. Villa requested Huerta to wait, declaring that reason would be in the capital.

President Huerta, according to the story, appreciating the grim humor of the situation, gave orders that any similar messages should not be withheld but delivered to him immediately. Since this order was issued, Villa, according to the refugees, has not appointed Huerta a single day. Though the wording of his messages are always different, each message is said to be more vituperative than the other. The daily receipt of these messages is said to have become something of a palace joke.

Refugees who related this story said that Huerta's hands had been strengthened by the recording of a report from the Ypiranga and Bahia, and that he now laughs at the idea of resigning. The refugees declared the president was far from being a bankrupt, saying that, in one bank alone, he had 12,000,000 pesos.

Amunition Landed.

Washington, June 6.—Information reaching Washington today was that an American schooner Sunshine from Galveston had landed ammunition for Carranza. The Mexican Constitutionalists, without interference on the part of the United States government, were received in official quarters here without comment.

It was learned that the presence of the Sunshine of Tampico was a great asset to Carranza. The Constitutionalists had been known to the Washington government for several days. In view of the fact that there had been considerable apprehension regarding the attitude the United States might take toward the landing of ammunition at this Mexican port, the actual delivery of munitions of war for the enemies of the Huerta government without interference was regarded with significance.

With the Cuban steamer Antilla en route from New York to Tampico with arms consigned to Carranza's forces, there has been much speculation as to what the United States would do in case the Huerta government should attempt to blockade the port. Every indication, however, is that the United States will maintain its previously announced position that Tampico is an open port. At the navy department it was stated that no order had gone to Admiral Badger since May 13, when he was advised that the government desired that commerce with Tampico be uninterrupted.

It was also stated that the navy had gone to Admiral Badger since May 13, when he was advised that the government desired that commerce with Tampico be uninterrupted.

The resignation of Henry Dunn, dean of the law school, was accepted.

FARMERS ARE COMING FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, June 6.—A party of fifty-three farmers under the leadership of Johannes Adrian Nesser, member for Potchefstroom in the parliament of the Union of South Africa, left today for England on their way to America, where they will investigate agricultural methods.

MAY INCLUDE BEER VENDERS

Hicken's Proposed Blind-Pig Ordinance Arouses Storm of Protest.

Brewers and Family Trade Dealers Will Be Restricted.

Commissioner Hicken's amendment to the blind pig ordinance, intended to compel wholesale liquor dealers to pay $1,000 for a city license or quit selling in quantities of less than five gallons, may also be applied to the breweries and family trade dealers. It would affect them in all instances where the sale of a case of "pints" is concerned and in some where a case of "quarts" is involved. The case contains thirty-six bottles, each of which is short of a full pint. So in order to come within the regulations the size of the case would have to be greatly enlarged or no sale of less than two cases of pints could be made.

Where the so-called "quart" bottles contain but twenty-two ounces, the brewery or family trade dealer would be obliged to enlarge the case or sell two cases at one time. Where the bottles contain twenty-four ounces the present case of twenty-four bottles would not violate the regulations. A full quart contains thirty-two ounces and in order to comply with the law which provides that no sale of less than five gallons can be made without a retail license, each sale would have to equal 640 ounces or more. The so-called quart bottles run from twenty-two to twenty-four ounces.

The wholesale dealers are protesting strenuously against the amendment, which comes up for its final reading next Monday afternoon. They declare that it is imposing an undue hardship upon them. They also point out that many salesmen in the employ of outside firms visit the city and take large numbers of orders for wines and liquors in any quantity upwards of a quart. They say that if they are compelled to pay $1,000 for a retail license they will be put to a great disadvantage unless the outsiders are put on the same basis.

Commissioner Hicken's amendment provides that the last reading of the amendment be held on Monday next. The amendment provides that the Federal government for a permit to retail that the primary evidence of the holder is engaged in the business of disposing of intoxicants at retail. The government issues two permits, one for wholesaling, costing $100 and allowing sales of not less than five gallons and one for retailing, costing $25 and allowing sales of less than five gallons.

Various wholesalers have called upon Commissioner Hicken to make objections to the amendment. The commissioner informed them that if they would surrender their Federal retail permits and stop selling less than five gallons, they would not be obliged to pay $1,000 for a retail license. One of the wholesalers said that he would not surrender his permit. He asked him if he knew of any reason why the city administration should not be strict in the enforcement of liquor laws as well as the Federal authorities.

WISCONSIN HAS GRASSHOPPERS

Pest Appearing in Alarming Numbers in Central Sections.

Madison, Wis., June 6.—"Grasshoppers are appearing in alarming numbers in several sections of our Central Wisconsin counties, and immediate efforts should be put forth to check their destruction of our crops."

This warning is issued by the entomologist and the University of Wisconsin today. Prof. J. G. Sanders, head of the department, says that the grasshoppers are appearing in such numbers that they are doing considerable damage to the crops. He says that the grasshoppers are appearing in such numbers that they are doing considerable damage to the crops.

BRINGS SUIT FOR TELEPHONE STOCK.

Magnus T. Carlson started suit in district court yesterday against the Zenith Telephone company to recover three shares of its capital stock worth $300, which he claims belong to him. He also asks for $21 in damages which have accrued to him. The stock has been withheld from his possession. Carlson claims that he purchased the stock from H. Sandgren Dec. 20, 1904. When the company reorganized and changed its name from the Zenith City telephone company to the Zenith Telephone company, Carlson says that he was directed to transfer his stock certificates to George W. Robinson, the new treasurer at St. Paul, and that he did so on April 1, 1912. The object was to have the stock certified as in the old company canceled and those bearing the new name issued instead. Carlson claims he has never been able to get the certificates back and asks judgment for their value.

THE RAILROADS, THE ENGINEERS AND THE PUBLIC.

There is a sharp difference of opinion about wages and working conditions between the engine men on Western railroads and their employers.

It may, it is said, result in a strike. The public has small appetite at any time for a great railroad strike. It will have far less appetite for such a calamity at this time than usual.

It looks to the railroad managers and their employees to adjust their differences without any interruption or disturbance of traffic.

It is important that the men should have fair working conditions and fair wages.

It is important that the railroad managers should be able to make their receipts go around—that they shall be able to pay fair wages and fair dividends and to keep the service up to the high American standard.

But it is vastly more important than either that railroad service shall be continuously and uninterruptedly dependable.

A strike would paralyze business and industry in many lines, would pay cars and close pay windows, and would cause widespread annoyance and suffering.

If there is a railroad strike, the public will be the greatest sufferer.

The public will not be patient with a great railroad strike needlessly projected into the present situation, and will have scant sympathy with those who cause it.

BUSINESS.

Some of the papers that speak for big business are making fun of the president's suggestion to the manufacturers that whatever business depression there is now is purely psychological.

Can anybody doubt it? Does anybody doubt that two-thirds of the time when business is bad and depression prevails the condition is due to a state of mind rather than to a state of facts?

Never in all the history of the nation has there been a spring when the outlook for a record-breaking yield of wealth from the soil was so good. And crop wealth is fundamental wealth—the wealth on which all wealth is based.

While it is true that the world has not yet quite recovered from the financial disturbance that began seven years ago, there is not a country in the world less affected by it than this. Canada is having more real financial trouble than this country even thinks it has.

Steel is the mainstay of industry. The steel business depends much on railroad patronage. The railroads have not been buying, largely because if they did it might convince the interstate commerce commission that they do not need an advance in rates so much as they claim to need it. It was partly real poverty, partly pretended poverty. So at the center of industry there has been a hesitating influence which has spread naturally, more or less, throughout the industrial fabric.

Presently the railroad rate question will be decided. However it is decided, the railroads must begin buying, because their long refusal to buy has left them bare of everything. They must buy whether their increase in freight rates is allowed or denied. They must buy if they are to handle the business that awaits them. They must buy if they are to move the crops.

With the railroads pulling a poor mouth and loudly protesting their poverty, financial centers generally got the habit. That's where half the hard times talk came. The other half came from politicians of the "out" parties who foster pessimism to discredit the "in" party, and from those opposing constructive legislation who hope to scare the "in" party out of further legislative action.

The president said that the condition is psychological. It is—and it is also political, in the sense that pessimistic talk is encouraged by those who are out and want to get in.

Lately Judge Gary of the United States Steel corporation, A. F. Houston of the Lukens Iron and Steel company, and W. F. Thomas of the Briar Hill Steel company, said that they expect to see a big trade expansion in the immediate future.

And Commerce and Finance, a financial publication, adds this comment upon their view of things:

To these men, and many others, much of the depression has been sentimental, a reflex of the pessimism of the East and particularly of New York. They say conditions are sound fundamentally. They see a healthier state as a result of a rather protracted and forced period of economy.

So you see the president has rather eminent and expert company in his judgment.

What the country needs more than anything is a little Christian Science and common sense, and less political and reactionary flourishing of silly scarecrows.

CLEARING STATE LANDS.

The Northern Minnesota Development association, in convention at Thief River Falls, yesterday adopted the most important resolution in its history. It follows:

We urge upon the next legislature that it submit to the people for consideration a constitutional amendment opening the way for the establishment of a revolving fund of adequate size from the proceeds of the sale of state lands, to be used in draining, clearing and otherwise improving and reclaiming and building roads and firebreaks in, through and around state school and swamp lands remaining unsold.

This is the plan which The Herald has been urging for many months. The point is substantially covered by a plank in the platform adopted by the Democrats at the state conference which placed Congressman Hammond before the state. Nothing has been heard about it from Mr. Lee or Mr. Eberhart, but doubtless they can be prevailed upon to approve if they are convinced that it is popular, and that Northern Minnesota demands it.

The next business before the N. M. D. A. and Northern Minnesota is to induce the state to embark in the paying business enterprise of clearing a part of each cut-over tract before offering it for sale.

REGISTER TUESDAY.

If you count yourself a real citizen, and are not unmindful of the pricelessness of the ballot for which your ancestors bled and died, you will participate in the statewide primary election to be held June 16.

In order to do that—without the nuisance of an affidavit certified to by two property owners of your precinct—you must register, if you live in Duluth.

Next Tuesday is your last chance to register. The polls will be open for that purpose from six in the morning to nine in the evening, and there is small chance that you will be able to find an excuse for not registering in that time.

Only one out of five voters registered last Tuesday.

Perhaps that was due in part to confusion about the polling places under the new rearrangement of voting districts.

If you are in doubt about your district and the location of your polling place, it won't take five minutes to get that straightened out.

Call up the city clerk's office, and you can find out in a minute.

Or if it is handier, call up The Herald, and it will gladly tell you where you vote.

Monday evening The Herald will publish a guide to the voting precincts which it will make as plain as it possibly can be. Its purpose will be to deprive everybody of every imaginable excuse for not registering.

Whether you are a Democrat, a Republican, a Bull Moose, a Socialist, a Prohibitionist or just an everyday good citizen and well wisher of the state, you should register Tuesday and participate in the primaries a week from Tuesday.

COURAGE.

Heroism, as we have often said, is not a thing solely of battlegrounds and the roar of conflict.

It lies all about us—and most of the most heroic living is done quietly and without advertisement. The woman who rears her children under the handicap of a drunken, worthless husband is as truly heroic as any soldier doing deeds of reckless bravery on the battlefield.

And the field of industry is full of instances of true heroism, of which every day furnishes its proof.

The other day, for instance, P. J. McDonough, a mine guard, was showing a party of school children through a mine at Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

The two-year-old child of a miner, who had come with an older brother, strayed a few feet from the crowd and toppled over the edge of a shaft. It was four hundred feet to the bottom of the shaft! The child's terrible death seemed inevitable.

Without a second's thought, McDonough plunged into the black hole, head first, as a man might dive into a calm-surfaced swimming pool. By grasping the cable cable as he fell, he checked his fall, but only slightly.

Many feet down was an anchored cage. McDonough struck it with terrific force, but he struck it first. His body formed a soft landing place for the baby, which followed an instant later. Whimpering, scared, the child wound its arms around the guard's neck, and so they found him when they reached the cage.

The baby was unhurt. McDonough broke twelve ribs and an ankle, and will live. It was a miracle that either survived.

No braver deed ever graced the most heroic battlefield.

THE SCHOOL BOARD AND SOCIAL CENTERS.

Some opposition to the social center movement developed at last night's meeting of the school board, mainly, it seems, from fussy principals with an exaggerated idea of the sanctity of school buildings and a shriveled idea of the public's proprietorship in these buildings.

To believe that the school board will obstruct the development of this important means of unifying the community and creating a better community spirit, or that it will do other than foster it in every possible practical way, is to believe that the school board is an old fogey. And that we cannot believe.

SCOTTISH INDEPENDENCE.

The battle of Bannockburn was fought June 24, 1314. This month, therefore, Scotland and the Scottish people around the globe will celebrate the six hundredth anniversary of their independence.

There are few peoples whose independence runs back so far into the mists of history. And there are few peoples whose sturdy character earlier or longer deserved independence.

At Bannockburn Robert Bruce led thirty thousand Scots against a hundred thousand soldiers of the weak second Edward, and won independence for Scotland and the Scottish throne for himself. It was a brilliant victory and a mighty significant turning point in history; and Bruce and his persistence—fastened by the story of the spider—are household glories wherever English is spoken.

The independence thus gained never has been sacrificed. When the Scots threw off the English yoke at Bannockburn, it was off to stay—as a yoke.

For nearly three hundred years Scotland was not only as distinct from England as Germany is today, but for much of the time it was in close alliance with England's enemies. Regal refugees from England found sanctuary in Scotland and France alike, and France and Scotland found much to harmonize upon in their common hatred of England.

Scottish soldiers fought the battles of France, and there was much amiable visiting back and forth.

Then, in 1603, the Tudor line ran out and James the Sixth of Scotland came to the British throne. It was no readjustment of the ancient English yoke. A Scottish king sat on England's throne, and the two countries abode together as equals. Never since has Scotland been arrayed against England, whatever clash of factions came to pass; never have they been other than as equals.

If it had not been for Bruce and Bannockburn, Scotland might have remained a vassal of the English throne. And if that had been so, neither Scotland nor England would have been so strong as they have remained through a long stretch of brilliant history.

They were and are a sturdy people, these Scots. Not a brilliant people, perhaps, though they have had their brilliant sons; but a staunch, steady, true and loyal people, fit to put into the foundations of whatever nation their immigrants have reached. The United States knows them and loves them, from colonial days to today and from Martha's Vineyard to Hunter's Park.

ETIQUETTE.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post recently made the interesting suggestion that etiquette originated with the loafing class; and he pretty nearly proved it, too.

An Indiana country newspaper, quoted in the Indianapolis News, says of this point: "Much of what is called etiquette is sham and humbug. The idea that such rules must be tamely submitted to no matter how absurd they may be is the veriest nonsense. Etiquette that borders on the ridiculous and is in conflict with common sense is not only undeserving of recognition, but should be unceremoniously eliminated from all sensible social circles."

True enough; but care should be exercised when this campaign to abolish stupid rules of etiquette is begun. And most of us will prefer to let somebody else start the campaign; just as most of us prefer to let somebody else start the new fashions.

A good many rules of etiquette are like the rule in bridge which requires that the cards must be cut. The player who whimsically says, in refusing to cut, that he has confidence in the honesty of the dealer, is more courteous than the player who insists that every convention be observed, whether it has meaning or not.

In point of fact, all etiquette is divided into two parts: that which is pure formalism, and that which is inspired by good taste.

That etiquette which is pure formalism, and has no real meaning or relation with true courtesy, need bother nobody who has common sense. It is this type of etiquette which was invented by the boisterous class, and most of us who try to keep up with it do so with a futile and foolish purpose of pretending that we belong to the leisure class, too—outside of working hours.

But the other kind, that which is good taste, roots in consideration for others; and self-respect demands that this type of etiquette should concern all of us deeply.

The true test of etiquette that governs every social issue is whether any given act will be offensive in any way to those about us. If it will be, then it is discourteous to do it. And that is the whole of etiquette.

THE PASSAGE OF THE TRUST BILLS.

The trilogy of bills comprising the administration's program of corporation control passed by the house yesterday, all but unanimously. No party lines were drawn, and Democrats, Republicans and Bull Moosers joined heartily in putting these measures through.

This is a great triumph for the administration and the people. It is also a hurry-up message to the senate.

In no way can the senate do greater harm to the country than by unduly prolonging the consideration of these measures, for which, and for the condition of definitive stability that will accompany them, the country's business is waiting.

HIGH MORTALITY AFTER FORTY MEANS BAD LIVING HABITS BEFORE FORTY.

Science has succeeded in lengthening the average of human life in this country.

But it is painfully clear that the gain lies almost wholly in the reduction of infant mortality.

More babies than ever before live through the perils of babyhood.

But, on the other hand, mortality after forty is increasing rather than decreasing, and so far science has been unable to stop that dangerous trend.

It is dangerous because if society loses many of its ablest and best factors in the years of their highest usefulness.

"It is one of the sad things," Professor Sedgwick said recently, "that so far we have succeeded chiefly in saving life at the lower end—baby life. We have prolonged infant life and diminished infant mortality; we have been much slower in securing any prolongation of life above the age of forty. That is where we want extension. A baby is a very useful thing, but it certainly is not of any use compared with a life at forty, which has been well prepared at great expense and which ought to be efficient and which we ought to prolong just as much as we possibly can."

Indeed, by nursing more babies through babyhood into adolescence, there is hardly any doubt that we nurse along into adult existence many weaklings, only to increase the adult mortality.

But the problem of reducing infant mortality and the problem of reducing adult mortality are two very different things.

Insanitary conditions, ill-judged feeding, bad milk, ignorance and similarly manageable factors cause a high infant mortality.

With these science and intelligence can cope—are, indeed, coping successfully.

But what makes for high adult mortality—for many deaths shortly after forty? Bright's disease, diabetes, hardening of the arteries, organic heart ailments—these are the ills which are increasing adult mortality after forty.

And before these common ailments medical science is all but impotent.

What causes these ailments which carry away so many just as society is reaping dividends from its investment in their education and training? The answer is simple: HIGH MORTALITY AFTER FORTY IS CAUSED BY WRONG LIVING METHODS BEFORE FORTY.

What can science do about that? Little, apparently, except to issue warnings which few heed.

Infant mortality is due largely to community conditions that are easily handled by the community.

Adult mortality is due largely to individual bad habits which cannot be handled by the community.

These diseases of adult life are all due, nevertheless, to preventable causes—but prevention rests wholly with the individual.

Dissipation, irregular hours, overeating, overdrinking, worry—these are the enemies that menace adult humanity. And their greatest mischief is that they work in such deadly stealth. A man may dissipate and overeat and overdrink and worry in his twenties and thirties without much apparent harm. Yet a decade or decades later, in his forties, fifties and early sixties, he goes untimely, when he should be in his prime, to swell the statistics of adult mortality.

Life after forty is determined largely by the manner of life you live before forty.

The problem of high mortality after forty can be solved only by improved living habits before forty.

Cure for ailments like these there cannot be. The solution rests with the individual more largely than with society and science.

LIVING WITHOUT WORK.

There is hardly anybody who, in moments of depression and weariness, has not wished that some sudden stroke of fortune would put him beyond the need of work.

It's a natural wish, and blameless enough; but it is a vain one. It is vain in the first place because such strokes of fortune come as seldom as lightning flashes out of blue sky. It is vain in the second place because when fortune does put a man—or woman—beyond the need of work, there is an imp concealed behind the gift that makes it merely the beginning of trouble.

There is nobody more miserable than the individual who does not have to work and who therefore doesn't work. Not even the drudge is more unhappy. Idleness makes the mind busy, and the busy mind, unoccupied by useful activities, turns to mischief of one kind or another.

An idle mind can think up more reasons for misery than fall to the lot of any busy worker. If that idle mind can do no worse, it will get its victim to thinking about his health, and presently he is ill and running to doctors and health resorts and taking cures and trying diets and being operated upon by surgeons.

A London bachelor writes to a newspaper about his experiences when a legacy assured him of an income without work. He felt heir to about fifteen hundred a year, and this good fortune was a curse to him. Instead of making him happy, it has made him utterly wretched. This is his story:

"I was employed in a city office until I came into my three hundred pounds a year. I worked hard. I was well and happy. I looked forward to holidays and enjoyed every one of them.

"Then came my little windfall. I determined to leave my work until I found something more congenial, something that opened up greater prospects and a quick return. My first idea was to have a good long holiday. I've been having that holiday ever since.

"I broke my old habits in life. I drifted into new grooves. I learned to loaf. I am not preaching a sermon, so I will say at once that I think there is quite a lot to be said for loafing. But you cannot loaf properly on three hundred pounds a year, for that amount a year only gives you time to develop inclinations you have not the money to gratify. The three-hundred-a-year-do-nothing man is only on the fringe of the great crowd that exists for amusement. You can loaf all right on ten thousand pounds a year, but not on three hundred. Now, I am thinking of starting for the States. Over there three hundred a year would not keep me in the most meager comfort. So I shall have to start work again. In New York I may become a new man."

This man, though convinced that loafing on three hundred pounds a year is misery, thinks he could be happy on ten thousand pounds a year. But he doesn't know. He thought he could be happy loafing on three hundred pounds a year, and now he is sure that he could be happy on ten thousand. And if he got ten thousand, he would quickly develop wants that would render him happy on anything short of fifty thousand pounds a year. Nor is he one of those miserable fellows who would be unhappy under any circumstances. He was happy, you will remember, when he was working, and when a holiday was something to look forward to and to squeeze every possible ounce of enjoyment out of. His experience would be the experience of nine hundred and ninety-nine out of a thousand of those who envy him his three hundred a year and idleness.

Love Marriages Turn Out the Best

Ellen Key in the Strand Magazine.

With my whole soul and without the least reservation, I solemnly affirm that love marriages turn out the best for the individual and the race. Naturally only on the two conditions—that the love was indeed love and no sentimental flirtation, and that the lovers have not been blind to the welfare of possible offspring.

What real love is every English reading person can learn in Mrs. Browning's "Sonnets From the Portuguese." What a young love couple must consider before becoming parents they can learn in Dr. Saleeby's books. Since I was a child of 7—and for a whole winter I carried in my pocket a love epic by a great Swedish poet—I have known not only that love was the master passion of life, but that a marriage without it was a bad action.

In later years I have become more and more persuaded that in some mysterious way the new generation is benefited by parents who love each other. The race instinct would not have developed itself to glorious love, and love would not have become the highest happiness of the individual, if this feeling had gone against the highest purpose of the race instinct.

Further scientific research will, I believe, be able to prove the hypothesis—that love of the parents further the offspring.

Against Mrs. Waddington's opinion—that the French custom of "arranged" marriages is on the whole better—I can say this: I know that in France these marriages become more and more scarce; that not a few young men now marry early and for love; and that many young girls are firmly resolved only to marry for love!

The arranged marriage in nine cases out of ten has had unfaithfulness as its complement. The "lover" and the "mistress" having satisfied the love passion, marriage was a mere commercial transaction, wherein one or two children constituted the only bond of sympathy, while the secret love was poetical and unfulfilled. Well, I know that many arranged marriages are happy through esteem and also affection. But it is a happiness on a lower scale.

The passionate sufferings, possible in a love marriage, do not occur. No heart is broken, because there was no heart in the "arrangement." But only a year of married love is bliss, and better to have had than half a century of calm content!

The "Aged Man Myth"

W. A. White in the Emporia Gazette: In an accident reported day before yesterday in the Kansas City Star, the victim, who is 68 years old, is described by the nimble-footed young runaway chaser employed by Mr. Nelson, as "an aged man." No man is "an aged man" at 68.

When we were reporting the caprices of the grocer's delivery horses who "dashed madly down Merchant street," or when we were flipping on the rear end of a fire wagon as it went around the corner on two wheels to a barn fire in the west part of town, or when we used to hurry over to police court to write rebuttal articles about the "colored doves," and the "light-fingered gentry" and the drunks and disorderlies assembled from "the city hells," any man over 45 was an "aged man."

But the world is growing more liberal about those things. Age is no longer regarded as an aged man; he may be elderly; perhaps indeed, he may be "well along in years" at say, 90. Every inch of her, yet understand, has to be lived up to and made to work with his neighbor—sweeten her, we call it, technically.

A human personality is like a ship just off the stocks in this at least, that its several parts must learn to work together. Man's inner nature may be divided into three departments—the intellect, the feeling and the will. While psychologists might quarrel with this division as a denial of the unity of personality, it is still a convenient one as our practical experience testifies. A man thinks and feels and wills, and the three operations are sufficiently distinct at least to be recognized as one studies his own nature.

An efficient life is pretty sure to exhibit the three departments working in harmony. The man who attains notable success generally does so because his powers have been whittled out to unity, each part doing its appropriate work and backing up every other. Like David he prays, "Unite my heart to fear thy name." Like the famous King of Israel, too, he brings compact and undisciplined powers to the task in hand.

Half the failures among men result from the fact that the elements of the individual nature have not been subordinated to a working unity. One part may be strong, but without loyal relation to another. A man, for instance, may think truly, have an empire of knowledge in his brain, but lack the element of feeling. Facts kindly in him none of that glow of soul that is the forerunner of great achievement.

Or one may be able to feel deeply, to thrill with sentiment or melt with sympathy, yet lack the resolution that transmutes feeling into action. The defect here is as serious as in the former case. We know and feel only that we may do; and when the "native hue of resolution is sicklied o'er with the pale cast" either of thought or of emotion, the normal sequence is destroyed. We are to "do noble deeds, not dream them all day long." The condition of Christian discipline was laid down not as profound learning, nor ecstatic feeling, but as resolute action. Said Jesus: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

Few of us realize what we might accomplish if we really found ourselves, if head and heart and hands began to work together. It is because our faculties are at loggerheads with one another that we often accomplish so little. There are unfulfilled possibilities in most of the sons of men. If, for a single day, one could feel the inspiration of the things he knows and could further translate that feeling into helpful action, the conscious experience of power resulting would set him with new vigor and hope at his whole life task.

Wise Rolling in Big Case.
Sunbury, Pa., letter to Philadelphia Record: Squire M. P. Tierney of Northumberland was called upon to decide an unusual case here today. Mrs. Mary Mahoney and Mrs. Ada Campbell, widows, who live in a twin house, have to work for their daily bread and they decided that it would reduce the high cost of living if they should each keep a pig. A further saving was decided upon by having a single hog pen built. This was done and the piglets were bought, each woman paying half the cost.

One night while they slept one of the pigs was stolen. Each woman said the other's was missing and they ended the argument in a row, in which they both suffered more or less injury. Then the judge put into the lair of the fox with their troubles and Mrs. Mahoney said: "It's my big pig which is left, because it is the one that always ran to me when I fed it, as it did today."

Mrs. Campbell testified: "Squire, I know it's my pig, because one always squealed when I fed it and the one that's left squealed when I gave it the leavings of my dinner."

"Have it killed and butchered and be sure that each of you gets half the sausage and scrap," decided the squire, a true Solomon, as he dismissed the case.

The Quilter.
When you're lost in the Wild, and you're scared as a child,
And Death looks you bang in the eye,
And you're sore as a bull, it's according to Hoyle
To cock your revolver and—die.
But the code of a Man says: "Fight all you can."
And self-dissolution is barred.
In hunger and woe, oh, it's easy to blow—
It's the hell-served-for-breakfast that's hard.

"You're sick of the game?" Well, now that's a shame.
You're young and you're brave and you're bright.
You've had a raw deal? I know, but don't squeal.
Buck up, do your damndest, and fight.
It's the plugging away that will win you the day.
So don't be a piker, old pard!
Just draw on your grit: It's easy to quit.

It's the keeping-your-chin-up that's hard.
It's easy to cry that you're beaten—and die.
It's easy to crawlfish and crawl; But to fight and to fight when hope's out of sight—
Why, that's the best game of them all!
And though you come out of each grueling bout
All broken and beaten and scarred,
Just have one more try—it's dead easy to die.
It's the keeping-on-living that's hard.

the year's the never-failing complete novel is by a comparatively new writer, Elinor H. Helm. It is entitled "Marion," and is a story of the life of a musical-comedy actress who loses her singing voice and is thus suddenly dejected. Her life is a series of humiliations assail her and difficulties beset her, not only in "York" but in "White Way," but elsewhere. Her experiences are woven into an exceptionally attractive and interesting plot, which Miss Helm has handled with great skill and charm. The local color, the descriptions of the life of the musical-comedy characters, are depicted with marvelous accuracy and truth. The story has already been so widely praised that readers everywhere will welcome a new story by this author. One of the best of the latest story, which will be found complete in this number, is called "One of the Boys," by the same author. It tells the cleverness and humor that have been the chief characteristics of her other striking story is "Mellon Drops a Partner," by Will Livingston Comfort. It is a story of the life of a "Glad" and "Routeledge Ride Alone."

The much-end Popular Magazine is of special interest, containing as it does Peter B. Kyne's book-length novel, "The Man Behind," which has for its principal character a police court attorney. The type of lawyer that he is styled. There has been considerable discussion of the ethics of the legal profession in recent days, and Mr. Kyne's new novel discloses the methods used by the "Tuppence of the law," as the system's lawyers in "The Man Behind" has a certain code, and when he meets with some wealthy grafters of the "respectable" sort, his code becomes so enlarged that he in turn becomes a grafter. The novel is a study in graft, and uses his skill as a lawyer to put the big grafters in jail.

Washington, July 6.—In the late spring, about a month after active grass growth has commenced on the lawn, it is desirable to apply a grass stimulant to keep the grass in good condition. Nitrate of soda is a good fertilizer and will make the grass grow thickly with a rich dark green color that will show itself prominently in the spring. The landscape gardener of the United States department of agriculture advises that those who use nitrate of soda should apply it at the rate of fifty pounds per acre or one pound per 100 square feet beginning about the middle of May in the latitude of Washington, D. C.

The nitrate of soda should be sprinkled just before the lawn is sprinkled with the hose. Under ordinary conditions, the fertilizer will keep the green during the period when the vitality of the plant is low. It should be applied in the fall, in combination with careful watering (described in a previous article), to insure the early appearance of the lawn during the dry, hot summer season.

Unrotted stable manure should be kept away from a lawn at all times, the opinion of many to the contrary notwithstanding. It contains many weeds seeds and particles of straw and other material. Some of these seeds will germinate and grow if the grass seeds have not been defined as a "plant out of place." Weeds are certainly out of place on a lawn, and the seeds of weeds have a great advantage over stable manure in that they are not so easily defined as a "plant out of place."

There are other fertilizers besides nitrate of soda that are most valuable in the fall. The most common is especially adapted to the fall. Late in the department will issue advice as to the use of these fertilizers. Materials as ground bone phosphate rock

SAILING THE SPORT SEA WITH GOSSIP SEATED AT THE WHEEL

Stanislaus Zbyszko Doped as Winner of the Big Championship Wrestling Contest—Johnny Coulton and Kid Williams to Contest for Bantam Title—Can the Federals Afford to Hire Cobb and Johnson?

BY BRUCE.

STANISLAUS ZBYSZKO should win the wrestling match on Monday evening. That's the dope as we see it. Arguing from every angle, it comes back to the simple proposition that the Pole is today the greatest heavyweight wrestler in the world. Americas, one of the best in the land, got one fall on the mighty Pole. Westergaard may turn the same trick; but in the end the same old Pole, as fresh as ever, will be on the job.

Raoul De Rotten weighs 245 pounds. The French giant is one of the strongest men in the world. For forty-five minutes in a rough and tumble battle in Montreal the Frenchman appeared fully as strong as Zbyszko. Then something happened. The strength and vitality of the Frenchman appeared to evaporate. Zbyszko was as strong as ever and went to the finish as strong as in the beginning.

In more than one way this Stanislaus Zbyszko is a remarkable man. It is a peculiar truth that many athletes, depending upon physical health, are particularly immortal. This fact is not true of Zbyszko. He is a clean liver. He never dissipates and he never overexerts.

Westergaard shapes with the best that America can send to the battle for the championship. Huge and powerful, the Swede is a great wrestler. But endurance and inhuman strength are the qualities that have made Zbyszko the mat marvel that he is, and he should win decisively over the Des Moines man after a battle that will go down in local mat history—for Westergaard is surely primed for the effort of his career.

Zbyszko will arrive this evening. The coming of the Pole will start afresh the gossip of the coming battle and will start anew the arguments as to the chances of about the best wrestler this country can now boast of.

A Great Fight in Prospect.
ON Tuesday evening at Los Angeles Johnny Coulton and Kid Williams will once for all settle the question of the bantamweight boxing championship of the world. For some two embittered years invecitive have been tossed back and forth between these two little fighters like a mediocine ball in a training camp. Now the boys will settle the matter in a manner approaching the primitive mode of combat; as primitive as the ways and means of this effete civilization will allow.

Coulton is one of the greatest little fighting machines in the world—or he was. Is he or was he? The questions looms like a I. O. U. in a poker game. If Coulton is as good as the boy who has beaten the best in the world, he will win; and if he is not the Coulton of old, the peerless little fighter who absorbed instruction from crafty old George Siler, he is liable to lose.

Johnny Coulton lost his dad several years ago. His father was his pugilistic mentor. The father cared for his kid in the training camp and in the ring as other fathers, less spartan like, perhaps, care for their kids in the more tender walks of life. Suddenly death stalked across the path of Papa Coulton. Little Johnny was broken hearted. This is not to be sentimental; the facts are well known. Since that time the champion has been a shadow of his former self. Coulton has lived in the woods and mountains, and the fighter who is forced to seek seclusion in the haunts of nature is generally a bad wager. Speculation always adds the savory spice of human interest. Can Coulton come back? Once it seemed that nearly 90,000,000 people asked that question in regard to Jim Jeffries. Who knows? No one; not even the men closest to Coulton. It is human to err, read the copy books of our public schools. Hope is the sugar of existence. Those closest to him probably believe he will win. He may—and he may collapse in the ring. It is said that Jim Jeffries brother had a bet on him when he fought Johnson. Even though gambling is generally prohibited people still love to make mind bets with themselves. Speculation is still one of the most popular of indoor sports.

It is a Big Question.
SOME people are wondering whether Walter Johnson and Tyus Raymond Cobb will blithely jump to the Federal league. Why do not some of the people wonder if the Federal league will offer sufficient inducement for these stars to something like $200 to see these polo games. For the sake of those paying these amounts we hope the Americans win.

Rudy Unholtz has left Chicago for Los Angeles for sake of restoring his health. Mr. Unholtz is a former prizefighter. The free lunch was taken off in Chicago over a week ago.

It has been suggested that college men be given credits in exchange for athletic accomplishments. This would not effect the students of Northwestern.

A Kansas City attorney received $2,500 for being hit on the nose by a foul ball. The management contended that it was not fair. This is a strong argument for more people attending baseball games.

MANDOT MAY MEET BROWN

Negotiations On Between New Orleans Boxer and Superior Promoters.

Negotiations are on between Joe Mandot, the French Market boy of New Orleans, and the officials of the Twin Ports Boxing club.

Yesterday a letter was received from Mandot, setting forth the terms of the New Orleans boy, and forthwith a reply was sent scurrying over the wires, naming the amount of money the officials of the club on the other side of the bay are willing to part with in order to secure the signature of the wonderful little New Orleans lightweight as the next opponent of Brown at the Head of the Lakes. The ante demanded by the Mandot manager was boosted immediately after the sensational showing Welsh made against Freddy Welsh. It was generally believed after the way Welsh made boxing fools of Joe Rivers and Leach Cross that he would widely margin the New Orleans boy in the ten allotted rounds. Right there was where one of the sensations of the pugilistic year was sprung. Mandot carried the going to Welsh, according to all of the reports, and made a wonderful showing. Welsh getting the shade in five rounds and Mandot in four, and one round being even.

Mandot, going great.

MANDOT MAY MEET BROWN

At one time Mandot was picked as the coming lightweight champion of the world. Then the New Orleans boxer slumped and he was counted as just another of the exploded hopes. But during the last six months the French youth has again showed all of the brilliant boxing and punching power that brought him up to the front ranks of the boxers. The showing against Freddy Welsh, the king of the ten-round route, stamped the class of Mandot.

New York Jack Doyle left today for Chicago and during the week will work with Brown. The range boy reports himself to be in excellent condition. If negotiations proceed without a serious hitch the bout between Mandot and Brown will be staged in July.

INVADERS SHOW FORM.

British Polo Team a Surprise in Second Practice Game.

Hempstead, N. Y., June 6.—Surprises were in store for the large number of polo enthusiasts who witnessed the English challengers play yesterday their second practice game in this country against a mixed team supposed to be the best of the second-raters. The visitors displayed a lack of team work last Tuesday. Capt. Vivian Lockett was put in back in place of John Freill, and in its new makeup, the team apparently was much strengthened. The first of the international matches will be played at Meadowbrook next Tuesday. The Englishmen won yesterday on Field No. 1 by a total score of 14% goals to 2 goals. The team lined up with Maj. H. A. Tomkinson, Capt. Leslie St. George Cheape, Maj. H. W. Barrett and Capt. Vivian Lockett, playing in the order named. Opposing them were Alexander Brown of the Philadelphia Country club, Charles Cary Rumsey, Devereaux Milburn, who played for one period and was then replaced by Malcolm Stevenson, and H. C. Phipps as back.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME.

Fitwells and Northerns Will Meet at Athletic Park June 21.

The Fitwells and Northerns will clash at Athletic park on Sunday, June 21, in the first championship game of the season. It will be the first meeting of these two teams and one of the best games of the season should be seen. Talbot, the veteran hurler, will be on the mound, with Buska behind the bat for the Fitwells, while the Northerns will have as their battery, Alder and Greenwood. Alder has been pitching nice ball this season and with good support ought to get away with the game. Greenwood is a new man, hailing from Ipswich, and expects to strengthen the Northern lineup.

Win Doubles Title.

Philadelphia, June 6.—Mrs. Edward Raymond of New York and Miss Edna Willey of Philadelphia won the women's doubles championship of Pennsylvania and the Eastern states by defeating Miss Marion Fenn and Miss Eleanor Sears of Boston in the annual tournament yesterday at Merion in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3. Miss Fenn and Miss Sears won yesterday from Mrs. Gilbert Harvey of this city in the final round yesterday by default, while Miss Fenn defeated Miss Florence A. Ballin, New York, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

NORTHERN LEAGUE DOUBLE BILL FOR THE SOX

Two Games Are Planned With Fargo for Sunday.

Rain, which makes or breaks the wheat market, which makes the grass grow and causes little children to be occasionally spanked for getting their feet wet, continued its local engagement yesterday, giving a matinee performance. As a result of the engagement of the rain the baseball contest was called off and the performers watched the special performance of the rain company in a revival of "Once Again."

As a result of the idleness upon the part of the baseball stock players and also as a result of the threatened idleness of today, weather permitting, there will be a double-header at Athletic park tomorrow in which Col. Bob Unger, the heavy villain, and his associate players of the Fargo company will appear in two special performances with the players of the home hit producing company.

The double-header is expected to draw a capacity house. It is expected that the rain players will leave the city today. The production at Athletic park of the bright and sparkling comedy, "The Hospital Climbers," is expected to prove a hit. The home company has made few hits this season, but the coming production has been carefully gone over and is expected to score heavily.

Following Fargo comes Fred Curtis, the gallant leader of the Winnipeg Maroons. Just now Fred, one of the best house painters in the southern section of the state, has the Winnipeg gang at top speed. It is a decided innovation for the fans of Winnipeg to have a team up in the race and it is expected to prove a novel innovation for the fans of the best baseball that Winnipeg is playing fast baseball and the series with the Dooks should bring out about the best baseball that has been seen here this season.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Tenth Consecutive Loss.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—Philadelphia hit the ball hard, took advantage of the wildness of Pittsburgh's twirlers and the visitors' errors and won yesterday's game 13 to 3. McQuillon and O'Keefe were knocked off the rubber in three innings each and Maxaux pitched the last two innings. Mayer did excellent work for the home team and prevented Honus Wagner, who needs only two hits to reach the 300 mark during his baseball career from getting a safety. Devore hurt his ankle running to first base in the fifth and Becker took his place. Score: Pittsburgh, 13; Philadelphia, 3. H. E. Batteries—McQuillon, O'Keefe, Maxaux and Gibson, Wilson; Mayer and Killifer. Umpires—Orth and Byron.

Cubs 9; Superbas 5.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 6.—The Chicago Nationals began their first Eastern invasion here yesterday by defeating Brooklyn 9 to 4. Each side afforded its box man poor support, but that behind Allen proved the more costly. A pinch hitter took Allen's place in the eighth and the visitors in the ninth fell on his successor, Pfeffer, for four runs. These resulted from three clean hits, a pass, and a scratch single by Archer. Caught, besides receiving tagged support, gave six passes, but he was effective in the pinches, especially in the sixth, when he struck out Hummel with three on bases. In the third inning, with two on, Zimmerman's hit, which looked like a single, got by Wheat and counted for a home run. Score: Chicago, 9; Brooklyn, 5. H. E. Batteries—Fauchon and Archer; Allen, Pfeffer and Miller. Umpires—Quigley and Emille.

LOCAL SPORT BOOSTER.

Boston, June 6.—Ames' control of the ball was poor yesterday and this, with fielding errors and Boston's heavy hitting, produced a 7 to 2 victory over Cincinnati. Even though Ames was directly responsible for three of the home team's runs, while Cowdy sent a long drive into right field bloachers for a circuit of the bases. Perdue was effective in all but two innings, the fourth and sixth. In both these he hit the first man at bat, and a run resulted each time. Score: Boston, 7; Cincinnati, 2. H. E. Batteries—Ames and Clark; Perdue and Gowdy. Umpires—Klqm and Hart.

Cardinals 8; Giants 3.

New York, June 6.—St. Louis batted in four runs in the eighth inning here yesterday and beat New York 8 to 3. The visitors started off by scoring three runs in the first inning only to have New York tie it in the fifth. St. Louis won in the eighth when singles by Beck, Robinson, Huggins and Miller, errors by Shock and Burns and a wild pitch yielded them four runs. The hitting and fielding of Miller and Beck featured. Miller drove in four runs and scored another one, while Beck hit three singles and a triple in four times up. Grant of New York hit three doubles. New York fielded poorly behind Marquard. Score: St. Louis, 8; New York, 3. H. E. Batteries—Pettit, Robinson and Wingo; Marquard and Myers. Umpires—Evans and Johnston.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Divide the Honors.

Detroit, Mich., June 6.—Detroit and St. Louis split a double-header yesterday. The first game, a ten-inning contest, filled with exciting moments of tense playing, was won by the visitors, 6 to 5. The second game, which Detroit won 3 to 0, was called at the end of the fifth inning to allow the Browns to catch a train for St. Louis. The first game was a battle of errors and battery mistakes. Hamilton was hit hard and James, who replaced him in the eighth, was unsteady. Detroit found the two pitchers for four runs, which tied the score.

TOMMY GIBBONS SHADES MAHONEY IN A EAST ROUT

St. Paul Boy Outboxes the Racine Plumber But Fails to Inflict Serious Damage; Kid Billings Shades Buck Seidel.

Tommy Gibbons earned the shade over Young Mahoney of Racine, the rising young plumber, in the 10-round bout before the Superior Athletic club last evening.

Gibbons won because he knows more about boxing than the young plumber. Mahoney is 40 years old, but that is comparatively young for a plumber. He landed his left jab about fifty times during the ten rounds—and it didn't jar the title.

Gibbons also landed a series of short rights to the head and body, but the Racine man seemed unharmed by the attack by the younger member of the house of Gibbons, and was in there fighting strongly at the end.

Mahoney landed few clean blows. Gibbons was inside or outside most of the swings of the rising young plumber. At all times Mahoney was willing, but he was kept back on his heels a good share of the time by the left jab and he experienced trouble several times in locating Gibbons in a rally.

Mike McNulty dubbed Mahoney the grand old man of the ring. He declared that he had never seen anyone of those present, and the house was not large, fully expected to see Mahoney take the count at some stage of the pugilistic routine. At no time was Mahoney in serious danger, and he showed a willingness and gameness and ability to take all that was doled out to him and then come back for more.

Mahoney is a Canadian.

Besides being a plumber and a pugilist, Young Mahoney is a comedian. He grined at the parables of flying bombs in the corner of Tommy, stuck out his tongue at the young Gibbons and at several lectures inserted rapid fire conversation into the ring.

In the number of clean punches he landed, Gibbons was the victor.

One might say that Mahoney won a moral victory by sticking the ten rounds. He also scored that by sticking the rounds with Eddie McGorty. That is one of the best things the rising young plumber does. Mahoney is some tough battler, always willing, always ready to mix and come to the core.

The Racine man swings rather than hits straight and for this reason few of his blows started landed clean. Gibbons ducked a lot, some landed on the back and kidneys of Thomas, and others were blocked. Mahoney landed some, but the majority of punches reaching home the verdict belonged to the St. Paul starter.

Kid Billings, who sails the pugilistic main in the suburban park, showed real boxing ability and had it all over his larger opponent.

Young Billings, who was in the ring for six rounds in the curtain and brought down the house.

Young Bill Dugg of the Superior baseball team rooted hard for Young Mahoney, as he is also a recruit.

many cities this fact has acted as a boomerang already. Especially has it been so in such cities as Kansas City, Indianapolis, Baltimore and Buffalo. The fast minor league clubs of such cities furnish a brand of the game only slightly inferior to that seen in the big show, but at considerably reduced prices. Their Federal rivals—in many instances lacking the same redeeming graces—are forced to try to sell their wares at advanced prices. It has been reported that only ninety-two paid to see a Federal game in Pittsburgh in spite of the fact that the weather was ideal for the national pastime.

PATRICK MAY ENTER NATIONAL

Star Northland Golf Player May Compete in Big Amateur Tournament.

R. S. Patrick, the greatest golf player of the Northland country club and also one of the leading players of the West will enter the tournament of the Western Golf association, which will be held at Grand Rapids, Mich., this week-end. Patrick is also at the National Amateur Golf tournament which will this year be played over the links at Equine, near Chicago.

Several times the Northland club has been represented in the Western championship tournament. Never in the history of the club has the Northland been represented in the national championship, and in the event of Mr. Patrick playing in it, the event will mark the entry of the Duluth club in national golf competition.

FIGURING CHANCES IN COLLEGE MEET

Illinois Favorite in Big Intercollegiate Track Events.

Chicago, June 6.—Illinois yesterday qualified three men for the quarter mile run in the conference meet here today and remained favorite last night on that account, despite the barring of W. A. Goolitz, one of its relay team. Ledby Sanders, the Illinois quarter-miler, secured at least two places and the disqualification of Campbell, and of Stanford's middle distance man, who was found to have been implicated in a Pittsburgh meet some years ago, helped the chances of the Orange and Blue.

Preliminary heats were held only in the quarter, scratches reducing the field in the half mile to such an extent that it can be handled today. Eight men qualified in two heats, but the competition was not strong and the fast time expected was not made. The qualifiers "pulling up" when their places were assured.

Goolitz was disqualified because Coach Gill neglected to list him among the Illinois entries, but it was said last night he would be run under protest. Colorado's quartet is generally believed to have the best chance in the relay should the Illinois hope. Henderson, Purdie, Hart or Tapping probably will compose the Illinois team.

Fast track and a firm turf are ready for the meet. The showers of Thursday night and yesterday afternoon succeeded late in the afternoon by bright sunshine, and the cinders and dirt about the track were ready. The little group of alumni and citizens of the Golden state who watched the preliminaries were hopeful that California and Stanford would be among the winners.

Next to Illinois, experts at the eleven hour favor Chicago, the Maroons having displaced Wisconsin through their recent good showings.

The announcement that Notre Dame was to enter the meet, and the weight events as expected.

GETTING SPEED YACHTS TUNED UP

Defiance to Go Into Water and Will Soon Be Racing.

Larchmont, N. Y., June 6.—Finishing touches on the remodelled spar of the cup-defiance candidate Defiance, owned by the Tri-City syndicate, were completed last yesterday at City Island and George M. Pynchon, managing owner, who seems to be in the best of humor at the prospects of his boat under a changed top hamper, announced that the Defiance, which has been on the marine railway here for a week, would be launched today at 3 o'clock and that the mainmast would be stepped within an hour. The Defiance will be given her first trial under reduced rig on Sunday in Long Island sound. No figures were given on rate comparisons between the Defiance and the other boats of the class.

"I can assure you," said Mr. Pynchon, "that we will take time from the Varsity, Alexander S. Cochran's sloop."

From a trustworthy source, it was learned at City Island that the Defiance will have to allow the Regulate the flag officers' school, only a second over a 20-mile course, consequent upon the shorter mainmast on the Bath yacht.

The hollow wooden mainmast built for the Defiance at Bath will be stepped today, her steel spar to its disuse. Seven feet was taken off the step-down wooden mast, while the spar itself was reduced also by taking off two inches and a half from the top.

The cup candidate yacht Vanitie spent the greater portion of the day at City Island harbor, trimming up for the race to be held today. Larchmont last night.

The Shamrock IV came up to my fullest expectations during her trial. She will still better and I have every confidence in her ultimate success. The four leaves will do the trick."

London, June 6.—In response to an invitation for an opinion as to the Shamrock IV on her showing in Thursday's sail-stretching trip Sir Thomas Lipton had said:

"The Shamrock IV came up to my fullest expectations during her trial. She will still better and I have every confidence in her ultimate success. The four leaves will do the trick."

The Federal league has advertised itself as of major league caliber and in

The Marinette-Menominee Team Heads List in W.-I. Aggregation.

Green Bay, Wis., June 6.—By beating everything that came to their path, the Marinette-Menominee team climbed to the top position in the Wisconsin-Illinois league pennant race this week. The present leaders passed the Madison and Oshkosh clubs in the scramble to first place, Madison, by defeating the Oshkosh champions in two of three games, and the two-time pennant winners in their third place.

Improvement was noted in the work of the Green Bay, Racine and Rockford clubs in the last few games. The timely hitting, and Manager Lynch is confident, despite the fact that the club has lost the lead for three weeks, that it will get out of last place in the season.

The pitching department with Joe Benz, who twirled a no-hit game earlier in the season, the Rockford team has secured Jim Jachs, pitcher, from the Milwaukee association team. The Rockford team has added Outholders Bromley and Campbell, while the Racine team has the outfielder in Bell and a new second sacker in Goulder.

ARDUIN STARS IN TANK MEET

Louis Arduin, the crack all-round athlete of this city, was the largest point winner at the swimming meet held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. tank. The big athlete scored three firsts and a number of lesser points and showed swimming ability that stamps him as a real star.

Harry George gave another exhibition of Father Odenbach's discovery and walked upright in the water. The general exhibition was very good and the various events were witnessed by a large crowd.

Twenty-yard swim—Arduin, first; D'Arcy, second.

Twenty-yard back swim—Arduin, first; Williams, second; Beigle, third.

Diving contest (10 points total)—Ritchie, with 8.2 points, first; Eacoe, second; Williams, third.

Plunge for distance—Walsten, first, 46 feet; Arduin, second, 35.10 feet; Williams, third, 33.4 feet.

Medley event (one lap under water and one on the surface)—Williams, first; Ritchie, second; Beigle, third.

Final relay—Arduin against Cross, Williams, Beigle and Eacoe. Arduin won.

Ready for Fall Games.

Chicago, June 6.—Coaches and managers of football teams in the Central states are already listing and selecting officials for next fall's games. The selections were not announced and probably will be given out by each school.

This cup will be contested for by the yachts of England and America, and is the highest prize trophy in the world.

INTERNATIONAL POLO MATCH

First Team Trophy Match of Present Season Will Be Played on Long Island Next Tuesday—Conditions Not Over-Favorable for Trophy's Retention.

New York, June 6.—The first international team trophy match of the present season will be played at Meadow Brook, L. I., on Tuesday, when the English and American polo fours met in the initial game for possession of the international polo cup. While this trophy has not the extended competitive history of the American's cup, it is one of the most coveted of summer sports. This polo trophy, which was donated by the American and English polo devotees hundreds of thousands of dollars to win and retain, was won by the English team in 1909. The trophy was offered as an international championship emblem in the polo cup, which has won two and the United States three.

MAKE RULES FOR OLYMPIC MEET

International Committee Takes Important Action on Broad Jump.

Lyons, France, June 6.—A decision of considerable importance to American athletes was reached yesterday by the International Amateur Federation committee on rules, regulations and records. By five votes to one, the committee rejected the American contention that there should be no dig-out at the take-off in the broad jump.

During the discussion James E. Sullivan, president of the committee, pointed out that the American method was a guarantee against injury to the jumper, and that it was the finest broad jumper. The foreign delegates however, while admitting the value of the American method, declared that the dig-out was essential and were disinclined to change the methods to which they were accustomed.

A few other differences of opinion were brought up, but the committee brought its work on rules to a conclusion by passing all the amendments proposed by Mr. Sullivan with a few alterations. For instance, in the rule on uprights, it was decided that they shall not be moved at all in throwing events and the pole vault rule was made to read that if the implement breaks, it shall be counted no trial. As for the Marathon rule, no attendants or coaches are to be allowed during the race while on the grounds, and the rule on the various grounds, steeplechase specifications are omitted from the rule and are to be decided upon by the committee before each competition.

The next task of the committee is to fix the specifications of a standard set of athletic instruments after inspecting models shipped to Lyons for examination by the congress and also to investigate and draw up a list of the international federation.

LODGE TEAMS TO START THEIR SCHEDULE

The baseball teams of the Modern Brotherhood association and the Order of Owls will play tomorrow afternoon at John Desmond's park on Minnesota point. The game will be called at 3 o'clock and it is expected that it will be one of the best games of the season to date. This is the opening game in the lodge schedule and as both teams have been practicing since early in the season, some real baseball should result from the contest.

Frank Cloud, Stanley Johnson, R. Jacobs, Ivan Denton, Ed Simpson, Charles Privet, Silas Markinson, J. A. Horne, Perry Becker, Art Fisher, Paul Campbell and J. McDonald are some of the players of the Modern Brotherhood team.

Frank Kerst, Frank Hedem, Frank Horne, Earl Nichols, Frank Gasity, Spot Corning, W. Plotnicky, E. Hanson, Emil Peterson, Tom Jewell, John Worth and J. Simon are some of the players of the Owl team.

SAYS GOOD ROADS WILL CUT H. C. OF L.

Overland Agent Speaks of Benefits Derived From Easy Deliveries.

"The building of good roads is the one biggest and most important factor which this country must consider in the next few years," said Joseph T. Pencha, Jr., local agent for the Overland car.

"The improved highway is the one means of salvation for the poor man, for in these days of high cost of living, we must look to the cheaper transportation of food stuffs as our way out."

"The only solution left for us is to cut our cost of production and delivery. The best way to accomplish this is to provide good roads, for we have already had many demonstrations of how good roads will work to our advantage."

"The improvement of highways in many parts of our country in the last few years has been invariably followed by better living conditions. Where the roads leading into a large city have been improved, we have seen an increased supply of food stuffs on the local markets and a larger number of farmers bringing their products into the city. This, of a necessity, results in lower prices for the products and a long step toward better living conditions."

"On the other hand, the improvement of roads throughout the country is invariably followed by an improvement in farming methods. The agriculturist who heretofore devoted his energies to grazing and the production of rough food stuffs, such as corn, is now turning to what is known as market gardening. He is raising potatoes, beans, peas, and other commodities that are in every day demand, simply because he can get them to market where heretofore markets were denied him."

"It is no uncommon sight now to see farmers driving eighteen to twenty miles to market with loads of produce, which, before the highways were improved, were denied the consumer."

"The automobile, it is true, has had a great deal to do with increasing this supply, but even this vehicle would be helpless without highways on which to run."

"The advent of good roads, too, has brought about another revolution—that of intensive farming. The countries of the Old World always regarded us as a criminally wasteful people, in that the product raised on 100 acres of land in this country was often less than they produced on ten acres. Good roads have changed this condition. The American farmer now finds that he will get a greater return from one acre of land intensively cultivated, than ten acres farmed in the old slash-and-burn method heretofore practiced. This intensive farming is the direct result of good roads, for where the farmer heretofore found it necessary to cultivate crops, which made a large bulk, so that his infrequent trips to market were profitable, now finds that he can take a small load to the consumer as often as he desires."

"Good roads are an undistinguished blessing, and this every one who has given the matter any thought will admit. They not only promote increased industrial activity, and therefore better living conditions of thousands of our city dwellers, but they provide an improved social life for people who live in the country. The family which has access to a good road, and therefore quicker and more pleasant trips to the church or church office, visits the neighbors oftener and attends farmer club meetings more frequently. No one can deny all of these important factors in the life of the people."

TWO-DOOR TYPE OF CAR POPULAR

Comfort and Convenience Are Among Its Features, Says Peacha.

"The advantages of the new Kissel car two-door body over the four-door type go beyond good looks, although there is no gainsaying its supremacy in farming methods. The agriculturist who heretofore devoted his energies to grazing and the production of rough food stuffs, such as corn, is now turning to what is known as market gardening. He is raising potatoes, beans, peas, and other commodities that are in every day demand, simply because he can get them to market where heretofore markets were denied him."

"It is no uncommon sight now to see farmers driving eighteen to twenty miles to market with loads of produce, which, before the highways were improved, were denied the consumer."

roads we could find and it is rarely that we have occasion to shift gears. And with its ample power this Kissel motor is still the quietest power plant I ever saw. If the opinion of local owners is typical of sentiment elsewhere, and I believe it is, the new 48-horse Kissel is making a great name for itself."

HOW TO BECOME AN EXPERT DRIVER

Forethought, correct judgment and self-control are essential qualifications which the motor car driver should attain.

If you feel that you lack self-confidence it is well to have someone teach you to drive, step by step. In the first place, don't expect or even try to learn everything at once. Have your instructor take the car to some unfrequented street and then, while he controls the throttle, learn to steer while moving along slowly in high gear.

Hold the wheel firmly, but not too tight. Don't try to go in an absolutely straight line. Turn the wheel slightly and see for yourself how sensitive it is by trying to dodge small objects in the road. By practicing in this manner for some time you will wear off the nervous feeling and will be surprised at the ease with which you can steer a big, powerful car.

The next step is learning to manipulate the clutch and the gears. Shut off the motor and, with the car standing still, go through the operations of changing gears time and time again, just as though the car were running. Then, after starting the motor, throw out the clutch pedal, shift the hand lever into first speed position and release the clutch pedal very slowly while your instructor takes the car to the street. Repeat this car and over again. See how slowly you can start and stop the car before ever attempting to go into the higher speeds.

Always exercise great care in shifting gears with a hand shift lever. Be sure that the clutch pedal is in its downmost position before moving the lever. On the other hand, when going from one speed to another, don't wait too long, as the car will lose its momentum.

Drive slowly and cautiously when learning. Keep as straight a course as possible, and practice on the level part of the road only until you have mastered the art of driving. Always get the car well under way before changing to a higher gear.

When ascending a hill, retard the spark. If the motor labors, do not try to climb it on high, but shift back to second or intermediate. The lower speeds are for a purpose, and you must not hesitate to use them when necessary. If the hill is very steep and the motor labors on second, shift into low gear.

In descending a very steep hill, you can put the car in low and the motor will check the speed of your car, making the descent safe and preventing the excessive use of the brakes. This, however, is seldom necessary, the usual practice being to coast down a hill.

Don't try to get the maximum speed out of a new car until you have run it for several hundred miles.

Remember that every part is new and more or less stiff, and must necessarily become worn in as it is used.

Don't forget to strain the gasoline through a piece of canvas or skin, as this will remove all foreign matter.

Be sure you know the location of the gas cut-off. On the Kissel it is located in the pipe-line just below the carburetor.

Cultivate the faculty of detecting any irregularities in the running of your machine.

CONCRETE AND BRICK FOR ROADS

Ohio Builds More Than One-Third of Highways of These Materials.

Slightly more than one-third of the 573 miles of state highways built and contracted for in Ohio during the last year have been of brick and concrete construction, as shown by Bulletin No. 22, just issued by the Ohio state highway department.

More than 300 miles of road were built and contracted for during each of the two fiscal years ending in 1912 and 1913, of which sixty-two miles were of brick and sixty-two of concrete.

The first concrete road contracted for by the department was put down July 1, 1911, although the city of Bellefontaine, Ohio, laid the first concrete pavement in the country twenty-two years ago and it is still giving excellent service.

The concrete roads built in 1912 were given a bituminous wearing surface, such as has been adopted for the trunk line system in California, but the results were not satisfactory.

Always exercise great care in shifting gears with a hand shift lever. Be sure that the clutch pedal is in its downmost position before moving the lever. On the other hand, when going from one speed to another, don't wait too long, as the car will lose its momentum.

Drive slowly and cautiously when learning. Keep as straight a course as possible, and practice on the level part of the road only until you have mastered the art of driving. Always get the car well under way before changing to a higher gear.

When ascending a hill, retard the spark. If the motor labors, do not try to climb it on high, but shift back to second or intermediate. The lower speeds are for a purpose, and you must not hesitate to use them when necessary. If the hill is very steep and the motor labors on second, shift into low gear.

In descending a very steep hill, you can put the car in low and the motor will check the speed of your car, making the descent safe and preventing the excessive use of the brakes. This, however, is seldom necessary, the usual practice being to coast down a hill.

Don't try to get the maximum speed out of a new car until you have run it for several hundred miles.

Remember that every part is new and more or less stiff, and must necessarily become worn in as it is used.

Don't forget to strain the gasoline through a piece of canvas or skin, as this will remove all foreign matter.

Be sure you know the location of the gas cut-off. On the Kissel it is located in the pipe-line just below the carburetor.

FEDERAL ROAD MAKING FACTORS

Government Is Expected to Operate Through Various States.

In Federal roads legislation it is a practical certainty that the national government will recognize the state as the smallest unit with which it will deal. When the senate postoffice and post roads committee reports the measure which came to it from the house, it is predicted that the so-called roads rental clause will be missing, and that whatever money is appropriated for the federal road fund will be expended on whatever roads the governor and the secretary of agriculture may decide. Through its national good roads board the American Automobile association has greatly concerned itself with the highway question approached from a national standpoint, and through the P. Ditch committee has been on the scene.

The basis of apportionment of Federal appropriations to the respective states is a matter upon which there is very little disagreement, and it is probable that population, area and post road mileage will be the factors finally adopted for determining the proportion of Federal money to which each state will be entitled.

Finally, our solons will probably begin the program of Federal aid with a modest appropriation, probably not to exceed $5,000,000. This sum, together with an equal amount to be provided by the states, will involve an expenditure of $10,000,000 during the first year's operation. To start with a modest appropriation and increase it as conditions warrant would be to insure the success of the policy from the outset.

The question which has threatened to become a rock upon which the Federal aid good road forces would split is that of Federal inspection. There are legislators who stand against the possibility of another great Federal bureau growing to such proportions as to cast its shadow upon local autonomy. They profess to see the crumbling of state's rights, the stifling of local initiative and endeavor, and the growth of a political machine.

If Federal inspection involved these consequences, it would be a dangerous and highly undesirable policy. As a matter of fact, Federal inspection, involves no inconsiderable restriction on the growth of a political machine.

The weight of precedent and the common sense of congress are sufficiently powerful to make certain the inclusion in any Federal aid bill that may be passed of an adequate amount of Federal supervision.

Federal revenue comes from all of the states, and the right of a state to do as it pleases with its own property does not carry with it the right to do what is pleasing with property that comes from all of the states. To say that Federal inspection of work for which the federal government pays a portion of the cost is either unwarranted or unwise is to say that the federal government should not year to year make appropriations for specific purposes, and yet take no steps whatever to ascertain whether the money is applied to such purposes.

The contention that Federal aid under a plan of Federal inspection will stifle local self-help is not borne out by experiences in the respective states where an analogous plan has been in effect for some years between states and counties. In 1904 the total expenditure on public roads throughout the United States amounted to $30,000,000. In 1913 the total expenditure aggregated about $206,000,000, and this in spite of the fact that state participation in road work has had its spirit of greatest development since 1904, and that the total expenditure of state funds up to and including the year 1913 amounted to about $155,000,000.

California, with one automobile to every twenty persons, and it is the state in the Union for the fellow who depends on his neighbor for rides. It leads the country from a per capita point. Minnesota has one car to every forty-eight persons.

New York, with 121,738 cars, owns the greatest number of cars, although Massachusetts with one car to every thirty-four persons, has a better per capita percentage.

The farming state of Illinois has 90,425 automobiles, and the state of Indiana, all neighbors to Illinois, have per capita percentages of from one car to thirty-three persons to one car to ninety persons.

out the cars for the public, while it required special speed creations from Europe to break its time."

Automobile shows, a familiar story to the motorists of this country, are a novelty in the Philippines, of which the island people have just had their first taste. At the recent Philippine exposition in Manila the motor cars aroused the widest interest.

The Cadillac display was especially elaborate and complete. What particularly attracted the people of Manila was a cut-open Cadillac chassis exposing to view the working parts of the car, a feature with which hundreds of thousands of people in this country are familiar, similar exhibits having been made at every automobile show of consequence in the United States the past twelve years. But to the people of Manila it was an absolute novelty.

The Cadillac was awarded two gold medals, one was for the "most instructive special automobile exhibit," showing the Cadillac chassis in operation. The other was "for an example of special excellence."

"May has been a record-breaking month with us," said A. G. Seiberling, general manager of the Haynes Automobile company, Kokomo, Ind. "First, in the number of visitors we had at the factory, due to the speedway race, second, in the number of dealers secured, especially in Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Utah, and third, in the number of cars shipped, which exceeds by a large percentage our records for May shipments in previous years."

"Although the Haynes has years ago established a reputation in the Western states for easy riding qualities, hill-climbing ability, and sturdiness of construction, it is due to our increased production this season that we are able to ship so many of our cars West."

Franklin business for the first three months of 1914 shows an increase over the corresponding months of 1913 of 93 per cent.

Conditions with the Franklin have been unusual for the last six months. The factory has been running under high pressure and has been unable to get within a couple of weeks of its schedule for shipping cars. The capacity of the factory has been steadily increased and more cars are being turned out than ever before and still the sales department is unable to supply all of the dealers.

It is persistently reported in New York that the Ford Motor company has purchased the Sheepshead Bay race track owned by the Coney Island Jockey club. This is located down on Long Island and is valued at $1,700,000. The site will be used for a great new factory. New Yorkers who wired Mr. Ford regarding the matter received advice that an important announcement would be forthcoming in a few days.

Fuel economy is to be emphasized in the Chicago-Boston day and night non-motor stop national reliability run through the offer of a trophy by the Standard Oil company of Indiana for the car making the best showing in gasoline consumption according to the formula of the technical committee of the Chicago Automobile club, which is promoting the national tour.

From every part of the United States, as well as from several foreign countries, approximately ninety-five traveling factory representatives of the Willies-Overland company met in annual convention at Toledo, during the week of May 25 to 29, inclusive. The purpose of these yearly gatherings is to review past experiences and to outline in a specific manner the plan of campaign for the coming season. To this end considerable time was devoted to mechanical discussion, and following this officials of the company explained administrative policies.

In order to foster and encourage the basic harmony of action so noticeable in the Overland organization, the evenings were spent in informal social sessions, a theater party, smoker and banquet at Hotel Secor, Toledo.

The Kiesel Motor car company reports a remarkably lively inquiry for Kiesel Kars from abroad. "We report this," says Sales Manager G. C. Frey, "not to intimate that we are cornering the foreign trade, but as an indication that American automobiles are being regarded with increasing favor, and perhaps as an augury that the future will be bright for exporters generally. Business men in this country are studying the methods of other nations carefully and the result will be a better mutual understanding."

Our correspondence reveals that in the most remote parts of the world, the automobile pleasure car is assuming a firm foothold. Still more surprising is the wide interest in commercial vehicles.

REDUCES RUNNING COST.

Cole Company Puts Out New Vacuum Gasoline Control.

Another new automobile feature that will have much to do towards reducing cost and adding simplicity in motor car operation is found for the first time on the new Cole ten-four motor car, manufactured by the Cole Motor Car company, Indianapolis, Ind., in the form of the Stewart-Warner gravity vacuum gasoline control.

Although the Cole Motor Car company's board of standardization engineers have selected the new device, and the new Cole is the only car using the new control exclusively at present, within a short time nearly every big automobile manufacturer in the country will announce this invention as a part of their regular equipment. According to Webb Jay, the inventor, the Stewart-Warner corporation now has orders for immediate delivery of 42,000 vacuum tanks.

The new device which will revolutionize the method of gasoline consumption on motor cars is exceedingly simple. It does away with the mechanical air pumps on motors, the auxiliary hand pumps on cowl boards, eliminates many dangers heretofore watched for by automobile engineers, increases motor efficiency and allows the motorist to get more miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Webb Jay, the inventor, is an old automobile race driver, automobile engineer and former automobile manufacturing plant sales manager. He has thoroughly protected his patent rights and the big Stewart-Warner Speedometer corporation of Chicago. Fred W. Neumann of this city is representative for this invention in Duluth. The Cole cars being sold by the Johnson Motor company in Duluth are all equipped with the control.

CANNOT RECOVER FROM THE CITY

Supreme Court Holds Municipality Not Liable for Boy's Injuries.

A verdict at the hands of a district court jury relieving the city of Duluth from any responsibility or liability for injuries which the 4-year-old son of Alexander Boyd received several months ago while playing beneath a backstop in the city ballpark, will not be disturbed by the supreme court.

The high tribunal yesterday affirmed an order of the trial court refusing to direct judgment against the city of Duluth, notwithstanding the jury verdict in favor of the Boyd family.

The jury verdict, which the city had appealed, held that the injury complained of "resulted from an extraordinary combination of circumstances."

stances which defendant was not bound to anticipate and being chargeable with no duty of care with respect to the person injured, it was not answerable in damages for the injuries received."

The boy was struck by a falling plank while playing under the bridge. The youngster's father brought suit to recover but the jury found in favor of the city. His attorney then made motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict which the court refused. From third order denying this motion, Boyd appealed to the supreme court. Judge Bert Foster presided at the trial of the case.

ASSISTANT IS NEEDED

W. H. Schilling Named for New School Board Position.

A new office was created by the board of education at its meeting at the Central high school last night. An assistant to the superintendent—not an assistant superintendent—will be the title of the new official.

In putting up the matter to the board for final action President Magner spoke of the enormous amount of work connected with the superintendent's office and the great number of details requiring his direct supervision. The school system has been greatly developed he said during Supt. Denfeld's long term.

"So great have Mr. Denfeld's duties become," said Mr. Magner, "that he often has the work to do and sometimes three men. He has to work at too high pressure and it is the duty of the board to provide an assistant."

The board had already discussed the matter and was unanimous in its action to provide an assistant.

W. H. Schilling, head of the history department and athletic instructor at Central high school, was promoted to fill the new position at a salary of $2,000 a year.

Mr. Schilling has had several former promotions and received the highest endorsement of Supt. Denfeld.

It is probable that a new man will be secured for Mr. Schilling's present position at a smaller salary, as Mr. Schilling is now receiving a much higher salary than when he began his duties at Central.

TWO PERISH IN FLOOD WATERS

BANK MESSENGER ROBBED OF CHECKS

Wallet Attached to Body By Chain Is Slit Open.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—George Crossin, messenger for a national bank of this city, reported to police headquarters yesterday that he had been robbed of checks and debts valued at $6,000 and about $350 in cash, while making the rounds of the banks and trust companies on business. Crossin said he had the drafts and cash in a large wallet, which was attached to his body by a leather-covered chain.

The wallet had been slit open, and Crossin said he believed the man who had followed him had taken the wallet from his pocket, cut it open, abstracted the contents and then replaced it in his pocket. The police are investigating the case.

THE PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYED LABOR.

Washington, June 6.—National legislation to deal with the problem of unemployed labor was urged before the house labor committee yesterday by a delegation of sociological workers.

The delegation supported the Murdock bill for a national employment agency and the MacDonell bill to create employment agencies at the various postoffices throughout the country.

It is expected that the committee will report some legislation along this line at this session, and will press it in the house next winter.

HIGHWAYS TO BE IMPROVED

County Board Votes $5,000 for International Road; Other Work Ordered.

No More Liquor Licenses for 1914; Thirteen Saloons Are Enough.

An appropriation of $5,000 was made by the county board at its adjourned session yesterday afternoon to be used in making improvements on the International and Pike River roads, highways leading north out of Virginia. The International road is otherwise known as State Highway No. 1 and the county will be reimbursed from a $50,000 fund set aside by the state for money spent on its improvement.

Other road appropriations made yesterday afternoon were: Fifth commissioner's district, $4,000, divided as follows: Industrial road, $500; Gowand Prairie road, $400; Laska road, $300; Wayne and Whiteface road, $1,000; Arnold road, $800; and Grant road, $1,300.

Sixth district, $6,000, divided as follows: Embarras and Pike River road, $2,000; Tower and Embarras road, $600; Lampa road, $600; Nelmar road, $300; Old Vermilion road, $2,000.

The county board went on record yesterday afternoon as being opposed to granting any more new liquor licenses during the year 1914. This action was taken when the board passed a resolution to this effect introduced by Commissioner Kauppi. The motion was carried unanimously. Immediately following four applications for new liquor licenses were turned down. Joe Gilchick was granted a renewal of his license.

Those refused permission to sell liquor in the county were: J. J. Olson, Central Lake township; Frank A. Craven, East township; F. A. Keffew, section 34, 18-12, and Ellis Walsh, section 34, 18-12. There are now thirteen saloons in the county operating under county license.

The board refunded E. De Caigney $456.60 on a license granted to him in the town of Buick township for the reason that the town voted "dry" before he had a chance to use his license.

Tomlinson & Egan of Ashland, Wis., were awarded the contract for the completion of the grandstand at the county fair grounds at Hibbing and Samuel T. Johnson of the construction of three miles of road in section 13, 56-15 at $1,070 a mile.

The board decided to standardize all wages paid to laborers on county road work. Hereafter they will be paid $2.25 per ten-hour day.

The commissioners authorized the purchase of two Ford automobiles at a total cost of $1,355.90. They will be used by the county officials to inspect the roads.

Election judges were appointed in ten unorganized districts.

He sent back a check for $840 salary, with notice that the city would be sued for the balance of the full amount due from the day his term began.

Last yesterday the board decided to pay the mayor the $305 which he demands. He thereupon called off his strike. It is understood ex-Mayor Laville is refunding the $305 which he received from the city for continuing as mayor during the period in question.

STATE CROP NEWS GOOD

Second Installment on County Conditions Is Most Encouraging.

Too Early to Predict Yield But Start Is Excellent.

A second installment of June crop reports from sixteen counties was received by Fred D. Sherman, state commissioner of immigration, this week, and all contain favorable reports as to crop conditions at the present time.

"It is far too early to predict as to the yield this year," said Mr. Sherman, "but there is one thing certain, present conditions could not be more favorable for a bumper crop than they are at the present time. Comparing the 1914 June reports with the 1913 June reports gives a much better prospect this year, and while there is plenty of time left for crops to be damaged, I feel that Minnesota is starting her 1914 season under most favorable conditions." The reports by counties follow:

Stevens County. Nine per cent decrease in wheat acreage; 25 per cent increase in corn acreage in this county this year. The prospects for all crops are good at the present time. Weather conditions continue favorable. Pastures are looking good. Farm help needed. About 1,000 acres of alfalfa planted this year and is fast becoming a very important crop in this county.—D. D. Hawk, crop reporter.

Red Lake County. About 10 per cent increase in corn acreage this year. Prospects for berries, apples, plums, etc., are excellent, in fact prospects for all crops never looked better. Pastures are looking fine. Sufficient rain and roads are in good shape. New barns being built and general improvements made all over the county.—V. M. Higginbotham, crop reporter.

Yellow Medicine. Wheat acreage decreased about 10 per cent; corn increased 10 per cent in 1914. Prospects for all crops could not be better. Pastures are looking good. Farm help needed. No rain needed at present. Prospects for berries, plums, apples, etc., are very good.—W. Allen, crop reporter.

Chicago County. Ninety five per cent decrease in wheat acreage; 25 per cent increase in corn. 10 per cent increase in berries, apples and plums which are in excellent condition. Crops will average 15 per cent better than usual. Farm hands needed. Plenty of rain and warm weather we are having at present is just what we want. Agricultural schools in Rush City have made wonderful advance the past two years in horticulture.—Curtis M. Johnson, crop reporter.

Polk County. Corn increased about 10 per cent this year. Prospects for all crops are good. Plenty of rain at present. Pastures are looking good. Farm help needed. No rain needed at present. Prospects for berries, plums, apples, etc., are very good.—A. D. Stephens, crop reporter.

Rice County. Wheat decreased 20 per cent; corn increased 15 per cent. All crops are looking very good. Pastures are looking fine. Farm hands needed. No rain needed at present. Prospects for berries, plums, apples, etc., are very good.—George Loney, crop reporter.

Wadena County. Fifteen per cent increase in corn acreage. Berries and small fruits looking good. Excellent prospects for all crops. Pastures were never better. Plenty of rain. No farm help needed at present.—George Loney, crop reporter.

Faribault County. A slight decrease in wheat acreage and an increase in corn acreage this year. The crop of berries will not be large this year, while the crop of apples and plums will fall considerably below last year's. Prospects for all farm products are good. All crops are looking fine. Pastures are in good condition. Crops are not suffering for want of rain. Farm help needed.—Roy C. Palmer, crop reporter.

Morrison County. All crops look good at this time, and clover is doing better than it has for several years. Sufficient rain at present. Pastures are in good shape. Small fruits and berries are looking good at present and crops of all kinds are coming along fine.—B. Logan, crop reporter.

Hennepin County. Wheat decreased 10 per cent in this county this year; corn increased 10 per cent over last year. Apple crop, compared with last year, will be smaller. Berries, plums, etc., look like a 100 per cent crop. Small grains, corn, potatoes and garden stuff of all kinds never looked better. Pastures in first-class condition. Plenty of rain so far. Could use some farm hands.—M. H. Heggie, crop reporter.

Bellevue County. The acreage of the various crops does not change much from year to year. There are at least 8,000 acres devoted to truck farming, and small fruits, apple prospects are good, and small fruits depend a lot upon the amount of rain we get in the next few weeks. Soil is getting dry, and some truck crops are beginning to suffer. Farm help needed.—H. C. Krum, crop reporter.

Pope County. Wheat acreage increased 20 per cent this year; corn increased 20 per cent. Strawberries look promising. Apples and plums will not be a large crop in this county this year. Grain crops look promising. Some barley is wintering in soil. Flax not all seeded. Oats looking promising. Corn is coming fine. Pastures are not up yet. Things are looking good generally. Most crops were planted better than usual. Corn and pasture crops are receiving considerable attention. Twenty silos have been erected so far in this county this year and thirty more to follow. This will mean more corn and stock. Stock looking good. One thousand acres of alfalfa being planted under the direction of the county agent.—A. D. Anderson, crop reporter.

Redwood County. A slight increase in corn acreage and a decrease in wheat acreage. Prospects are good for all fruits and all crops in general. Pastures are in excellent shape. Plenty of rain. Some farm help needed.—J. E. Nell, crop reporter.

Fillmore County. About 25 per cent increase in corn acreage. Berries, apples, plums, etc., looking very good. All crops looking fine and were never better. Farmers are planning on the biggest acreage of corn ever planted. Many farm hands needed. Plenty of rain. Pastures looking good.—A. W. Thompson, crop reporter.

St. Louis County. Five per cent decrease in wheat acreage; 15 per cent increase in corn. Berries, apples, plums, etc., looking very good. Season has been fine so far. Fruits especially. Prospects for all crops are excellent. The season is quite early; ground well supplied with moisture, and there has been plenty of warm weather lately. Pastures are in splendid condition.—K. D. VanWagoner, crop reporter.

Todd County. Slight decrease in wheat acreage; 24 per cent increase in corn acreage. Small fruits and berries are in excellent shape. Prospects for all crops never better on June 1. Farm lands steadily increasing in value due to the general good crops of all kinds of produce in this county. Pastures looking good. Plenty of rain. No farm help needed at present.—Raymond A. Lee, crop reporter.

Barnes County. Berries, apples, plums, etc., looking very good. Season has been fine so far. Fruits especially. Prospects for all crops are excellent. The season is quite early; ground well supplied with moisture, and there has been plenty of warm weather lately. Pastures are in splendid condition.—K. D. VanWagoner, crop reporter.

GENERAL OFFICERS OF ASSOCIATION AND DIRECTORS FROM EACH OF TEN COUNTIES.

Crookston, Minn. June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though born less than four months ago, Feb. 19, the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association is a live youngster.

In each of the ten counties, Clay, Becker, Norman, Kittson, Mahan, Red Lake, Polk, Pennington and Roseau, a lively local interest was taken in the organization from its inception and as a result a responsive chord was touched in each county.

The association was incorporated at once and its existence as a corporation began April 2. Active work along practical development lines was started and the corporation began to operate along with county agents, farm clubs, Crookston School of Agriculture, superintendents of schools and individual live wires, and the work has already gained a remarkable impetus.

While the association is paying considerable attention to publicity work with the view of securing more substantial farmers for the fertile acres in its territory, this is but one of the activities.

In Touch With Farmers. The association seeks active cooperation with farmers in every county, and the secretary is devoting a great deal of time and effort to get into personal touch with actual farmers, as it is believed that only by pursuing such a course can the association be built upon a lasting foundation and permanent benefits be secured.

The new development association will hold two big meetings each year, the first annual convention being June 25 and 26 at Moorhead, the second largest city in the Valley. In addition to the annual convention in the summer there will be a monstrous farm crops show each winter similar to the one held here last winter.

Association Money Conserved. It is the policy of the association to have the annual meetings financed by the city in which the convention is held. The Moorhead Commercial club took this matter up early in April, a committee of seventeen having been named to handle the finances and entertainment features of the meeting.

The general sessions will be held in a monster tent with a capacity of 5,000, located in the heart of the city. For overflow meetings, a farmers' club conference and a special program for the ladies, the state normal school auditorium at Concordia college will be used.

Silo Demonstration. One of the features will be a silo demonstration and the leading silo manufacturers will have either complete silos or silos partly built which will show the nature of construction in detail and farmers of which a crowd of at least 5,000 both days is expected, will be given the best silo demonstration ever witnessed in the United States. There will also be extensive exhibits of ensilage cutters, etc.

The committee of seventeen at Moorhead have 100 automobiles pledged which will be at the service of the delegates at all times and short tours will be run to the great Schroeder dairy farm where a world prize Holstein will be on exhibition. To the great alfalfa fields in Clay county, farmers raise as high as 200 and 300 acres, and to the great Clay county potato fields, potato raising being one of the county's greatest industries.

Alfalfa a Big Feature. Alfalfa will be another big feature on the program and those who will handle that subject is Prof. N. F. Hanson, regarded as the leading alfalfa expert in the United States who has visited both Siberian and Chinese alfalfa fields and conducted extensive researches in connection with alfalfa.

One feature of the convention will be the short sessions with few speakers but all of them headliners. This plan having been adopted in order that those who desire to witness the silo demonstration, etc., may do so and to avoid long wearisome sessions. Special delegations representing the St. Paul Association of Commerce, the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association, Commercial clubs of Duluth and other cities will be present to get a line on the development work being done and to add to the enthusiasm of the occasion.

Work With N. M. D. A. This association which was organized to solve the problems which are peculiar to the Minnesota Red river valley counties is working in complete harmony with the West Central association, the Northern Minnesota Development association and the Southern Minnesota Development association, but with the main effort directed towards the solution of Red river valley problems and working with an object in view and with the united backing of all interests, it will be easily understood why effective work is being done at the very inception of the organization.

action has been pending in the Federal courts for more than two years.

CASH WHEAT STAYS FIRM

Market Closes Slightly Up on Steady Demand From the East

Flaxseed Irregular—Quotations Weaken Sharply in Late Trading.

Duluth Board of Trade, June 6.—Cash and the near-option wheat was strong during today's market on good cash demand. It was also reported from New York that some No. 1 hard winter wheat had been sold at the same board on a basis of 94¢ at Chicago. July wheat opened unchanged at 94¢ and it closed 1/2¢ up at 95¢. The September option opened 1/2¢ up at 89¢ and it closed 1/2¢ off at 88 1/2¢. Oats were strong and closed 1/2¢ up at 29 1/2¢. Rye closed unchanged at 59 1/2¢ for choice grain. At Minneapolis, July oats closed at 30¢ and September wheat closed at 87¢ asked and calls at 87 1/2¢ bid. Further favorable news was received regarding the crop outlook from both Southwest and Northwest points. Experts generally agreed in the statement that there is every reason to expect bumper yields of both winter and spring wheat, provided present conditions are maintained. It is expected that harvesting will be general in Kansas by June 15, and good progress in cutting was reported in sections of Oklahoma and Texas. The outlook in North Dakota is said to be the best in years at present, with abundant moisture to allow any apprehensions of drought for some time. Predictions are made that the forthcoming government crop to be issued next Tuesday will tell a satisfactory story all round.

As a result of the strength in the cash market, considerable grain for the season is now moving this way from country elevators. There were 105 cars of all grains on the tracks here today.

Flaxseed Irregular.—The market in flaxseed was irregular. As the result of some bidding and light offerings, quotations in the seed advanced 1/2¢ at the outset, and the market then closed on a basis up to the closing hour. Quotations then ran off sharply on generally lower foreign demand, and closing prices were practically unchanged from yesterday. July flax opened unchanged at $1.61 and it closed there. September opened unchanged at $1.61 and it closed 1/2¢ up at $1.61 1/2. The October option opened unchanged at $1.61 and it closed 1/2¢ up at $1.61 1/2, and October at $1.44 1/2 bid.

INTERMEDIATE MERGER IS BIG ASSET FOR ANACONDA

Gets Still More Commanding Position in Copper Industry.

Great Saving Made By Treatment of Slimes and Tailings.

Butte, Mont., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.) At a meeting of the stockholders of the International Smelting & Refining company held at Jersey City, N. J., the proposition to sell the plants and properties of the company to the Anaconda Copper Mining company was ratified. At a meeting held by the directors of the Anaconda company at the same time the action of the stockholders of that company was ratified. The transfer of the stock of the International was confirmed and the details perfected for carrying the plan into effect.

The price paid by the Anaconda company is $10,322,709.54. This price was agreed upon at a conference of the directors of the two companies some time ago and submitted to the meeting of the stockholders of the respective companies.

The holders of the stock of the International Smelting & Refining company are given the option of taking their shares in the Anaconda company at the rate of 3.3 shares of the Anaconda stock for one share of the International stock. The stockholders, it is stated, have decided to accept stock rather than cash in payment.

Business to Be Wound Up.

The business of the International is to be closed out entirely and will be merged into that of the Anaconda company. The properties taken over include the Haritan plant at Perth-Amboy, N. J., one of the largest and most modern electrolytic copper refineries in the world, the plant of the International Lead Refining company at East Chicago, the Toole smelter located 6 1/2 miles from Tooleville, Utah, on the Salt Lake and Utah Valley railroad and a number of subsidiary companies connected with these.

At the present time over half of the copper furnished to the Haritan refinery comes from the Anaconda company's smelters at Anaconda and Great Falls.

At Perth-Amboy over 1,000 men are employed and the monthly capacity of the plant exceeds 35,000,000 pounds.

Will Be Advantageous.

The consolidation will furnish many advantages, including economy in general management, and is expected to place the Anaconda company in a still more commanding position in the copper industry. The Toole smelter, a very complete plant and follows largely the lines of the Washoe smelter, crushing and annealing the Douglas roasters, the reverberatory plant, the converting plant, the power station and the various departments. Direct connection is had with the Bingham plant.

The estimated value of the International properties is over $13,000,000. The balance sheet of the company shows assets of $11,000,000. The consolidation will result in the management of these properties. The International was controlled by the Lyon interests.

Treating Anaconda's Slimes.

The two processes that have been perfected by the Anaconda Copper Mining company to carry off the slimes and the tailings from the company's enormous mine output will have tremendous bearing upon the future of the copper industry and the Butte district.

Had anyone suddenly run across a great new mine of slimes and tailings, a mine that had an inexhaustible supply of 8 per cent ore which could be mined at the rate of 300 tons per day, and at one-half the cost that it takes to mine the ore of the Leonard, the excitement over the find would have altered the entire mining world.

And this is the case with the slimes and tailings of the Leonard. It has been done in the round table process for treating slimes which has now been successfully operated for a month in the company's new plant at the Washoe smelter. Definite results have been secured. The plant has now been in operation long enough to determine accurately the costs of operation and the profit accruing.

For many years the slimes, looking like muddy water of a clay like color, have been running off and carrying with them the great values in copper ore that will hereafter be saved.

The final concentrate that consists of about 8 per cent copper, 50 per cent silica and 10 per cent sulphur and 300 tons of this material every twenty-four hours and sent to the converter to get through the treatment required to remove the copper. The average cost per pound of the slimes and tailings is about three-fourths of a cent to the converter and the cost of the slimes and tailings is about three-fourths of a cent to the converter.

East Butte.

The East Butte company's report for April shows that the recoveries for the month were 13,000 pounds of copper, 30,125 ounces of silver and 151 ounces of gold. This was less than the production of the first four months of this year of 5,018,020 pounds of copper.

This at the rate of a little over 15,000,000 pounds per year. The annual report for the first four months showed the copper production of the East Butte company last year to have been 14,011,088 pounds. The present rate is nearly 8 per cent over last year's rate.

The first four months of this year showed the silver production as follows: January, 41,322 ounces; February, 36,240 ounces; March, 42,211 ounces; and April, 30,125 ounces.

This made the total for the first four months of the year 153,960 pounds; March, 15,646 pounds; and April, 15,646 pounds. This with the April production makes a total for the first four months of this year of 5,018,020 pounds of copper.

The copper production for the first three months of the year was as follows: January, 1,000,000 pounds; February, 1,000,000 pounds; March, 1,000,000 pounds. This with the April production makes a total for the first four months of this year of 5,018,020 pounds of copper.

Working on Footwall in Several Places With Good Results.

Old Osceola to Reopen Its No. 3 Shaft in Short Time.

Loughton, Mich., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Centennial, the two or three last months has been working on the footwall in several places with the same good results as the South Kensington and the Wolverine, that is, the footwall, the work is now being done on its rich shelf underlying the two above named mines and north of No. 3, the north range. It was given to the management four years ago that No. 3 shaft, the third level, the shaft, might be used to mine the northeast corner of the footwall, and it would seem that this is still a possibility, as the drifts on the thirtieth, thirty-first and thirty-second levels to the north have been carried out under the South Kensington and the work has then been stopped. The thirty-third to the thirty-seventh levels, inclusive, are being extended, the best ground being on the lower levels where the shoot is approaching the shaft being a considerable distance from No. 3 shaft. There is a fine stretch of good territory from the eighteenth level to the thirtieth level, the distance from the footwall being about 100 feet. A portion of which has been mined, but there are thousands of tons of ore remaining. In about a month's time the shaft will be sunk again to the thirty-seventh level, the shaft is now about thirty feet below the thirty-seventh level.

One dock at that port, the Soo line is assembling timber at Ashland. Directly across from the dock, the pier will be demolished and during the reconstruction a large amount of work will be done on the present foundations. The height of the dock will be eighty feet. It had been planned to extend the pier to the shore, but the cost of the work was too great. The new pier, while containing a large amount of work, will be a considerable improvement on the old one. The dock will be built of concrete and will be able to handle a large amount of cargo. The work is now being done by the Ashland Dock company.

ARE BUSY AT CENTERAL

Old Osceola to Reopen Its No. 3 Shaft in Short Time.

Loughton, Mich., June 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Centennial, the two or three last months has been working on the footwall in several places with the same good results as the South Kensington and the Wolverine, that is, the footwall, the work is now being done on its rich shelf underlying the two above named mines and north of No. 3, the north range. It was given to the management four years ago that No. 3 shaft, the third level, the shaft, might be used to mine the northeast corner of the footwall, and it would seem that this is still a possibility, as the drifts on the thirtieth, thirty-first and thirty-second levels to the north have been carried out under the South Kensington and the work has then been stopped. The thirty-third to the thirty-seventh levels, inclusive, are being extended, the best ground being on the lower levels where the shoot is approaching the shaft being a considerable distance from No. 3 shaft. There is a fine stretch of good territory from the eighteenth level to the thirtieth level, the distance from the footwall being about 100 feet. A portion of which has been mined, but there are thousands of tons of ore remaining. In about a month's time the shaft will be sunk again to the thirty-seventh level, the shaft is now about thirty feet below the thirty-seventh level.

The Strawberry Bed.

THE NEW STRAWBERRY BED.

By KATE SAINT MAUR.

Like asparagus, the strawberry bed should be established as soon as the family has settled in a country home, because it takes a year to get a full crop. There are a great many varieties to choose from. Among the standards are the Marshall for first early, the Glen Mary for midseason and the Gandy for late gathering.

New beds may be started in the fall or spring, whichever is the more convenient. If the plants are set out in the early fall they will bear the following season, but if planting is delayed until spring it will be a year before the vines from August plantings are therefore recommended to the beginner except where there are established beds to take other plants from.

Strawberries are propagated from runners. These, taking root, develop individual crowns. Nurseries have of late years taken to sinking small pots filled with soil and water, then, by lifting the ends of the runners on to the pots, the roots of the young plants develop within the pot and can later be removed without retarding the development, and, consequently, the growth of the crown after it is set out in its permanent position.

Planting. Mark off rows four feet apart and set the plants two feet apart in the row. When the plants are received unpack and water copiously and leave in a shady place for twenty-four hours before setting out. If they are strong and healthy specimens, they will start almost immediately, so go carefully through the rows in about two weeks' time. Remove runners which have commenced to throw out runners. Four for each plant is enough, and these are trained to grow as nearly as possible before and behind and on each side of the plant. This makes a solid row about twenty-seven inches wide at the end of the growing season. About four weeks before runners root, the plants are sure runners rooting is to press them close to the soil, holding them tight with a small stone or a handful of earth.

After growth stops in the fall the space between the rows should receive a dressing of commercial fertilizer and be well spaded. The plants will grow much of straw or leaves should be spread over the plants, and left from frost. Early the following spring the same work is repeated, and about May 1 the mulch is removed from the plants, but left on the ground to keep the berries from coming in contact with the earth and also to keep the soil moist about the roots.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LEGUME CROPS.

By JOHN HENDERSON.

"Among various causes that have led to the abandonment of land once cultivated there is no doubt that the greatest single cause has been the failure to utilize legume crops. Without the rational use of legumes in a rotation, the depletion of nitrogen and the consequent falling off in productivity are certain factors."

The above statement is made by the department of agriculture in connection with the use of legume crops in rotation methods of farming. It is rarely possible to keep up the supply of nitrogen from the humus derived from non-leguminous plants.

The most important leguminous field crops in the United States are, namely, red clover, alfalfa, cowpeas, soybeans, peanuts, Canada peas, hairy vetch, common vetch, velvet beans, Japan clover, sweet clover, bur clover and beggar weed.

There are many cases where it happens that one of these legumes can be used in place of another, continues the statement. "Cases in which there is a choice are red clover, alfalfa, hairy vetch, common vetch, crimson clover, hairy vetch and bur clover. Beans are not frequently asked for by farmers, where there is a choice of legumes adapted to the same purpose, which one adds the most nitrogen to the soil."

Choosing Legumes. To some extent this is determined by the amount of nitrogen contained in the crop. Thus, of 1,000 pounds of green plants, cowpeas contain on the average 17 pounds, common vetch 11 pounds, Canada peas 4.3 pounds, Mammoth clover 4.4 pounds, crimson clover 4.5 pounds, velvet beans 8.4 pounds, hairy vetch 5.5 pounds, sweet clover 5.8 pounds, alsike clover 6 pounds, soybeans 6.5 pounds, red clover 6.5 pounds, alfalfa 7.4 pounds and bur clover 8.6 pounds of nitrogen.

"Additional advantages considered more or less important in connection with the selection of legumes are the root structure of the plant. Unquestionably legumes with stout roots are better adapted to the soil, and the deeper they have a somewhat similar effect to a subsoiler and, furthermore, the deeper the roots, the deeper the shallow rooted plants can not reach."

Investigations prove the high value of the common legume crops, whether in a rotation or as a sole crop. Results obtained from their use are far more striking in poor soils than in rich soils.

FIGHTING VERMIN.

By J. W. KELLER.

With the approach of warm weather the poultryman's fight with insect pests begins. Lice and mites annually cause greater loss than all other causes combined. A single loose, eight weeks can multiply to 1,000,000. They may come on your plant from infested fowls, from sparrows, from trees, road dust, litter and numerous other ways. They reduce your fowls' vitality, lessen egg production, and cause birds with other diseases, deduct from tables qualities and interfere with brooding.

The weapons wherewith to fight are many. Perhaps the best direct treatment is the use of a powder, a towel by its legs and dusting thoroughly with a good reliable powdered lice killer. Air-blasted lime which is sometimes used has the advantage of being very irritating, particularly to the birds' throats and lungs, tobacco dust if not combined with other substances is too sticky and odorous. The house, nests, roosts, etc., should all be thoroughly painted or sprayed with a good liquid insecticide. Care should be taken to see that the liquid penetrates all cracks, crevices and corners and the roosts should have particular attention. This should be done frequently and mixed with water and applied. Used and while good is extremely irritating and rather dangerous both for the birds and the farmer. The use of kerosene and like articles should be avoided owing to danger from fire. Perhaps the safest articles of the kind, and the most effective are the coal tar disinfectants.

How to Apply. There are several disinfectants on the market, they have the advantage of being easy to use as well as killing vermin. They can be brushed on or mixed with water and applied with a sprayer. In warm weather this sort of a solution can also be effectively used to dip the fowls in, and to kill the lice and mites.

If you will use proper preventive measures it is doubtful whether you will have much trouble. Keep your house clean, dry and free of litter, burn out litter, fumigate, spray and dust at regular intervals. Keep on your guard against the pests and when they are discovered, there is no loss on earth that can live under such conditions.

Mites, tiny red spiders which suck the blood, are rather more difficult to get rid of, but will subside to the same treatment if persisted in. They are most difficult to have when they only come on the fowl at night, hiding in cracks near the roosts during the day. Close scrutiny of the roosts will reveal them in clusters of a dark red color distinguished by a peculiar chatty sound.

GOOD AND BAD ROADS.

Poor Roads Cost the Driver at Least $15 Per Hour.

By E. O. MORTON.

In carrying produce to market few people realize that it costs more to haul a bushel of wheat driven over a fair, good road than for a railroad to haul a ton of wheat the same distance; that our poor roads cost us at least $15 per hour for every horse we drive; that good earth roads would save half the cost of hauling and state roads more than three-quarters of it.

Some figures will show the tractive force (the horse power) required to pull one ton level grade of different descriptions, and it may be mentioned that a horse produces his best efforts when drawing a load two and one-half miles per hour with a tractive force of 160 pounds.

Road	Force per ton.
State highway	55 lbs.
Country road, hard	58 lbs.
Well graded, ordinary	65 lbs.
Ordinary by-road	87 lbs.
Sandy	147 lbs.
Gravel	155 lbs.
State highway	160 lbs.

and we can see that the tractive force is a duty of the state, yet we have no money to spend on it, and we can do nothing to improve it by putting in honest, efficient men for our local roads. It is a shame to us, and we who live in the country are responsible for them, as we are the ones who have the money to spend on them. At the time of the war, we should see that they are graded, cared for and properly drained.

Drainage. Where the frost goes deep into the ground, it is quite generally overlooked. The drains should be laid three or four feet below the surface, and the water should be carried to the foot of the grade and parallel to it. If the drains are not laid, the water will not flow and the roads will not be improved and become impassable.

After a rain if the open drains on the sides are kept clear.

Putting on scrapers and throwing all the trash from the roads, and burning out the rough, water holding crown, but on the contrary, making the road base for the water to run wide enough to carry the travel and not rounded up so as to be dangerous. Water with sufficient grade to shed water quickly and evenly, and the water should be carried to the foot of the grade. This is a road that is not only safe, but it is a road that is a pleasure to drive on. It is a road that is a pleasure to drive on. It is a road that is a pleasure to drive on.

UNIVERSITY FARM TO BANISH FLIES.

At University farm, St. Paul, C. W. Howard, an entomologist of the experiment station staff, has been placed in charge of fly-eradication. He will undertake to make the campus and community as nearly flyless as possible by clean-up and other methods.

Howard will demonstrate the well-known methods and test new methods about which less is known. Traps will not be used unless it is found impossible to clean up the barnyards and other resorts of the flies thoroughly enough to accomplish the desired results.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

By LEROY GADY, Associate Horticulturist, University.

Prepare boxes for the strawberry crop.

Many of the German iris are in bloom at this time. Plant out new gladiolus bulbs. Set them in four or six inches deep. Make a planting of Golden Bantam sweet corn. The corn should be planted in rows, with a space of 18 inches between them, and 18 inches between the rows.

Many garden herbs, such as mint, dill, and sage, are easily raised at home.

Stake dahlias so that they will not be easily blown over by the wind. An even more prosperous year than the present one is expected for the strawberry crop. Lima beans may be planted early in June. At the time of the war, we should see that they are graded, cared for and properly drained.

WORKING ALFALFA IN REGULAR ROTATION.

By A. C. Army, University Farm, St. Paul.

The idea has prevailed that alfalfa is not adapted to use in rotations. On gray soils in Minnesota it is wise at the present time to attempt to work alfalfa into the regular rotation. Personal experience is needed in growing and handling alfalfa on a large scale. It is now known that alfalfa can be worked into rotations with advantage, when the conditions are favorable.

SALE OF FRONTAGE ON LAKE AVENUE FEATURES WEEK

Gown-Lenning-Brown Buy Additional 200 Feet at Record Figure.

Exchange Takes Over Waverly Park Property; Many Sales Reported.

One of the most important real estate transactions since the beginning of the year was consummated yesterday in the purchase by the Gown-Lenning-Brown company of 200 feet frontage on the west side of Lake Avenue, near the Aerial bridge, to be utilized as a portion of the site of its proposed new wholesale warehouse plant. The transaction had been under negotiation for several weeks, and while the consideration was not disclosed, it is understood that it set a new high record in Lake Avenue frontage.

With this purchase the Gown-Lenning-Brown company became the owner of 320 feet on the avenue and the entire block to the waterfront with the exception of the portion occupied by the Booth Fisheries company's office.

Apart from this sale, transfers of residence properties and acreages had a practical monopoly of realty business during the present week. The number of transactions put through ran up into a respectable aggregate, and from the nature of the inquiry being received, operators are looking forward to a substantial increase in activity as the season advances.

Waverly Park the Attraction.
On Tuesday members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange drew lots for choice in the allotment of 120 lots in Waverly Park. Each agent contracts to sell all the lots turned over to him, and in case he fails to do so he will purchase himself those unsold. All the officers are enthusiastic over the park. In going from office to office one is impressed with the unanimity of opinion that at the prices asked for the lots that there should be a material advance in values after the sale. Many of the agents say unqualifiedly that every lot will be sold at the price asked and there will be some resales made at substantial advances. Because of the unfavorable weather some of the main sale day will be held two weeks from today, Saturday, June 20.

Increasing outside interest in steel plant properties is advised by Kinzel & Pester. They yesterday sold two lots in the Gary Central addition to a buyer from St. Paul. Mr. Burke left today on a business trip to points in the western section of the state from whence strong inquiry for properties here is coming to hand.

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, commented upon an increased inquiry this week regarding lots in Gary First and Central divisions. A number of sales have been effected during the last few days.

The following real estate transfers were recorded during the week with the register of deeds:

Howard Hassenager to J. H. Hassenager, lot 2, east 1/2, sec. 8, blk. 3, Anderson's third addition to Virginia.

John W. Hassenager to J. H. Hassenager, lot 2, east 1/2, sec. 8, blk. 3, Anderson's third addition to Virginia.

John W. Hassenager to J. H. Hassenager, lot 2, east 1/2, sec. 8, blk. 3, Anderson's third addition to Virginia.

Expands Normal District.
Real estate agents contend that this property will be the natural center of the high grade normal school district, which is extended to Congdon Park and continued by that beautiful addition. Between that and this tract held by Richardson-Day & Cheadle and will later be played as a very high grade restricted residence district.

Waverly park is the continuation of the general exposure near the top of the hill, facing the lake and having a southern exposure.

Bids were received today at the city hall for the paving of the Vermillion road from its connection with Fifth street along the west line and adjoining the west line of Waverly park. When completed this will be the only paved street connecting Hunter's Park and Woodland with the city.

NORMAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

We are offering good lots in Normal School District with graded street, sewer, water, gas and sidewalk, and with proper restrictions, at prices ranging from $600 to $800, on easy terms for a 50-foot lot.

We also offer lots on Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets, with all improvements, including paved street, at prices ranging from $35 to $50 per front foot.

This is the choicest residence district in the city.

The N. J. Upham company sold a house and lot in the Dickerman addition at $3,000 and two other lots in the same section for improvement in the near future. Seventh street and Charles avenue are now being graded in the Dickerman addition.

The Alliance Real Estate company is meeting with a substantial call for its Exeter Farms tract, resulting in the sale of six parcels this during the week.

The Hoopes-Kohagen company will open its Park Drive addition plan this afternoon, and judging from the early interest shown in the proposition by investors and intending home builders, a successful sale is taken to be assured. The property is regarded as admirably situated. It adjoins Chester park on the east for a distance of nearly half a mile, beginning three blocks north of the Ninth street car line from Seventeenth avenue east. All the lots command a view of the lake, the harbor and of the entire city, as well as the city of Superior.

An interesting transaction was reported by the Wahl-Messner Realty company in the sale of two acre lots over the Duluth Heights to a former resident of the city who had just returned here after a discouraging attempt at farming in the state of Washington. He started the erection of a house on the lots the day after buying them, and will make his home here in the future. The same company also disposed of two business lots at the lake near the Minnesota Steel company's model town.

IMMENSE NEW WHOLESALE HOUSE WILL BE ERECTED

Gowan - Lenning - Brown Building and Site Cost
$500,000.

Many New Residences Are Being Erected This Spring.

Decision by the Gowan-Lenning-Brown company to erect a large fire-proof warehouse that with the real estate investment in the site on Lake avenue south, will entail a capital outlay of approximately $500,000, was an interesting development in the building trade this week.

According to the plans prepared by the architect, F. G. German, the structure will be 160 by 240 feet in size, with six floors and a basement, affording a floor space equal to five acres in extent, making it by all odds the largest wholesale grocery plant in the Northwest. It is to be of reinforced concrete construction through out, faced with pressed brick on the four sides, fronting 160 feet on Lake avenue and extending back parallel to the ship canal to the dock in the rear, it will present an imposing appearance from the waterfront.

With its dock frontage, a double-track railroad spur passing under the center of the building, and a wagon-loading driveway inside it, exceptional facilities for receiving and shipping goods will be afforded. The plant is to be equipped with the latest machinery and other appliances designed for the most economical and efficient operation of a wholesale grocery business. These will include a complete refrigerating system, elevators and conveyors for removing stock from one floor to another, and an automatic sprinkling system. The office and show rooms will be located on the second floor and from them pneumatic tubes for the despatch of orders will radiate to the various departments.

As set out in another column, the company has just completed the purchase of additional property, giving it a frontage of 220 feet on Lake avenue. The National Biscuit company's building on the site is to be moved to the corner of Morse street and Lake avenue. In the space between the building and the warehouse the stables and garage will be located.

It is estimated that figures on the excavation and the foundation are to be taken at once, and that the letting of the other contracts will follow in due course so that the premises may be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1, next.

I am glad that we have been able to meet our plans for the new plant finally settled, said J. O. Lenning, manager of the company today. The undertaking had become necessary through our business having outgrown its present facilities. In our new plant we will have considerable more room than is now afforded in our present two warehouses on Fifth avenue and Michigan street.

Many Houses Going Up.
Proposals for the erection of homes again predominated in the permits issued at the building inspector's office this week. They were twenty-two in number, with the cost of improvements placed at $25,550.

The largest permit in the list, $5,500, was issued to Laura M. Peters for a brick store building on Superior street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues west. It will cost $1,500.

A permit for a frame dwelling on Cascade street between Mesaba avenue and First avenue west, to cost $2,300 was taken out by A. Bladin, and the next largest permit in the list was $2,000 issued to L. Daly to cover the erection of a frame dwelling on Third street between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth avenues west.

An Important Enterprise.
A development of great interest to the building trade in this city is announced by the Paine & Nixon company. Through an arrangement with one of the largest concerns in that line in the east, it will in future carry a large stock of plate glass at its warehouse here. To that end, large quantities of glass have been provided at its premises so that it will be enabled to fill all orders without the delays previously inseparable through the shipments being made from other centers. The advantage of this move on the part of the company was demonstrated after the recent storm when over 200 lights were broken in the western sections of the city. These were all replaced promptly by the company from its warehouse stock.

It is pointed out that this move on the part of the local company places Duluth on the map as a plate glass jobbing center and will lead to the employment of considerable additional labor in handling the trade in it, devoting at the time of the Lakes and throughout the northwest.

Among the orders for building materials taken by the Paine & Nixon company during the present week was one for seventy-five cars of glass to be used in the new high school at Ely, Minn. Contracts were booked for the Paine & Nixon company's store and the Paine & Nixon company's store and the Paine & Nixon company's store.

Pressed brick will be supplied by it for the new South Side school at Virginia.

Holstead & Sullivan, architects, have prepared plans for Hegstrom Bros. at Grand avenue and Fifty-seventh street. The structure will be a two-story brick and is estimated to cost $15,000.

It is expected that the contract for a two-story brick hotel for Walter Hoch at Solon Springs, Wis., will be let at the beginning of next week. The plans were prepared by Wengenstein & Gillison, architects.

Jacobson Bros., contractors for the two-story brick building to be built for R. Marotta at Seventh avenue and Second street have started work on the job and it will be pushed through to completion.

Edward Shurick, architect, is taking residence for Mrs. John St. Clair at Woodland avenue and Sixth street. It is estimated to cost $14,000.

He has awarded the general contract for the P. Devlin residence to Hane Osterled, the masonry work to L. Ronstad and the heating and plumbing to the D. R. Black company. The building will cost about $6,000.

Edward P. Shurick and Oscar Solheim, architects, have formed a partnership, the firm to be known as Shurick & Solheim. They have opened offices at 403 Tenth building.

At a meeting of the board of education last evening a contract for equipment for the new school at West Duluth was awarded to the William Fawcett company. The plastering of the building is now proceeding and it is expected to be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next school term, Aug. 15.

The following permits were issued during the week at the office of the building inspector:

ESCAPES ARREST BY GOING TO SUPERIOR.

Mrs. John Talonen of 355 South First avenue east, who is wanted on a warrant charging her with selling liquor without a license, has left the city and the police are unable to serve the papers. She is believed to be in Superior, where her husband operates a saloon.

When John Bentalla of 113 South First avenue east was convicted the other day of running a blind-pig, the police learned that Mrs. Talonen had supplied him with the liquor. A warrant charging her with a similar offense was made out, but when the officers went down her home to serve it, there was no one at home, nor was there any likelihood of anyone being at home, neighbors said.

Upon investigation the police city and it is now believed that she is in Superior.

Bentalla, who was convicted Wednesday afternoon, is now serving a two months' term on the work farm.

SCHOOLS WILL DO PRINTING

Board of Education Decides to Purchase Equipment for Next Year.

Action on City Survey and Exhibit Is Postponed By Board.

The public schools of Duluth will probably do their own printing next year.

Superintendent R. E. Denfeld in his annual report last night to the board of education recommended this feature, and the board was unanimous in the endorsement of the plan.

Mr. Denfeld was of the opinion that this work should be taken up by the manual training department, and said that most of the large schools of the country had already supplied themselves with equipment. From information he had received he said the cost would be about $1,000, although it might be less.

It was pointed out by board members that such equipment had been secured elsewhere for a little more than half this amount and the matter was held over for further investigation. The board will examine samples this afternoon and probably decide upon the matter in the near future. Lack of time prevented such examination last night.

Owing to the crowded condition at the Central high school Superintendent Denfeld recommended that the old Washington building be remodeled. He favored the gathering together of the manual training, carpenter and general administrative offices into one building.

He said that the director of manual training was planning a course that would enable a student to graduate in three years. These taking the work would be required to begin at 8 o'clock a. m. and continue until 5 p. m. The principal of the Central high school is now submitting this plan to the students to determine the number that would avail themselves of such an opportunity. The matter was left with the committee on schools with power to recommend.

Mayor Prince and a delegation appeared and asked the consideration of a resolution to the effect that a special meeting be called for the purpose of determining the number that would avail themselves of such an opportunity. The matter was left with the committee on schools with power to recommend.

Any unnecessary project that would cost the board money, was vigorously opposed by the board members.

Owing to the press of business last night it was suggested by President Magnus that the matter be taken up at a special meeting in the near future. Mayor Prince and the other members of the board readily concurred in this suggestion.

MUST SHOW THEIR PHYSICAL FITNESS

If an applicant for a position on the police force can make a good record on the lung tester, chin himself ten or eleven times, run around the track under the supervision of the physical director at the Y. M. C. A. can show of getting a job, that is provided he can also show of ability under the terms of the civil service board.

This morning Director Olson put all the applicants through these tests at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The men were compelled to run, jump, push, pull, track and accomplish other track feats, before the director told them the physical test was finished.

Yesterday Ruben Johnson, secretary of the civil service board, read and the physical examination this morning completes the work of the applicants. They must pass both with a fair average to be insured a place on the eligible list.

REFUSES EMPLOYER'S OFFER TO SETTLE.

June 26 has been set by Judge Cant of the district court as the date for a hearing on the question of whether Kenastowich is entitled to one-half of his regular wages during the period of his disability under the terms of the workmen's compensation act.

Kenastowich was employed by Andrew Johnson at a lumber camp in Elmer, St. Louis county, Feb. 26 last, when a tree fell on him, fracturing his right knee. Johnson offered to settle for $30 compensation and $100 hospital expenses. Kenastowich refused, claiming that he was entitled to a large sum, as his injury is a permanent one. The matter was set to court.

LORD MERSEY IS ON HIS WAY TO QUEBEC.

London, June 6.—Lord Mersey, formerly presiding judge of the admiralty court, left here today for Quebec to act as chairman of the inquiry into the wreck of the Empress of Ireland.

Seven Injured in Wreck.
Springfield, Mo., June 6.—Seven persons were injured, one of them probably fatally, last night when passenger train No. 7 of the "Prisco" system left the rails at Sleepers near here. The engine, baggage car and a passenger coach were derailed.

The Herald.—Crosby's only saloon in the Spalding hotel, following the dry decision by Judge W. S. McClellan in the district court, was closed down last night by the village authorities. It is said the hotel will be discontinued.
